Species Identity Attachment A Phylogen:

Species Identity and Attachment M. Aaron Roy,1980 The Psychobiology of Attachment and Separation

Martin Reite,2012-12-02 The Psychobiology of Attachment and Separation provides an understanding of certain theoretical issues involved in social attachment and separation The book brings together a number of investigators studying animal and human models of the psychobiology of attachment and separation The contributors are actively conducting studies that incorporate physiological measures in attachment separation paradigms Thus the book s unique features include reviews and interpretations of recent data on the physiological correlates of attachment and separation behavior in both animals and humans The book is divided into two parts one on animal models and one on human models The first part reviews research from several animal species including studies on the biology of maternal behavior and physiological neurochemical and neuroanatomical correlates of both attachment and separation The chapters on animal models provide an overview of the state of knowledge on both the biology of social attachment and the biological correlates of separation The second part presents reviews and new data on attachment and separation in human infants A summary chapter examines both animal and human data and offers a synthesis of the results including clinical implications and ideas for future research

Intersections With Attachment Jacob L. Gewirtz,William M. Kurtines,Jacob L. Lamb,2013-05-13 Attachment has long been a key area of social development Work on attachment processes has involved a variety of species as well as humans in diverse cultures and at various points in the life cycle This volume presents research devoted to the meaning and implications of the attachment concept including possible indices of attachment the role of learning whether or not attachment is best treated as continuous or discontinuous and considerations for viewing attachment as a trait across environmental settings or as a process with functions that operate differently in disparate settings Other psychological process concepts such as imprinting relationships and identification are also discussed Because the contributors are active researchers and theorists this volume may help establish trends and determine directions to shape literature on attachment for years to come Wildlife Review ,1986 Behavioral Evolution and Integrative Levels G. Greenberg,E.

Tobach,2014-05-22 First published in 1984 In this collection of essays Schneirla is identified as a scientist and citizen unafraid to hold and present unpopular ideas Schneirla had always been opposed to the hereditarian views that allowed for the politicalization of psychology and spoke out early against the idea of the genetic basis of behavior It is fitting that his ideas which still form the nexus of the major theoretical criticism of classical ethology now can be seen to stand in opposition to the hereditarian views of socio biology Comparative Psychology Gary Greenberg,Maury M. Haraway,1998 This volume traces the modern critical and performance history of this play one of Shakespeare s most loved and most performed comedies The essay focus on such modern concerns as feminism deconstruction textual theory and queer theory Evolving Hierarchical Systems Stanley N. Salthe,2010-06-01 Evolving Hierarchical Systems Social Influences and Socialization in Infancy S. Feinman, Michael Lewis, 2013-06-29 How are we to understand the complex forces that shape human behavior A variety of diverse perspectives drawing on studies of human behavioral ontogeny as well as humanity's evolutionary heritage seem to provide the best likelihood of success It is in an attempt to synthesize such potentially disparate approaches to human development into an integrated whole that we undertake this series on the genesis of behavior In many respects the incredible burgeoning of research in child development over the last two decades or so seems like a thousand lines of inquiry spreading outward in an incoherent starburst of effort The need exists to provide on an ongoing basis an arena of discourse within which the threads of continuity among those diverse lines of research on human development can be woven into a fabric of meaning and understanding Scientists scholars and those who attempt to translate their efforts into the practical realities of the care and guidance of infants and children are the audience that we seek to reach Each requires the opportunity to see to the degree that our knowledge in given areas permits various aspects of development in a coherent integrated fashion It is hoped that this series which brings together research on infant biology developing infant capacities animal models and impact of social cultural and familial forces on development and the distorted products of such forces under certain circumstances serves these important social and scientific needs Evolution and Learning R. C. Bolles, M. D. Beecher, 2013-08-21 First published in 1987 Evolutionary theory and learning theory have for a long time developed in quite separate traditions The purpose of this book is partly to celebrate new developments in the two theories by displaying some of the work of this new breed of scholar It is the editors hope that they can encourage others to look more carefully at the mechanisms that make learning an evolutionary consideration and evolution a learning theory consideration Mate Choice Paul Patrick Gordon Bateson, 1983-04-28 Twenty one specially commissioned articles provide a clear picture of the current state of thinking about mate choice Brings together modern thinking on the various functions of mate choice and its role in evolution Current Topics in Developmental Biology, 1982-11-16 Current Topics in Developmental Biology

