The Of The Axe Archive Photograph Series:

Archive and Memory in German Literature and Visual Culture Dora Osborne, 2015 Explores the changing relationship between memory and the archive in German language literature and culture since 1945 American Axe Brett McLeod, 2020-10-13 From hand forged axes of the Viking conquests to the American homesteader's felling axe this is a tool that has shaped human history like few others American Axe pays tribute to this iconic instrument of settlement and industry with rich history stunning photography and profiles of the most collectible vintage axes such as The Woodslasher Keen Cutter and True Temper Perfect Combining his experiences as a forester axe collector and former competitive lumberjack author Brett McLeod conveys the allure of this deceptively simple woodcutting implement and celebrates the resurging interest in its story and use Guide to the National Anthropological Archives, Smithsonian Institution National Anthropological Archives, 1992 Creole in the Archive Roshini Kempadoo, 2016-10-24 The image of the Caribbean figure has been reconfigured by photography from the mid 19th century onwards Initial images associated with the slave and indentured worker from the locations and legacies associated with plantation economies have been usurped by visual representations emerging from struggles for social political and cultural autonomy Contemporary visual artists engaging with the Caribbean as a 21st century globalised space have focused on visually reimagining historical material and events as memories histories and dreamscapes Creole in the Archive uses photographic analysis to explore portraits postcards and social documentation of the colonial worker between 1850 and 1960 and contemporary often digital visual art by post independent postcolonial Caribbean artists Drawing on Derridean ideas of the archive the book reconceptualises the Caribbean visual archive as contiguous and relational It argues that using a creolising archive practice the conjuncture of contemporary artworks historical imagery and associated locations can develop insightful new multimodal representations of Caribbean subjectivities The Seaford Axe Hoard Rodney Castleden, 2018-02-19 The fascinating story of the discovery and rediscovery of a unique prehistoric stone axe hoard The 15 flint axes were found in 1986 but then forgotten and only displayed as a hoard in 2014 when their national importance was recognized Hoards like this are very rare Where were the axes made By a remarkable coincidence the factory where they were manufactured was also discovered in 2014 very close at hand Neolithic Seaford is re created in new maps From all the evidence it is possible to reconstruct what it was like to live in Sussex five thousand years ago Royal paperback 134 pages 49 b w illustrations A Nimble Arc Emilie Boone, 2023-08-28 While James Van Der Zee is widely known and praised for his studio portraits from the Harlem Renaissance era much of the diversity and expansive reach of his work has been overlooked From the major role his studio played for decades photographing ordinary people and events in the Harlem community to the inclusion of his photographs in the landmark Harlem on My Mind exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in 1969 Van Der Zee was a foundational Black photographer whose work illustrates the shifting ways photography serves as a constitutive force within Black life In A

Nimble Arc Emilie Boone considers Van Der Zee's photographic work over the course of the twentieth century showing how it foregrounded aspects of Black daily life in the United States and in the larger African diaspora Boone argues that Van Der Zee's work exists at the crossroads of art and the vernacular challenging the distinction between canonical art photographs and the kind of output common to commercial photography studios Boone's account recasts our understanding not only of this celebrated figure but of photography within the arc of quotidian Black life Art + Archive Sara Callahan,2022-01-25

Art Archive provides an in depth analysis of the connection between art and the archive at the turn of the twenty first century The book examines how the archive emerged in art writing in the mid 1990s and how its subsequent ubiquity can be understood in light of wider social technological philosophical and art historical conditions and concerns Deftly combining writing on archives from different disciplines with artistic practices the book clarifies the function and meaning of one of the most persistent artworld buzzwords of recent years shedding light on the conceptual and historical implications of the so called archival turn in contemporary art Reading the Archival Revolution Cristina Vatulescu,2024-11-12

