This practical guide helps mentors of new science teachers in both developing their own mentoring skills and providing the essential guidance their trainees need as they navigate the rollercoaster of the first years in the classroom. Offering tried and tested strategies based on the best research, it covers the knowledge, skills and understanding every mentor needs and offers practical tools such as lesson plans and feedback guides, observation sheets and examples of dialogue with trainees. Together with analytical tools for self-evaluation, this book is a vital source of support and inspiration for all those involved in developing the next generation of outstanding science teachers. Key topics explained include: Roles and responsibilities of mentors; Developing a mentor-mentee relationship; Guiding beginning science teachers through the lesson planning, teaching and self-evaluation processes; Observations and pre and post-lesson discussions and regular mentoring meetings; Supporting beginning teachers to enhance scientific knowledge and effective pedagogical practices; Building confidence among beginning teachers to cope with pupils' contingent questions and assess scientific knowledge and skills; Supporting beginning teachers planning and teaching to enhance scientific literacy and inquiry among pupils; Developing autonomous science teachers with an attitude to promote the learning of science for all the learners. Filled with tried and tested strategies based on the latest research, Mentoring Science Teachers in the Secondary School is a vital guide for mentors of science teachers, both trainee and newly qualified, with ready-to-use strategies that support and inspire both mentors and beginning teachers alike.

Going to School in South Asia Amita Gupta, 2007-02-28. Afghanistan is one of many South Asian countries appearing in daily headlines as it attempts to rebuild its society, including its educational system, after decades of war. Sri Lanka, devastated by the tsunami of 2004, and parts of Pakistan and Northern India, coping with the aftereffects of a major earthquake, are also struggling for teachers, classrooms, supplies and a sense of normalcy for their students. This volume, part of the Schooling Around the World series, provides readers with a history and survey of education in eight of the region's countries. It examines the Primary, Secondary and Postsecondary levels of education, identifying the types of education available: public, private, tutoring, etc. Any race, gender or social class issues that impact education and major reforms taking place. Readers will find discussions of curriculum and teaching methods most helpful, as well as a special day in the life feature which gives a personal look at what it's like for students attending school in that country today.

Nutrition education in public elementary and secondary schools, 2012-2013 College Admissions Data Sourcebook Midwest Edition, The Report: Bahrain 2017 Oxford Business Group. Like its Gulf neighbours, Bahrain has continued to offset the effects of the drop in oil prices with a host of measures, including moves towards subsidy reduction now in place to ease the pressure. Despite the downturn, however, the country has continued to push ahead with many big-ticket projects. Counter-cyclical spending in the energy sector is expected to stand the broader economy in good stead in the years to come as expansion boosts the country's refining capacity and provides a reliable supply of fuel for its heavy industries. Indeed, manufacturing continues to play a significant role with the 3bn project to build a sixth potline for Aluminium Bahrain representing the company's largest expansion since potline five came on stream in 2005. The kingdom's financial sector has long been a dominant player in the region and despite increasing competition from emerging financial centres in the region continues to benefit from an advanced regulatory framework, an educated workforce and a relatively low cost environment.
