Contemporary Sephardic and Mizrahi Literature Dario

Miccoli, 2017-04-21 This book argues that the literary texts produced by Sephardic and Mizrahi Jews who migrated from the Middle East and North Africa in the 1950s onwards should be considered as part of a transnational arena in which forms of Jewish diasporism and postcolonial displacement interweave Through an original perspective that focuses on novelists poets professional and amateur writers the book explains that these Sephardic and Mizrahi authors are part of a global literary diaspora at the crossroads of past Arab legacies new national identities and persistent feelings of Jewishness La

Latin America, 2025-06-05 Intertwined with the histories of Arab migration to the Americas from the nineteenth century until now the emergence of competing nationalist narratives within Arab communities in Latin America and the birth of anti imperialist and anticolonial struggles the history of cultural entanglements between the Arab world and Latin America spans over a hundred years and reveals the vital role of art in creating bridges between the two regions This book the first of its kind gathers interventions that showcase the twentieth century as a period of intense redefinitions and cultural effervescence across the whole of Latin America and the Arab world The result is a polished image of the twentieth century as a period whose shifting categories of affiliation were tied to events and movements that connected the two regions in ever deepening ways and to forms of artful experimentation through which political ideologies alternative collective identities and aesthetic movements could be contested or embraced Contributors are Diogo Bercito Kevin Funk Silvina Schammah Gesser Laure
