Assessment and Correction in Elementary Language Arts C. Glennon Rowell, 1993 Speech Communication Activities, K-12 Ellen M. Ritter, 1979 Speech in the Elementary School Mardel Ogilvie, 1954 The author states that the three purposes of the book are to suggest ways to promote effective communication in the elementary school classroom to indicate the speaking activities that are part of the language arts program and to note the part the classroom teacher plays in improving the child's speech. Many speech activities are suggested but the important place of poetry is stressed. Poetry is far too frequently omitted from classroom activities partially because of teachers' lack of security in handling it with children. The author's treatment of this subject should help to bolster the confidence of young teachers and encourage them in the use of poetry. A chart lists the aims of speech education and information about the growth of children in language and should be a helpful guide. A practical book with many examples of actual classroom experiences and school activities of children's problems related to speech and of faulty co-operation in dealing with such problems. The major responsibility of course for speech training in the school lies with the classroom teacher. Research in Education, 1971 International Handbook of English Language Teaching Jim Cummins, Chris Davison, 2007-12-31 This two volume handbook provides a comprehensive examination of policy practice research and theory related to English language teaching (ELT) in international contexts. Nearly 70 chapters highlight the research foundation for the best practices frameworks for policy decisions and areas of consensus and controversy in the teaching and development of English as a second and/or additional language for kindergarten through to adult speakers of languages other than English. In doing so it problematizes traditional dichotomies and challenges the very terms that provide the traditional foundations of the field. A wide range of terms has been used to refer to the key players involved in the teaching and learning of the English language and to the enterprise of English language teaching as a whole. At various times and in different contexts the following labels have been used in countries where English is the dominant language to describe programs learners or teachers of English: English as a second language (ESL), English as an additional language (EAL), limited English proficient (LEP) and English language learners (ELL). In contexts where English is not the dominant language the following terms have been used: English as a foreign language (EFL), English as an international language (EIL) and English as a lingua franca (ELF). Comparative Studies in Special Education Kas Mazurek, Margaret A.
