Technical Assistance For The Relationship Challenged:

Technical Assistance for the Relationship Challenged Charlene Collingswood, Patty Macmahon, 2005-08-01 Technical Assistance for the Relationship Challenged is Charlene Collingswood's fourth book. In this book, Charlene gives advice on relationships, talks about her marriages, and gives the straight to the point advice that she has become famous for. This book is not for the politically correct or the excuse police. Charlene said during a recent interview: "It's the kind of advice your best friend would give if she thought you wouldn't get mad."

A Guide to the NAI Arbitration Rules Bommel van der Bend, Marnix Leitjen, 2009-01-01 The Netherlands Arbitration Institute (NAI) is the most prestigious institute in the Netherlands for the arbitration of commercial disputes. While NAI arbitration is the dispute resolution mechanism of choice of many Dutch corporations and public entities, it is increasingly agreed on by foreign parties selecting the Netherlands as a neutral venue for their potential disputes. This excellent volume, a rule by rule guide to the NAI Arbitration Rules, is not only the first such handbook in English but the most comprehensive and detailed in any language. In addition, it provides a unique commentary in English on important elements of Dutch arbitration law. Drawing on case law from arbitral tribunals and state courts, and on extensive personal experience, members of the arbitration team of the Dutch law firm De Brauw Blackstone Westbroek N.V. provide in-depth commentary on each provision of the NAI Arbitration Rules and on arbitration-related court proceedings in the Netherlands under the Dutch Arbitration Act. Focusing on disputes arising from, among others, share purchase agreements, joint venture agreements, licence agreements, franchise agreements, finance agreements, contractor agreements, distribution agreements, and agreements for the sale of goods, the analysis covers such crucial factors of the NAI system as the following: the use of the list procedure for the appointment of arbitrators; the central role of the Administrator; the Dutch concept of binding advice; contractual relationships and exclusion of liability; the separability of the arbitration agreement; freedom in determining and applying rules of evidence; the mechanisms for parties to seek relief in summary arbitration proceedings; costs of arbitration; and the arbitral award, including the possibility of rectifying, supplementing, and setting aside this award. The provision-by-provision analysis also compares the NAI Rules with both relevant proceedings in the Dutch state courts and, inter alia, ICC and UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules, and to practice under such other rules. The authors of this matchless book have faced many questions on the NAI Arbitration Rules, advised on the interpretation and correct application of those Rules, and defended such interpretation before tribunals and courts. In this book, they share their experience, insights, and expertise. Counsel for corporate clients and public entities contemplating arbitration proceedings, and as well as counsel to parties in NAI proceedings or related court proceedings, will find here an incomparable guide to the NAI system and Dutch arbitration law.

The Credibility Challenge Inken von Borzyskowski, 2019-06-15 The key to the impact of international election support is credibility. Credible elections are less likely to turn violent So argues Inken von Borzyskowski in The Credibility Challenge in which she provides an explanation of why and when election support can increase or reduce violence Von Borzyskowski answers four major questions Under what circumstances can election support influence election violence How can election support shape the incentives of domestic actors to engage in or abstain from violence Does support help reduce violence or increase it And which type of support observation or technical assistance is better in each instance The Credibility Challenge pulls broad quantitative evidence and qualitative observations from Guyana Liberia Kenya Sierra Leone and Bangladesh to respond to these questions Von Borzyskowski finds that international democracy aid matters for election credibility and violence outside observers can exacerbate postelection violence if they cast doubt on election credibility and technical assistance helps build electoral institutions improves election credibility and reduces violence Her results advance research and policy on peacebuilding and democracy promotion in new and surprising ways

Starting with an overview of the intersection of local and global dynamics in education in Africa this book focuses critical attention on education research and the problematic research process Education held extraordinary promise at Africa's independence Rapid expansion in access and imaginative innovations followed but progress proved difficult to sustain As frustration displaced optimism recourse to foreign aid became common Education in Africa critical to national development combines high expectations and enthusiasm with distress and dependence Local and global agendas intersect External influence is internalized Research is consequential especially in reinforcing the conservative charter of most education systems in Africa more concerned with reproducing the national political economy than changing it Notwithstanding disciplinary border crossers methodological orthodoxy is blinding Social engineering remains more important than social justice Scholarship about Africa is only rarely by Africa Scholars study poverty and miss impoverishment This book unpacks those relationships exploring the narrow gaze of education research and its problematic character Examining the research complex interconnected institutions with distributed authority acting in concert requires attention to how knowledge is generated where and to whose benefit On this important and exciting terrain Africa education research readers will find this an accessible and stimulating analysis

