Lawrence Hogue, 1986-11-25 The central thesis of Lawrence Hogue s book is that criticism of Afro American literature has left out of account the way in which ideological pressures dictate the canon This fresh approach to the study of the social ideological and political dynamics of the Afro American literary text in the twentieth century based on the Foucauldian concept of literature as social institution examines the universalization that power effects how literary texts are appropriated to meet ideological concerns and needs and the continued oppression of dissenting voices Hogue presents an illuminating discussion of the publication and review history of major and neglected texts He illustrates the acceptance of texts as exotica as sociological documents or as carriers of sufficient literary conventions to receive approbation Although the sixties movement allowed the text to move to the periphery of the dominant ideology providing some new myths about the Afro American historical past this marginal position was subsequently sabotaged co opted or appropriated Afros became a fad presidents gave the soul handshake the hip talking black was dressing one style and talking another This study includes extended discussion of four works Ernest J Gaines s The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman Alice Walker s The Third Life of Grange Copeland Albert Murray s Train Whistle Guitar and Toni Morrison s Sula Hogue assesses the informing worldviews of each and the extent and nature of their acceptance by the dominant American cultural apparatus      1982 Survey of Minority-owned Business Enterprises, 1985      The Other African Americans Yoku Shaw-Taylor, Steven A. Minority Student Retention Alan Seidman,2019-05-23 Student retention continues to be a vexing problem for all colleges and universities In spite of the money spent on creating programs and services to help retain students until they achieve their academic and personal goals and graduate the figures have not improved over time This is particularly true for minority students who have a greater attrition rate than majority students Demographic information shows that the minority population in the United States is growing at a faster rate than the majority It is imperative that educational institutions find ways to help improve retention rates for all students but particularly minority students Retention rates should not differ appreciably among different racial ethnic groups The Journal of College Student Retention Research Theory and Practice is the only scholarly peer reviewed journal devoted solely to college student retention It has published many articles on minority student retention and this topic continues to garner much attention This book is a compilation of the very best of these articles selected on the basis of reviews by a cadre of experts in the education field The articles discuss African American Latino Latina Asian and Asian Pacific Native American and biracial students and institutional commitments to retaining a diverse student population For those interested in this vital area the collection will teach and inspire them to achieve greater heights and pay additional attention to retaining minority students in our colleges and universities
