Pinpricks in the Curtain Isabella Flinn, 2014-05 The sound of a massive drum was the first thing I noticed when Juliet and I stepped out of the compact car Each time the confident student struck the drum the students that were lined up in neat rows facing him would expertly stand at attention then relax into the at ease stance With their little heads locked in position to face forward only their curious eyes darted to appraise us as we walked past them in flowing saris toward their principal who stood waiting to greet us We were the invited guests to teach in their school And it was very apparent by the radiant smiles on the poised faces of these well mannered children that this was going to be a wonderful experience we would never forget I glanced at Juliet and realized that she too was barely containing her own enthusiasm and why not What seventeen year old American girl gets to teach alongside her mother in India Yes India was our home for the next few weeks and we were keenly aware with the sights smells and sounds that home would be different than what we were accustomed to However one glaring similarity remained children are precious in His sight no matter which half of the globe they call home Our goal was to convey that pivotal message to each student we had the privilege of serving here in this unfamiliar part of the world Classroom Pivotal Response Teaching for Children with Autism Jessica

Suhrheinrich, Sarah Reed, Laura Schreibman, Cynthia Bolduc, 2011-08-01 Classroom Pivotal Response Teaching or CPRT was developed to help meet the educational needs of young children with autism CPRT originally called Pivotal Response Training or Treatment is a form of naturalistic behavioral intervention based on the principles of applied behavior analysis ABA and is soundly supported in the scientific literature This manual will describe the components of CPRT and how to implement the approach in your classroom Although this manual is geared primarily toward preschool through grade 3 teachers CPRT strategies can be used by a variety of professionals Speech and language pathologists occupational therapists behavior specialists psychologists and other teaching professionals may all find CPRT a valuable strategy Additionally the techniques in this manual may be useful with typically developing children and those with a variety of special needs Most children can benefit from this structured systematic approach that utilizes naturally occurring teaching opportunities One of the strengths of this approach is that it is adaptable to a wide range of teaching goals and service settings All who teach are encouraged to integrate CPRT into their existing strategies as often as possible Provided by publisher The Exploratorium Science Snackbook Exploratorium Teacher Institute, 2009-10-05 Kids and teachers can build their own science projects based on exhibits from San Francisco's premiere science museum This revised and updated edition offers instructions for building junior versions or snacks of the famed Exploratorium's exhibits The snacks designed by science teachers can be used as demonstrations labs or as student science projects and all 100 projects are easy to build from common materials The Exploratorium a renowned hands on science museum founded by physicist and educator Frank Oppenheimer is noted for its interactive exhibits that richly illustrate scientific concepts and stimulate learning Offers a step by step guide for building dynamic science projects and exhibits Includes tips for creating projects made from easy to assembly items Thoroughly revised and updated including new snacks images and references Quick Bibliography Series, 1976 Uncommonly Good Ideas—Teaching Writing in the Common Core Era Sandra Murphy, Mary Ann Smith, 2014-04-15 This innovative resource provides teachers with a road map for designing a comprehensive writing curriculum that meets Common Core standards The authors zero in on several big ideas that lead to and support effective practices in writing instruction such as integrating reading writing speaking and listening teaching writing as a process extending the range of students writing spiraling and scaffolding a writing curriculum and collaborating These big ideas are the cornerstones of best researched based practices as well as the CCSS for writing The first chapter offers a complete lesson designed around teaching narrative writing and illustrating tried and true practices for teaching writing as a process The remaining chapters explore a broad range of teaching approaches that help students tackle different kinds of narrative informational and argumentative writing and understand complexities like audience and purpose Each chapter focuses on at least one of the uncommonly good ideas and illustrates how to create curricula around it Uncommonly Good Ideas includes model lessons and assignments mentor texts teaching strategies student writing and practical guidance for moving the ideas from the page into the classroom An uncommonly good book about uncommonly good ideas about teaching writing in the era of the Common Core and beyond In
