The Arc of Faith-Based Initiatives John P. Bartkowski, Susan E. Grettenberger, 2018-05-17 This volume offers an in-depth examination of a diverse range of faith-based programs implemented in three different geographical locales: family support in rural Mississippi, transitional housing in Michigan, and addiction recovery in the Pacific Northwest, Washington, Oregon. Various types of religious service providers, faith-intensive and faith-related, are carefully examined, and secular organizations also serve as an illuminating point of comparison. Among other insights, this book reveals how the three C's of social service provision—programmatic content, organizational culture, and ecological context—all combine to shape the delivery of welfare services in the nonprofit world. This book warns against simplistic generalizations about faith-based organizations. Faith-based providers exhibit considerable diversity and quite often remarkable resilience in the face of challenging social circumstances. An appreciation of these nuances is critical as policies concerning faith-based organizations continue to evolve.

Japan, Alcoholism, and Masculinity Paul A. Christensen, 2014-12-11 Depictions of an alcohol-saturated Japan populated by intoxicated salarymen, beer-dispensing vending machines, and a generally tolerant approach to public drunkenness typify domestic and international perceptions of Japanese drinking. Even the popular definitions of Japanese masculinity are interwoven with accounts of personal alcohol consumption in public settings, gender norms that exclude and marginalize the alcoholic. And yet the alcoholic also exists in Japan and exists in a manner revealing of the dominant processes by which alcoholism and addiction are globally influenced understood and classified As such this book examines the ways in which alcoholism is understood accepted and taken on as an influential and lived aspect of identity among Japanese men At the most general level it explores how a subjective idea comes to be regarded as an objective and unassailable fact Here such a process concerns how the culturally and temporally specific treatment methodology of Alcoholics Anonymous upon which much of Japan s other major sobriety association Danshukai is also based has come to be the approach in Japan to diagnosing treating and structuring alcoholism as an aspect of individual identity In particular the gendered consequences how this process transpires or is resisted by Japanese men are considered as they offer substantial insight into how categories of illness and disease are created particularly the ramifications of dominant forms of such categorizations across increasingly porous cultural borders Ramifications that become starkly obvious when Japan s persistent connection between notions of masculinity and alcohol consumption are considered from the perspective of the sober alcoholic and sobriety group member
