Reclamation techniques

Control of sand dunes is a traditional technology originating from the Ming Dynasty (1368-1644). Flood water is used to reclaim deserted land, flattening sand dunes, thus controlling wind sand erosion and creating farmland. Oil in areas of water shortage.

Afforestation is an effective method used to enhance areas that are affected by drifting sand. Air-seeding allows the distribution of seeds into regions that would otherwise be ecologically unreachable.

Techniques For Desert Reclamation:

Techniques for Desert Reclamation Andrew Goudie, 1990 Techniques for Desert Reclamation Edited by Andrew S Goudie School of Geography University of Oxford Major world environmental issues such as the degradation of deserts and their margins are covered in this book Unlike many volumes which merely analyse the causes and consequences of desertification this book concentrates on the methods that are available to contend with some of the main symptoms of desert degradation These symptoms include soil erosion by wind soil erosion by water salinization loss of tree and shrub cover the loss of animal resources and the depletion of water resources If the utility stability and diversity of arid environments is to be maintained then the techniques described in this book will need to be employed The book is global in perspective and is written by academics and consultants with long continued and diverse experience of desert environments It attempts to present techniques for desert reclamation in a concise comprehensive and accessible way and assumes no technical expertise in the reader Restoration and Rehabilitation of the Desert Environment N. Al-Awadhi, M.T. Balba, C. Kamizawa, 2012-12-02 These proceedings contain technical papers presented at the Kuwait Japan Symposium on Restoration and Rehabilitation of the Desert Environment which was held in Kuwait on 3 4 March 1996 Kuwait was selected as the site for this fourth symposium because of its enormous need for restoring and rehabilitating its desert environment and because of the progress which Kuwait and Japan have been making collectively in these efforts at both pilot and field scale levels Kuwait's desert land has recently suffered from one of the worst man made disasters of all time having been polluted with vast amounts of oil from the nearly 7000 oil wells that were destroyed during the Gulf War The three themes for the symposium were remediation of the polluted soil enhancement of the visual impact of greenery and recycling of wastewater for rehabilitation purposes The first theme was highlighted with presentations on the KISR PEC Oil Lake Beds Remediation Project The second theme was launched with a broad based discussion on new strategies and alternatives for greening the desert and a summary of the Kuwait National Greenery Plan which is now being prepared The third theme featured presentations on water resource management in Japan and in KISR's Reverse Osmosis Project to make municipal wastewater recyclable for greenery use in densely populated areas The closing session culminated in perspectives and recommendations from both Kuwait and Japan and with a historical summary of the long standing Kuwait Japan Collaborative Program

