Politics of Survival Lara Trout,2010-06-09 How can sincere well meaning people unintentionally perpetuate discrimination based on race sex sexuality or other socio political factors To address this question Lara Trout engages a neglected dimension of Charles S Peirce s philosophy human embodiment in order to highlight the compatibility between Peirce s ideas and contemporary work in social criticism This compatibility which has been neglected in both Peircean and social criticism scholarship emerges when the body is foregrounded among the affective dimensions of Peirce s philosophy including feeling emotion belief doubt instinct and habit Trout explains unintentional discrimination by situating Peircean affectivity within a post Darwinian context using the work of contemporary neuroscientist Antonio Damasio to facilitate this contextual move Since children are vulnerable naïve and dependent upon their caretakers for survival they must trust their caretaker s testimony about reality This dependency coupled with societal norms that reinforce historically dominant perspectives such as being heterosexual male middle class and or white fosters the internalization of discriminatory habits that function non consciously in adulthood The Politics of Survival brings Peirce and social criticism into conversation On the one hand Peircean cognition epistemology phenomenology and metaphysics dovetail with social critical insights into the inter relationships among body and mind emotion and reason self and society Moreover Peirce s epistemological ideal of an infinitely inclusive community of inquiry into knowledge and reality implies a repudiation of exclusionary prejudice On the other hand work in feminism and race theory illustrates how the application of Peirce s infinitely inclusive communal ideal can be undermined by non conscious habits of exclusion internalized in childhood by members belonging to historically dominant groups such as the economically privileged heterosexuals men and whites Trout offers a Peircean response to this application problem that both acknowledges the blind spots of non conscious discrimination and recommends a communally situated network of remedies including agapic love critical common sensism scientific method and self control

The Architecture of Survival Erik Trump,Jake Parcell,2023-09-05 The Architecture of Survival Setting and Politics in Apocalypse Films offers a compelling exploration of how popular films and TV series from the past two decades use architectural spaces to comment on socio political issues The authors harness varied theoretical perspectives to demonstrate how through set design these works suggest that certain kinds of architecture support human development community and freedom while other kinds separate us from our fellow humans and make democratic politics impossible The clean lines of modernist design serve in films such as Contagion and Ex Machina as a metaphor for the sanitized sterile politics that drive disaster In The Walking Dead apocalypse survivors favor traditional architectural styles when rebuilding society a choice that symbolically affirms their democratic principles The massive walls and super gentrification as seen in Elysium and Army of the Dead divide humanity with those on one side wielding illegitimate power Empty streetscapes intensify loneliness alienation and the destruction of civil norms Smart cities offering a blend of high tech surveillance and big data erode social capital and community in Her and Transcendence The book concludes with a somewhat hopeful glimpse into architecture s potential to mitigate the catastrophic adverse effects of climate change as seen in films like Zootopia
