Possibilities, Challenges, and Changes in English Teacher Education Today Heidi L. Hallman, Kristen Pastore-Capuana, Donna L. Pasternak, 2019-05-24 This book focuses on English teacher educators experiences concerning professionalization and teacher identity The term professionalization itself can be problematized Popkewitz 1994 as it connotes adherence to realities to professional norms that are based within particular histories Yet teacher educators must confront how to mentor prospective teachers into the field and how changes to the field manifest changes to what it means to be a professional In research about changes in English teacher education over the past twenty years Pasternak Caughlan Hallman Renzi and Rush 2017 presented five distinct foci of ELA programs that have evolved

- 2 altered conceptions of teaching literature and literacy within the context of ELA
- 3 increased adherence to standardization
- 4 changing demographics of students in K 12 classrooms and
- 5 increased expectations for use of technology within ELA

preparing ELA teachers and supporting them to remain in the profession Today s political environment devalues teachers and teaching a situation that has critics deriding the educational standards at institutes of higher education while concurrently lauding alternative programs that do not have to adhere to the same rigorous teacher certification requirements English teacher educators are now being asked to design programs soften requirements and recruit and mentor teacher candidates to a profession that in the past certified more new English teachers than it could employ The chapters in this book explore what it means to educate and be an English teacher educator under these conditions Educational Psychology