Desert Olive Oil Cultivation Zeev Wiesman, 2009-06-24 Due to the adverse stress conditions typical of olive cultivation in desert conditions the olive tree is responding with production of high levels of antioxidant substances Among these substances are polyphenols tocopherols and phytosterols Studies have shown that saline irrigated varieties of olives have demonstrated advantages over those irrigated with tap water This is just one of the aspects of desert cultivation of olives that is covered in Desert Olive Oil Advanced Biotechnologies Based on 20 years of research the book expounds on the appropriate selection of olive varieties with high productivity and oil quality the impact of foliar nutrition on decreasing alternate bearing and increasing fruit quality improving efficiency of mechanical harvesting and increasing efficiency of oil extraction and oil quality regulating analysis Addresses olive cultivation methods for semi arid environments Focuses on intensive cultivation using saline and municipal waste recycled irrigation water and their significant impact on the production and nutritional value of olive oil Integrated and multidisciplinary approaches providing a comprehensive view of the desert olive industry Provides key considerations including ecological biotechnological agricultural and political impacts     Managing Water Resources and Hydrological Systems Brian D. Fath,Sven Erik Jorgensen,2020-07-29 Bringing together a wealth of knowledge Environmental Management Handbook Second Edition gives a comprehensive overview of environmental problems their sources their assessment and their solutions Through in depth entries and a topical table of contents readers will quickly find answers to questions about environmental problems and their corresponding management issues This six volume set is a reimagining of the award winning Encyclopedia of Environmental Management published in 2013 and features insights from more than 400 contributors all experts in their field The experience evidence methods and models used in studying environmental management are presented here in six stand alone volumes arranged along the major environmental systems Features The first handbook that demonstrates the key processes and provisions for enhancing environmental management Addresses new and cutting edge topics on ecosystem services resilience sustainability food energy water nexus socio ecological systems and more Provides an excellent basic knowledge on environmental systems explains how these systems function and offers strategies on how to best manage them Includes the most important problems and solutions facing environmental management today In this fourth volume Managing Water Resources and Hydrological Systems the reader is introduced to the general concepts and processes of the hydrosphere with its water resources and hydrological systems This volume serves as an excellent resource for finding basic knowledge on the hydrosphere systems and includes important problems and solutions that environmental managers face today This book practically demonstrates the key processes methods and models used in studying environmental management     Soil Management Michael A Fullen,John A Catt,2014-04-04 The soil is a fundamental constituent of the Earth s system maintaining a careful state of equilibrium within the biosphere However this natural balance is being increasingly disturbed by a variety of anthropogenic and natural processes leading to the degradation of many soil environments Soil Management provides a comprehensive and authoritative introduction to the many problems challenges and potential solutions facing soil management in the twenty first century Covering a range of topics including erosion desertification salinization soil structure carbon sequestration acidification and chemical pollution the book also develops a prognosis for the future of soil management in the face of growing populations and global warming Written with the needs of students in mind each chapter provides a broad overview of a problem analyses approaches to its solution and concludes with references and suggestions for further reading Soil Management will be of great value to environmental science and geography undergraduates taking soil management courses in their second or third year

Management of Problem Soils in Arid Ecosystems A. Monem

Balba, 2018-05-02 Management of Problem Soils in Arid Ecosystems examines the challenges of managing soils in arid and semiarid regions These soils contain low organic matter are not leached and accumulate lime gypsum and or soluble salts requiring special management and practices This book discusses how to identify problems reclaim the soils and then use them efficiently and economically Water management and desertification in these areas are also discussed It contains extensive references as well as 40 tables and illustrations

Geomorphological Hazards and Disaster Prevention

Irasema Alcántara-Ayala, Andrew S. Goudie, 2010-03-04 Human activities have had a huge impact on the environment and landscape through industrialisation and land use change leading to climate change deforestation desertification land degradation and air and water pollution These impacts are strongly linked to the occurrence of geomorphological hazards such as floods landslides snow avalanches soil erosion and others Geomorphological work includes not only the understanding but the mapping and modelling of Earth's surface processes many of which directly affect human societies In addition geomorphologists are becoming increasingly involved with the dimensions of societal problem solving through vulnerability analysis hazard and risk assessment and management The work of geomorphologists is therefore of prime importance for disaster prevention An international team of geomorphologists have contributed their expertise to this volume making this a scientifically rigorous work for a wide audience of geomorphologists and other Earth scientists including those involved in environmental science hazard and risk assessment management and policy

Combating Desertification Land

Degradation and Climate Change: Management of Dry Lands T.S. Chouhan, 2018-06-01 Although much is known about the processes and effects of desertification land degradation and climate change little is understood about the links between them Less still is known about how these processes are likely to interact in different social ecological systems around the world or how societies might be able to adapt to this twin challenge This book identifies key vulnerabilities to the combined effects of climate change and land degradation around the world It identifies triple win adaptations that can tackle both climate change and land degradation whilst supporting biodiversity and ecosystem services Desertification Land Degradation and Climate Change Assessment Mitigation and Remediation research results in sustainable land management land degradation status and mitigation in the world It includes background chapters with continental and international perspectives dealing with desertification land degradation and climate change studies The book assembles various topics of interest for a large audience They include carbon sequestration and stocks modern techniques to trace the trends of land degradation traditional and modern approaches of resource base conservation soil fertility management reforestation rangeland rehabilitation land use planning GIS techniques in desertification risk cartography participatory ecosystem
