Neocybernetics and Narrative Bruce Clarke, 2014-09-15 Neocybernetics and Narrative opens a new chapter in Bruce Clarke's project of rethinking narrative and media through systems theory Reconceiving interrelations among subjects media significations and the social this study demonstrates second order systems theory's potential to provide fresh insights into the familiar topics of media studies and narrative theory A pioneer of systems narratology Clarke offers readers a synthesis of the neocybernetic theories of cognition formulated by biologists Humberto Maturana and Francisco Varela incubated by cyberneticist Heinz von Foerster and cultivated in Niklas Luhmann's social systems theory From this foundation he interrogates media theory and narrative theory through a critique of information theory in favor of autopoietic conceptions of cognition Clarke's purview includes examinations of novels Mrs Dalloway and Mind of My Mind movies Avatar Memento and Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind and even Aramis Bruno Latour's idiosyncratic meditation on a failed plan for an automated subway Clarke declares the era of the cyborg to have ended laid to rest as the ontology of technical objects is brought into differential coordination with operations of living psychic and social systems The second order discourse of cognition destabilizes the usual sense of cognition as conscious awareness revealing the possibility of nonconscious and nonhuman forms of sentience Steps to an Ecology of Mind Gregory Bateson,2000

Gregory Bateson was a philosopher anthropologist photographer naturalist and poet as well as the husband and collaborator of Margaret Mead This classic anthology of his major work includes a new Foreword by his daughter Mary Katherine Bateson 5 line drawings Design Unbound: Designing for Emergence in a White Water World, Volume 1 Ann M.

Pendleton-Jullian,John Seely Brown,2018-12-04 Tools for navigating today s hyper connected rapidly changing and radically contingent white water world Design Unbound presents a new tool set for having agency in the twenty first century in what the authors characterize as a white water world rapidly changing hyperconnected and radically contingent These are the tools of a new kind of practice that is the offspring of complexity science which gives us a new lens through which to view the world as entangled and emerging and architecture which is about designing contexts In such a practice design unbound from its material thingness is set free to design contexts as complex systems In a world where causality is systemic entangled in flux and often elusive we cannot design for absolute outcomes Instead we need to design for emergence Design Unbound not only makes this case through theory but also presents a set of tools to do so With case studies that range from a new kind of university to organizational and even societal transformation Design Unbound draws from a vast array of domains architecture science and technology philosophy cinema music literature and poetry even the military It is presented in five books bound as two volumes Different books within the larger system of books will resonate with different reading audiences from architects to people reconceiving higher education to the public policy or defense and intelligence communities The authors provide different entry points allowing readers to navigate their own pathways through the system of books

Organisation Development James Traeger,Rob Warwick,2018-04-16 There are many books on Organisational Development but to the reflective practitioner who is curious about their practice there can be a disconnect between the simplicity of theory and the often messy reality of practice Organisation Development A Bold Explorer s Guide explores the realities that they encounter in a way that gives practitioners hope that this is a shared experience in fact it is normal and that out of all of this progress can be made In exploring everyday interactions with their fascinating textures and details important clues for practice and theory can be found This book offers the opportunity to appreciate how events in which we are all involved are connected It is in the detail for example the corridor conversation with a senior director that things can be said that affect the lives of many Therefore organisation development never stops or starts It is a continuing series of interactions in which we have choices These choices are creative and artful as well as practical and ethical and the authors show how any of us might weigh these complex balances and move forward Organisation Development A Bold Explorer s

Guide challenges the received building blocks of organisation development putting the curious reflexive individual at the heart of their own development It is written for those who are keen to develop their practice from the ground up and who are looking for inspiration to take their own experience seriously

Toxic Substances and Human Risk Robert G. Tardiff,Joseph V. Rodricks,2013-03-13 As society has become increasingly aware of the potential threats to human health due to exposures to toxic chemicals in the environment and the workplace and in consumer products it has placed increased demands upon the still fledgling science of toxicology As is often the case when science is called upon to supply firm answers when pertinent information and fundamental knowledge are lack ing both the scientific and the social issues become confused and new tensions develop One of the major purposes of this book is to focus on those aspects of the science of toxicology that pertain most to social issues namely analysis of risk for purposes of human health protection Although it is apparent that the discipline of toxicology is not yet prepared to provide firm answers to many questions concerning human risk it is important that the rigorously derived information be used in the most objective and logical way to yield the closest approximation to the truth This book is designed to supply as much guidance for such tasks as is permitted by the current state of our knowledge Its emphasis is thus placed on interpretation of toxicity data broadly defined for assessing risks to human health In this way it differs from other basic toxicology texts most of which emphasize methods for performing studies or describe various toxicological endpoints and classes of toxic agents The AGROVOC Editorial Guidelines Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2022-03-14 The first edition of The AGROVOC Editorial Guidelines 2020 FAO 2020 was published to share clear concise and agreed guidelines to guarantee consistency and coherence on selection of concepts and terms Focus areas included whether to use the singular or plural in each language how to deal with proper names scientific names and geographical names etc In 2021 an AGROVOC Editorial Guidelines task force with members from Empresa Brasileira de Pesquisa Agropecuária Kuratorium für Technik und Bauwesen in der Landwirtschaft e V and FAO continued to deepen editorial discussions which resulted in the second edition of The AGROVOC Editorial Guidelines 2020 In this second edition additional guidance has been added on scientific names spelling definitions and more This guide is a set of editorial recommendations for adding content to AGROVOC with a strong focus on multilingual aspects The guidelines also apply to sub vocabularies in AGROVOC Pain and Chemical Dependency

Howard Smith M.D.,Steven Passik,2008-04-25 Both pain and addiction are tremendous public health problems Practitioners of every stripe say that they learned precious little about pain or addiction in their training and readily admit that instruction on the interface of pain and addiction is nonexistent The recent problem of prescription drug abuse has only served to highlight the fact that these two worlds need unification those who treat pain must be informed about the risks of controlled substances and those who treat addiction need to better and more fully understand their benefits Nowhere is the pooled knowledge of pain management and addiction medicine brought together to allow for a greater appreciation of the risks of addiction when treating people with pain and the pain problems of those with chemical dependency This major new volume brings this vast knowledge base together presenting an array of perspectives by the foremost thought leaders at the interface of pain and chemical dependency and is the most comprehensive resource on the subject to date There have been an increasing number of seminars devoted to this topic and a new society The International Society on Pain and Chemical Dependency has recently been formed and this volume is destined to become the classic text on this multidisciplinary subject It will appeal to anesthesiologists neurologists rehab physicians palliative care staff pain center physicians and psychologists
