The background of the slide is a dark, abstract composition. It features a network of thin, glowing blue lines that form a complex, interconnected web. Scattered throughout this network are numerous small, semi-transparent triangles in shades of red and orange. Some of these triangles are larger and more prominent, while others are smaller and more distant, creating a sense of depth and movement. The overall effect is reminiscent of a digital or financial data visualization, such as a network graph or a stylized representation of market activity.
