Teaching Children to Read Jonas D. Worthington,2013 When does a child learn to read Many people might say in kindergarten or first grade But researchers have told us something very important Learning to read and write can start at home long before children go to school Children can start down the road to becoming readers from the day they are born Very early children begin to learn about spoken language when they hear their family members talking laughing and singing and when they respond to all of the sounds that fill their world They begin to understand written language when they hear adults read stories to them and see adults reading newspapers magazines and books for themselves These early experiences with spoken and written language set the stage for children to become successful readers and writers This book examines what scientific research says about how children learn to read and write things you can do with your children from birth through third grade to help them become readers what to look for in quality day care centers and preschools to help your children become readers and ideas for books to read and organizations to contact if you would like more help or information Remember keep it simple and have fun Make these activities part of the warm loving relationship you are already creating with your child Teaching Kids to Read For Dummies Tracey Wood,2011-04-27 You re thinking of teaching a child to read What a great idea Now all you need is exactly the right blueprint This easy to follow book is written with two people in mind you and the child you re thinking of teaching Mother and children s reading specialist Tracey Wood gives you all the down to earth honest information you need to give a child a happy solid start with reading Teaching Kids to Read For Dummies is for parents of young children who want to give their kids a head start by teaching them to read before they enter school or to supplement their children s school instruction as well as teachers and caregivers of young children Filled with hands on activities that progress a child from sounds to words to sentences to books this friendly guide shows you how to Prepare a child to read Sharpen his listening skills Correct her errors graciously Choose the right books Have kids read out loud Find help if you need it Whether the child you want to teach is two or twelve fast paced or steady an absolute beginner or someone who s begun but could use a little help this empathetic book shows you how to adapt the simple fun activities to your child s individual needs You ll see how to make activities age appropriate how to add more challenge or support and how to make gender allowances if that s relevant Plus you ll discover how to Lay the foundation for good reading skills Tell the difference between a reading delay and a reading problem Help your child build words from letters and sounds advance to short and long vowel words and conquer syllables and silent letters Select entertaining workbooks recycle them and make up your own reading activities Get your child ready for sentences Keep your child reading with others or on his own Complete with lists of word families phonics rules and reading resources Teaching Kids to Read For Dummies will help you make learning fun for your child as he or she develops this critical skill Teach Your Child to Read in Just Ten Minutes a Day Sidney Ledson,2010-04-29 Reveals the phonic program by which preschoolers as young as two begin reading at the Sidney Ledson Institute for Intellectual Advancement see www.sidneyledsoninstitute.com This light hearted yet scientifically advanced method permits parents schoolteachers and even babysitters to quickly teach children of all ages to read Creating Reading Instruction for All Children Thomas G. Gunning,1996 This book will not tell you how to teach reading Teaching reading is in large measure a matter of making choices Should you use basal readers or children s books or both Should you teach children to read whole words or to sound out words letter by letter or both Should you have three reading groups or four or no groups There are no right answers to these questions The answers depend on your personal philosophy your interpretation of the research the level at which you are teaching the kinds of students you are teaching community preferences and the nature of your school or school district s
