Teaching Significant Social Studies in the Elementary School Elliott Seif,1977 In this age of technology and extreme specialization the task of educating the young for social understanding and responsibility has come to be almost an enigma What should be the content values concepts principles and modes of thinking of such an education How are elementary children to become involved in learning about their social world What posture should teachers take as they interact with pupils and guide the interactions between pupils These questions which face any teacher of social studies are precisely the questions addressed in this book Theory and practice are intertwined and descriptions of activities that translate these theories into practice examples of social studies curriculum materials and practical ways of planning organizing and teaching social studies A practical guide in the hands of prospective teachers as students and as teachers

Teaching Elementary Social Studies James A. DuPlass,2008 Written for the elementary social studies methods course this interactive program combines features of a textbook and a workbook with thorough integration between the print text and a dynamic web site Increasingly majors in elementary education if not the population at large are more attuned to reading interactive material with relatively brief narrative bulleted items text boxes and targeted messages like web pages rather than traditional denser text To accommodate these preferences the layout of the print text features a larger than usual font an 8 x 11 trim size and spiral binding and the content includes an abundance of bulleted lists shaded text boxes and contemporary graphics The program s interactive approach and flexibility allow the professor to model the kinds of teaching principles and practices that students will want to use in their own elementary school classrooms These principles and practices are integrated throughout the text and include a focus on active learning strategies application of constructivist principles focus on Big Ideas and thinking skills use of the Internet and modeling of Best Practices and Performance based assessments based on INTASC and NCATE standard Thus the book will serve as a springboard for classroom activities web site explorations and or instructor led activities

Making Connections in Elementary and Middle School Social Studies Andrew P. Johnson,2006 Making Connections in Elementary and Middle School Social Studies is based on the idea that students learn more and are more motivated to learn when they are able to connect their own knowledge observations ideas imagination and emotions with the content at hand This book demonstrates how personal connections can be incorporated into social studies education while meeting NCSS thematic pedagogical and disciplinary standards It is written in a very direct reader friendly style Each chapter describes a variety of practical strategies and creative activities that novice and experienced teachers can use to make social studies more interesting and to help students make meaningful personal and academic connections Each chapter contains a wealth of classroom strategies pedagogical techniques activities and lesson plan ideas that can be used to enhance learning and make lessons more interesting active and student centered The book covers the three types of standards that elementary and middle school teachers work with as they teach social studies o Thinking Ahead questions invite the reader to reflect on his her own experiences as they relate to the material covered in the next chapter These can be used as discussion points for a class or small group or simply as pre reading prompts to enhance comprehension o Teachers in Action boxes contain real life narratives from practicing teachers These cases are designed to expand upon key issues presented in each chapter Every case is accompanied by the author s personal reflection on the case These reflections are intended to give the reader an opinion against which he she can measure his her own reactions After each case the reader is prompted to think about the narrative presented and think about the way that his her reactions compare with those presented by the author o Go There boxes provide links to Web sites that offer additional resources for teachers lesson plans and other activities to enhance a social studies classroom This text is accompanied by a dynamic Instructor s Resources CD The CD includes classroom video footage that can be shown in class to illustrate the concepts presented in the book and stimulate class discussion Content Matters Leif Fearn,Eric Fearn,2013-06-26 A critical question in social studies education is not whether teachers develop and teach units of study but what is in the units of study teachers develop and teach Curricular planning and instruction must focus on what we teach in the social studies classroom It is not uncommon for students to experience fine units about the westward movement and exit the fifth grade with little or no geographic literacy Most students leave middle school grades unable to name even one person who made a difference in the history of Indian people in the United States After three to five years of history classes high school students routinely self report that history is boring And it is the rare middle school graduate who knows how to use a free enterprise economy for his or her benefit This book explains the content of nine areas in social studies If teachers know what history biographical studies and the United States Constitution mean for instruction they can increase the probability of better focused content in their social studies instruction
