Finding Home Julie K. Ageson,2020-07-24 For all who know the security of home in all its iterations and for those who don't finding home is complicated Home always is characterized by joy and sorrow grief and gladness the realities of complicated lives What is it like to flee the horrors of war as a refugee in search of home When daily life is unbearable what exactly does home mean How do we learn to be at home in our bodies at home with ourselves What does it mean to be made in the likeness of the Holy One Can we find home in the company of strangers and how do we reclaim our earth home So many images swim just below the surface of my memory all the houses where I came to know home It takes little to retrieve them a shared story the pungent smell of tide flats the sound of rain on a tin roof But home of course is much more than houses These reflections invite readers to explore identity the importance of rootedness discovering home away from home what it means to be home for one another Finding home literally and metaphorically is challenging Women of Hope
Terry Polakovic,2021-04-20 Throughout the history of the Catholic Church in her most troubled and turbulent times God has raised up great saints as beacons of hope in the midst of darkness Among these great saints the four women Doctors of the Church stand out as models of courage wisdom and trust Their example and teachings remain with us are relevant to the challenges of our own day and urge us on to renewal with unwavering hope Trust shows the way wrote Saint Hildegard of Bingen These words set the courageous standard by which she Teresa of Avila Catherine of Siena and Thérèse of Lisieux lived The phrase can be considered the watchword for the Church in every age and especially in our own In Women of Hope Terry Polakovic introduces these amazing women and describes the troubled times in which they lived and persevered These women remind us that God can work through anyone to bring about his purpose They prove to us that as Christians we can live in confident hope no matter the circumstances in which we find ourselves ABOUT THE AUTHOR Terry Polakovic is cofounder of Endow Educating on the Nature and Dignity of Women and served as president of the organization from 2003 to 2015 Before retiring she worked in nonprofit leadership for more than thirty years In 2010 she received the Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice For the Church and the Pontiff award from Pope Benedict XVI In 2011 Terry was recognized as an Outstanding Catholic Leader by the Catholic Leadership Institute She is the author of Life and Love Opening Your Heart to God's Design Our Sunday Visitor 2018 She lives in Colorado with her husband Mike Women, Education, and Science within the Arab-Islamic Socio-Cultural History Zakia Belhachmi,2008-01-01 From a rationale of multiculturalism and a based on systemic approach grounded in the Arab Islamic tradition this book integrates history education science and feminism to understand the implications of culture in social change cultural identity and cultural exchange Dr Belhachmi's praxis maintains the relationship between socio political movements and their corollary scientific movements to explain women's role in social change of the Arab Islamic world thus linking the region's past and the present in a historical continuum. In one masterful move she immediately engages into a discovery journey of the 13 century old Arab Islamic socio cultural and intellectual history thus exploring the independent Arab Islamic Worldview of development modernism science education and discusses the corollary socio political and reform movements that integrated women in the region's governance over time. Thus she not only highlights women's involvement in social change as a recurrent cyclical phenomenon in the region but also chronicles the women led independent 120 years of Arab Islamic feminist science. Above all Dr Belhachmi offers an innovative operational three levelled model of analysis of education and feminist practice that reconciles particularism and universalism and yields to systemic analyses of women in education cross culturally. In doing so the book shifts focus from the woman's question into the more radical issues of women's science in the Arab Islamic culture illustrating with the work of al Sa'dawi Egypt and Mernissi Morocco. As such this study is both a groundbreaking epistemological study on the role Arab Muslim women and social change over time and an essential textbook on women in contemporary Arab Islamic education and social sciences. In a tour de force Dr Belhachmi reclaims Arab Islamic feminist scientific legacy as organic to the region's institutional memory and its collective cultural reference while restoring to Arab Muslim women feminists including herself their epistemic space within the contemporary multi discursive practice space of international feminism thus offering us a timely pioneering book on Arab Islamic feminist epistemology. Equally she provides us with a new scientific framework for self representation and cultural exchange much needed both in international education and a new feminist international order. In brief this is an original scholarly work that provides us with creative empowerment methods qualitative methodologies and holistic conceptual tools thus enabling us to re think our rapport to knowledge and the place of knowledge itself and how its related research strategies can move us beyond the pitfalls of cultural relativism and scientism. As such this is an invaluable addition to the literature on the Middle East and North Africa region MENA that will benefit the layman tremendously and a must reference for specialists and students alike.