Chimpanzees and Human Evolution Martin N. Muller, Richard W. Wrangham, David R. Pilbeam, 2017-11-27 Knowledge of wild chimpanzees has expanded dramatically This volume edited by Martin Muller Richard Wrangham and David Pilbeam brings together scientists who are leading a revolution to discover and explain human uniqueness by studying our closest living relatives Their conclusions may transform our understanding of human evolution Naturalistic Environments in Captivity for Animal Behavior Research Edward F. Gibbons, 1994-01-01 This book addresses theoretical and pragmatic issues concerning naturalistic environments in captivity for animals The multidisciplinary orientation of the volume will help regulatory personnel administrators and researchers to understand each other's roles and responsibilities in the design construction and real time operation of these facilities The book also highlights the important value of naturalistic environments in captivity to the scientific study of animal behavior The authors provide insights into identifying physical environmental features not in compliance with existing regulations and that may have a negative impact on the physical health and psychological well being of animals The Roots of Morality Maxine Sheets-Johnstone,2010-11-01 Belonging in America Constance Perin,1988 Belonging in America gives voice to unspoken conventions and silent understandings and asks why our culture draws the lines it does between home and work family and friends humans and animals Throughout her fascinating book Constance Perin shows us the systems of meaning through which contemporary American create social order and define their relationships The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther,2024-11-26 How the classic mirror test served as a portal for scientists to explore questions of self awareness Since the late eighteenth century scientists have placed subjects humans infants animals and robots in front of mirrors in order to look for signs of self recognition Mirrors served as the possible means for answering the question What makes us human In The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther traces the history of the mirror self recognition test exploring how researchers from a range of disciplines psychoanalysis psychiatry developmental and animal psychology cybernetics anthropology and neuroscience came to read the peculiar behaviors elicited by mirrors Investigating the ways mirrors could lead to both identification and misidentification Guenther looks at how such experiments ultimately failed to determine human specificity The mirror test was thrust into the limelight when Charles Darwin challenged the idea that language sets humans apart Thereafter the mirror previously a recurrent if marginal scientific tool became dominant in attempts to demarcate humans from other animals But because researchers could not rely on language to determine what their nonspeaking subjects were experiencing they had to come up with significant innovations including notation strategies testing protocols and the linking of scientific theories across disciplines From the robotic tortoises of Grey Walter and the mark test of Beulah Amsterdam and Gordon Gallup to anorexia research and mirror neurons the mirror test offers a window into the emergence of such fields as biology psychology psychiatry animal studies cognitive science and neuroscience The Mirror and the Mind offers an intriguing history of experiments in self awareness and the advancements of the human sciences across more than a century The Encyclopedia of Human Ecology Julia R. Miller,Richard M. Lerner,Lawrence B. Schiamberg,Pamela M. Anderson,2003-08-13 The first and only source to integrate the multiple disciplines and professions exploring the many ways people interact with the natural and designed environments in which we live Comprising more than 250 informative entries The Encyclopedia of Human Ecology examines the interdisciplinary and complex topic of human ecology Knowledge gathered from disciplines that study individuals and groups is blended with information about the environment from the fields of family science geography anthropology urban planning and environmental science At the same time professions intended to enhance individual and family life marriage and family therapy clinical psychology social work dietetic and other health professions are represented alongside those concerned with the preservation conservation and management of the environment and its resources How rampant are eating disorders among our youth Are AIDS educational programs effective What problems do adolescents transitioning into adulthood encounter Here four leading scholars in the field have assembled a team of top tier psychologists