LBJ and the Presidential Management of Foreign Relations Paul Y. Hammond, 2010-07-22 In this insightful study Paul Y Hammond an experienced analyst of bureaucratic politics adapts and extends that approach to explain and evaluate the Johnson administration's performance in foreign relations in terms that have implications for the post Cold War era The book is structured around three case studies of Johnson's foreign policy decision making The first study examines economic and political development It explores the way Johnson handled the provision of economic and food assistance to India during a crisis in India's food policies This analysis provides lessons not only for dealing with African famine in later years but also for assisting Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union The second case study focuses on U S relations with Western Europe at a time that seemed to require a major change in the NATO alliance Here Hammond illuminates the process of policy innovation particularly the costs of changing well established policies that embody an elaborate network of established interests The third case study treats the Vietnam War with special emphasis on how Johnson decided what to do about Vietnam Hammond critiques the rich scholarship available on Johnson's advisory process based on his own reading of the original sources These case studies are set in a larger context of applied theory that deals more generally with presidential management of foreign relations examining a president's potential for influence on the one hand and the constraints on his or her capacity to control and persuade on the other It will be important reading for all scholars and policymakers interested in the limits and possibilities of presidential power in the post Cold War era

Decentring Global Challenges in International Relations Debora Valentina Malito,Evangelos Fanoulis,2025-08-21 This book examines contemporary global challenges from a decentring perspective advancing an interdisciplinary conversation International studies scholarship has become increasingly more interdisciplinary and multifocal especially as the escalation of systemic ecological and economic crises as well as social and political challenges in the 21st century have required comprehensive ways of thinking and taking stock of existing ontological and epistemic limitations A decentring approach is crucial to account for how interdependent relations across states and societies regions and the globe shape modernity and its global manifestations are in an era of growing and persistent crises The book explains why traditional hegemonic approaches to global challenges are problematic and conceptualises what a decentring approach to global challenges entails a deconstruction of traditional and sedimented epistemic underpinnings implying a rethinking of agency time geographies norms topics and loci of public attention but also an appreciation of the mutually constructed nature of the international This book will appeal to students and scholars of international relations IR and international studies who are interested in decentring as well as those working for civil society organisations CSOs NGOs and think tanks

Evaluation of the "Meeting the Undernutrition Challenge (MUCH): Strengthening the enabling environment for food security and nutrition" programme Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2022-05-16 The Meeting the Undernutrition Challenge MUCH programme funded jointly by the United States Agency for International Development

USAID and the European Union had the overall objective to improve the enabling environment to eradicate food insecurity and malnutrition in Bangladesh. The programme enhanced a national policy shift toward addressing nutrition by improving policy processes with more participation of civil society and subnational stakeholders, enriching policy and programming to address needs throughout the country. The programme supported significant enhancement of technical capacities to gather and analyze food security and nutrition evidence, innovative approaches for engaging students in nutrition learning activities, and improved the links between research and policy making. Subnational capacity development support was initiated in the middle of the programme, identifying important opportunities for impactful multi-stakeholder collaboration on implementing national policy. The evaluation noted important effort on gender issues but pointed out that emphasizing women's empowerment and gender equity within all FSN programming is critical to success. To eradicate food insecurity and malnutrition throughout Bangladesh, more work is especially needed in formalizing improved food sector collaboration and multi-stakeholder governance mechanisms to continuously develop, learn, share, and implement good practice at all levels.

Map Science Technology Synergy for Research in the Marine Environment: Challenges for the XXI Century L. Beranzoli, P. Favali, G. Smriglio, 2002-02-21. This volume is one of the most significant results of the conference Science Technology Synergy for Research in Marine Environment Challenges for the XXI Century held in Erice and Ustica, Italy, September 1999. It presents state of the art developments in technology and scientific research in sea floor observatories. Scientific conclusions of earth science and environmental studies obtained from these observatories, as well as results from long term monitoring, are provided. Descriptions of new technologies enabling deep sea long term observatories are offered, and marine environment and risk assessment issues are discussed. This is the first work detailing recent and on going experiments world wide specifically devoted to deep sea multi-disciplinary observation systems, the technology enabling sea floor observatories, and the presentation of first results from these systems.