The opening of classified documents from the Soviet era has been dubbed the archival revolution due to its unprecedented scale drama and impact With a storyteller's sensibility Cristina Vatulescu identifies and takes on the main challenges of reading in these archives This transnational study foregrounds peripheral Eastern European perspectives and the ethical stakes of archival research In so doing it contributes to the urgent task of decolonizing the field of Eastern European and Russian studies at this critical moment in the region's history Drawing on diverse work ranging from Mikhail Bakhtin to Tina Campt the book enters into broader conversations about the limits and potential of reading documents fictions and one another Pairing one key reading challenge with a particularly arresting story Vatulescu in turn investigates Michel Foucault's traces in Polish secret police archives tackles the files reenactment film and photo albums of a socialist bank heist pits autofiction against disinformation in the secret police files of Nobel Prize laureate Herta and Paul Amirson and takes on the digital remediation of Soviet era archives by analyzing contested translations of the Iron Curtain trope from its 1946 origins to the current war in Ukraine The result is a bona fide reader's guide to Eastern Europe's ongoing archival revolution Guide to Federal Records in the National Archives of the United States: Index United States. Portraits of Resistance Jennifer Van Horn,2022-01-01 A highly original history of American portraiture that places the experiences of enslaved people at its center This timely and eloquent book tells a new history of American art how enslaved people mobilized portraiture for acts of defiance Revisiting the origins of portrait painting in the United States Jennifer Van Horn reveals how mythologies of whiteness and of nation building erased the aesthetic production of enslaved Americans of African descent and obscured the portrait's importance as a site of resistance Moving from the wharves of colonial Rhode Island to antebellum Louisiana plantations to South Carolina townhouses during the Civil War the book illuminates how enslaved people's relationships with portraits also shaped the trajectory of African American art post emancipation Van Horn asserts that Black creativity subjecthood viewership and iconoclasm constituted instances of everyday rebellion against systemic oppression Portraits of Resistance is not only a significant intervention in the fields of American art and history but also an important contribution to the reexamination of racial constructs on which American culture was built

African-Caribbean Women Interrogating Diaspora/Post-Diaspora Suzanne Scafe, Leith Dunn, 2022-02-23 This anthology originated as papers presented at a conference held in London July 2018 entitled Caribbean Women Post Diaspora African Caribbean Interconnections The chapters focus on issues of women's agency and on the potential for transformation produced by the experience of migration and the networks and communities fashioned by African Caribbean women in diasporic spaces They cover a range of disciplines including the study of visual art auto ethnographic analysis in addition to socio cultural and literary analyses The work included in this anthology inserts as central to its focus considerations of gender and specifically the experiences of women in processes of migration community formation and resistance In its focus on concepts of diaspora and post diaspora the book investigates the potential of these theoretical terms to address the complexity of the diasporic experience Concepts of post diaspora have emerged in recent scholarship as a response to the challenges to traditional understandings of diaspora raised by the increase and speed of globalisation and by the rise of transnationalism both as a focus of academic study and as an everyday experience Post diaspora like transnationalism emphasises the fluidity of the migration process post diasporic identities emerge from the shifting formations of intra and international communities The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal African and Black Diaspora

On Being Adjacent to Historical Violence Irene Kacandes, 2021-12-06 This book offers to academic and general public readers timely reflections about our relationships to violence Taking cues from the self reflexivity themes and subject matters of Holocaust queer and Black studies this large group of diverse intellectuals wrestles with questions that connect past present and future where do I stand in relation to violence What is my attitude toward that adjacency Whose story gets to be told by whom What story do I take this image to be telling How do I co witness to another's suffering How do I honor the agency and resilience of family members or historical personages How do past violence and injustice connect to the present In smart self conscious passionate and often painfully beautiful prose cultural practitioners historians and cultural studies scholars such as Angelika Bammer Doris Bergen Ann Cvetkovich Marianne Hirsch Priscilla Layne Mark Roseman Leo Spitzer Susan R Suleiman and Viktor Witkowski explore such questions inviting readers to do the same By making available compelling examples of thinkers performing their own work within the cauldron of crises that came to a boil in 2020 and continued into the next year this volume proposes strategies for moving forward with hope

Ecology and Historical Change in the Anthropocene Bergit Arends,2024-07-09 Moving beyond existing scholarship this book connects photography archives ecology and historical change and critically applies the Anthropocene as framework to the in depth study of artists projects It discards single modes of seeing environmental transformations in favour of a multiple and de centred environmental imagination Bergit Arends uses multidisciplinary perspectives to view localized environmental social and political issues through research based artistic practices The book not only makes available original research into newly and recently discovered archives of ecological and historical change but also shows how this research is manifest in exhibition formats This book presents international transhistorical projects by contemporary visual artists who use archives together with photography as documentary and performative media for the comparative study of environments and places A wide array of artists from diverse backgrounds working primarily in Europe and North America from the 1970s to the present day are discussed and set in relation to Anthropocene narratives Case studies include environmental archive based work by Nguyen the Thuc Christiane Eisler Chrystel Lebas Mark Dion Joy Gregory and Philip Miller The book will be of interest to scholars working in photography archive studies art history visual culture environmental humanities and ecocriticism
