Wilson, 2015-12-14 Northern British Columbia has always played an important role in Canada's economy but for many Canadians it also existed as an almost forgotten place a vast territory where only a few roads some railroad tracks and a ferry system connected small cities towns and villages to the outside world Now as the global appetite for oil gas hydroelectricity wood and minerals intensifies this resource rich and geographically important region is being pulled onto the national and international economic stages As debates around pipelines mines and hydroelectric projects intensify in local coffee shops distant boardrooms and the halls of Parliament this timely volume examines the connections and tensions between resource communities and global market forces illuminating how governments Aboriginal peoples organized labour NGOs and the private sector are adapting to resisting and embracing change Creating Societies Dirk Hoerder, 2000 The birth of Canada as a society and a nation has often been told from the narrow perspective of the founding nations These versions have left little room for the everyday experiences of a wide variety of individual immigrants who have had to adjust

German Canadians are generally considered well assimilated and inconspicuous their presence in Canada going virtually unnoticed Scholars over the past decades have struggled to explain this relative invisibility taking the existence of a German Canadian ethnic group with a distinct culture for granted The contributors question this assumption and take a fresh look at definitions of German Canadians and the processes of identity formation A Chorus of Different Voices represents a kaleidoscopic image of German Canadian identities past and present Voyage Through the Past Century Rolf Knight, 2013-05-09 Though unaffiliated with any institute of higher learning Rolf Knight has established himself as a writer of significance and has produced some of the most influential works of history of British Columbia A Very Ordinary Life exploring his mother's life as a working class immigrant to Vancouver established his reputation in 1974 Indians at Work published in 1976 and reissued in 1996 was originally highly contentious but has since shaped the perception of contact in this part of the world as no other book has Throughout the 1970s Knight continued to document working class experiences in British Columbia through a series of books A Man of our Times with Maya Koizumi Stump Ranch Chronicles Work Camps and Company Towns and Along the No 20 Line reissued 2011 In 1992 he published Homer Stevens A Life in Fishing with Homer Stevens and was also awarded a Clio prize by the Canadian Historical Association for his contributions to regional history In

Voyage Through the Past Century we have Knight's autobiographical account of his far from ordinary past. A journey from his early years as the only child at Musketeer Mine through his move to northeast Vancouver where he attended school and entered university. Earning a PhD in anthropology and subsequent fieldwork in Northern Quebec constitute his formal schooling but it was Knight's travels upcoast as a youth, trips to Berlin, Nigeria, New York and Colombia that shaped his politics and views. Clear-eyed and written with the verve and passion of a working class activist, Voyage Through the Past Century is an engaging record of a fascinating life and an indispensable account of a time and place that has marked our age even as the events that shaped it fade into the past.