The Death Penalty Roger Hood, Carolyn Hoyle, 2015-01-08

The fifth edition of this highly praised study charts and explains the progress that continues to be made towards the goal of worldwide abolition of the death penalty. The majority of nations have now abolished the death penalty and the number of executions has dropped in almost all countries where abolition has not yet taken place. Emphasising the impact of international human rights principles and evidence of abuse the authors examine how this has fuelled challenges to the death penalty and they analyse and appraise the likely obstacles political and cultural to further abolition. They discuss the cruel realities of the death penalty and the failure of international standards always to ensure fair trials and to avoid arbitrariness discrimination and conviction of the innocent all violations of the right to life. They provide further evidence of the lack of a general deterrent effect shed new light on the influence and limits of public opinion and argue that substituting for the death penalty life imprisonment without parole raises many similar human rights concerns. This edition provides a

The Secrets of Happiness Richard Schoch, 2006-11-14 Unhappy is the story of happiness. More than two thousand years ago, when the ancient Greeks first pondered what constitutes the good life, happiness was considered a civic virtue that demanded a lifetime's cultivation. Not just mere enjoyment of pleasure and mere avoidance of suffering, true happiness was an achievement, not a birthright. Now, in an age of instant gratification and infinite distraction, history professor Richard Schoch takes a refreshingly contemplative look at a question that's as vital today as ever: What does it mean to be happy? Schoch consults some of history's greatest thinkers, from Aristotle to Thomas Aquinas to Buddha, in his quest to understand happiness in all its hard-won forms. Packed with three thousand years' worth of insights, many long forgotten, The Secrets of Happiness is a breath of ancient wisdom for anyone who yearns for the good life.

The Dynamics and Challenges of Tetranormalization Henri Savall, Veronique Zardet, 2013-03-01 This volume continues the collaboration between the RMC book series and the French management research think tank ISEOR (Socio-Economic Institute for Firms and Organizations). Those familiar with Henri Savall's and his colleague Veronique Zardet's earlier work on the socio-economic theory of organizations will recognize their assessments of organizational dysfunctions and hidden costs, but in a different context. In their current work, the emphasis is on the tensions created by the wider environment, the idea of tetranormalization, and how those tensions shape and influence organizational life. Drawing on a wide range of examples from the news media and popular press, Savall and Zardet paint a disturbing picture of the underlying dynamics and challenges posed by a literal avalanche of standards and norms, which are often ambiguous and conflicting, that literally encompasses all that we do. Their analytic framework is composed of four poles: two social dimensions and two economic dimensions that capture social norms and quality/safety/environment standards, the social dimension and trade-related norms and accounting and financial standards, the economic dimension. Throughout the volume Savall and Zardet's analysis captures the myriad ways in which these dimensions interact shaping the rules of the game that dictate how organizations compete and collaborate Differentiating the rules of the game from playing with those rules they delve into the subtleties and nuances that underlie these poles providing further insight into how these forces are manipulated through lobbying and the seemingly 24/7 cycle of exposing publicizing and rule making surrounding social and economic as well as scientific and technological controversies As Savall and Zardet argue we are in the midst of a profound upheaval that will play havoc with our economic and social lives for some time to come If we are going to exert influence on that reality the challenges that we face moving forward must be conceptualized constructed and implemented today for as they argue the road to durable prosperity will be a long haul Yet moving beyond these challenges per se they underscore that we are also presented with an exceptional opportunity the very real opportunity to create a sustainable commitment to responsible and responsive organizational performance one that can be fuelled and financed by our ability to translate the hidden costs that exist in all our organizations into productive value added activities and true wealth creation Their analysis presents an intriguing challenge to traditional notions of corporate social responsibility delving into the idea of durably acceptable responsibility ways to facilitate greater stakeholder engagement and how we can capture ongoing and sustainable improvement in organizational performance

The Hatred of Literature William Marx, 2018-01-08 For 2 500 years literature has been condemned in the name of authority truth morality and society But in making explicit what a society expects from literature anti literary discourse paradoxically asserts the validity of what it wishes to deny The threat to literature's continued existence William Marx writes is not hatred but indifference Imagining the Jewish God Leonard Kaplan, Ken Koltun-Fromm, 2016-09-09 Jewish art has always been with us but so has a broader canvas of Jewish imaginings in thought in emotion in text and in ritual practice Imagining the Jewish God was there in the beginning as it were engraved and embedded in the ways Jews lived and responded to their God This book attempts to give voice to these diverse imaginings of the Jewish God and offers these collected essays and poems as a living text meant to provoke a substantive and nourishing dialogue A responsive living covenant lies at the heart of this book a covenantal reciprocity that actively engages the dynamics of Jewish thinking and acting in dialogue with God The contributors to this volume are committed to this form of textual reasoning even as they all move us beyond the text as foundational for the imagined people of the book That people we submit lives and breathes in and beyond the texts of poetry narrative sacred literature film and graphic mediums We imagine the Jewish people and the covenant they respond to as provocative intimations of the divine The essays in this volume seek to draw these vocal intimations out so that we can all hear their resonant call
