The Orientalizing Bucchero From The Lower Building:

The Orientalizing Bucchero from the Lower Building at Poggio Civitate (Murlo) Jon M. Berkin, 2003 Excavations at the Etruscan site of Poggio Civitate Murlo have produced some of the most spectacular and provocative material recovered from Etruria This volume presents the reconstruction and study of a large assemblage of bucchero pottery recovered from the Lower Building at Poggio Civitate in deposits dating from the late Orientalizing period Bucchero is a characteristic Etruscan ceramic type that is commonly found at Orientalizing and Archaic period Etruscan sites This study represents the first major publication on bucchero from Poggio Civitate and also is one of the few studies of a large assemblage of bucchero recovered from a nonfunerary context The author examines the chronology style and function of the bucchero and also considers the question of its place of production The analysis of the bucchero from the Lower Building has important implications not only for the dating of the rest of the Orientalizing period ceramic assemblage at Poggio Civitate but also for the dating and study of bucchero in Etruria as a whole and iconography as examples of Etruscan agency and reception rather than as a deficit of local creativity      The Etruscans Lucy Shipley, 2023-09-24 Now in paperback a brief introduction to the mysteries of the enigmatic ancient civilization in the area of modern Italy The Etruscans were a powerful people marked by an influential civilization in ancient Italy But despite their prominence the Etruscans are often portrayed as mysterious a strange and unknowable people whose language and culture have largely vanished Lucy Shipley's The Etruscans presents a different picture Shipley writes of a people who traded with Greece and shaped the development of Rome who inspired Renaissance artists and Romantic firebrands and whose influence is still felt strongly in the modern world Covering colonialism and conquest misogyny and mystique she weaves Etruscan history with new archaeological evidence to give us a revived picture of the Etruscan people The book traces trade routes and trains of thought describing the journey of Etruscan objects from creation to use loss rediscovery and reinvention From the wrappings of an Egyptian mummy displayed in a fashionable salon to the extra curricular activities of Bonaparte from a mass looting craze to a bombed museum in a town marked by massacre the book is an extraordinary voyage through Etruscan archaeology which ultimately leads to surprising and intriguing places In this sharp and groundbreaking book Shipley gives readers a unique perspective on an enigmatic people revealing just how much we know about the Etruscans and just how much still remains undiscovered      The Etruscan World Jean MacIntosh Turfa, 2014-11-13 The Etruscans can be shown to have made significant and in some cases perhaps the first technical advances in the central and northern Mediterranean To the Etruscan people we can attribute such developments as the tie beam truss in large wooden structures surveying and engineering drainage and water tunnels the development of the foresail for fast long distance sailing vessels fine techniques of metal production and other pyrotechnology post mortem C sections in medicine and more In art many technical and iconographic developments although they certainly happened first in Greece or the Near East are first seen in extant Etruscan works preserved in the lavish tombs and goods of Etruscan aristocrats These include early portraiture the first full length painted portrait the first perspective view of a human figure in monumental art specialized techniques of bronze casting and reduction fired pottery the bucchero phenomenon Etruscan contacts through trade treaty and intermarriage linked their culture with Sardinia Corsica and Sicily with the Italic tribes of the peninsula and with the Near Eastern kingdoms Greece and the Greek colonial world Iberia Gaul and the Punic network of North Africa and influenced the cultures of northern Europe In the past fifteen years striking advances have been made in scholarship and research techniques for Etruscan Studies Archaeological and scientific discoveries have changed our picture of the Etruscans and furnished us with new specialized information Thanks to the work of dozens of international scholars it is now possible to discuss topics of interest that could never before be researched such as Etruscan mining and metallurgy textile production foods and agriculture In this volume over 60 experts provide insights into all these aspects of Etruscan culture and more with many contributions available in English for the first time to allow the reader access to research that may not otherwise be

Burial and Social Change in First Millennium BC Italy Elisa Perego, Rafael Scopacasa, 2016-11-30 In the first millennium BC communities in Italy underwent crucial transformations which scholars have often subsumed under the heading of state formation namely increased social stratification the centralization of political power and in some cases urbanization Most research has tended to approach the phenomenon of state formation and social change in relation to specific territorial dynamics of growth and expansion changing modes of exploitation of food and other resources over time and the adoption of selected socio ritual practices by the ruling elites in order to construct and negotiate authority In contrast comparatively little attention has been paid to the question of how these key developments resonated across the broader social transect and how social groups other than ruling elites both promoted these changes and experienced their effects The chief aim of this collection of 14 papers is to harness innovative approaches to the exceptionally rich mortuary evidence of first millennium BC Italy in order to investigate the roles and identities of social actors who either struggled for power and social recognition or were manipulated and exploited by superior authorities in a phase of tumultuous sociopolitical change throughout the entire Mediterranean basin Contributors provide a diverse range of approaches in order to examine how power operated in society how it was exercised and resisted and how this can be studied through mortuary evidence Section 1 addresses the construction of identity by focusing mainly on the manipulation of age ethnic and gender categories in society in regions and sites that reached notable power and splendor in first millennium BC Italy These include Etruria Latium Campania and the rich settlement of Verucchio in Emilia Romagna Each paper in Section 2 offers a counterpoint to a contribution in Section 1 with an overall emphasis on scholarly multivocality and the multiplicity of the theoretical approaches that can be used to read the archaeological evidence

Historical Dictionary of the Etruscans Simon K.F. Stoddart,2009-06-16 The Etruscans were the creators of one of the most highly developed cultures of the pre Roman Era Having at one time control over a significant part of the Mediterranean the Etruscans laid the foundation of the city of Rome They had their own language which has never been totally decoded and their art influenced such artists as Michelangelo While the Etruscans were eventually conquered by the Romans they left a rich culture behind The Historical Dictionary of the Etruscans relates the history of this culture focusing on aspects of their material culture and art history A chronology introductory essay bibliography appendix of museums and research institutes and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on important persons places events and institutions provide an entry into a comparative study of the Etruscans

A Short History of the Etruscans Corinna Riva,2020-12-10 Of all civilizations of the ancient Mediterranean it is perhaps the Etruscans who hold the greatest allure This is fundamentally because unlike their Greek and Latin neighbours the Etruscans left no textual sources to posterity The only direct evidence for studying them and for understanding their culture is the archaeological and to a much lesser extent epigraphic record The Etruscans must therefore be approached as if they were a prehistoric people and the enormous wealth of Etruscan visual and material culture must speak for them Yet they offer glimpses in the record left by Greek and Roman authors that they were literate and far from primordial indeed that their written histories were greatly admired by the Romans themselves Applying fresh archaeological discoveries and new insights A Short History of the Etruscans engagingly conducts the reader through the birth growth and demise of this fascinating and enigmatic ancient people whose nemesis was the growing power of Rome Exploring the discovery of the Etruscans from the Renaissance onwards Corinna Riva discusses the mysterious Etruscan language which long remained wholly indecipherable the Etruscan landscape the 6th century growth of Etruscan cities and Mediterranean trade Close attention is also paid to religion and ritual sanctuaries and monumental grave sites and the fatal incorporation of Etruria into Rome's political orbit
