Rattan, Liat Ayalon, 2022 This book argues that a narrow policy on successful ageing excludes a large portion of ageing individuals from the quest for a good life in old age It explores various models defining successful ageing and argues that successful ageing in guiding policy will profit by following a pluralistic and holistic view

Successful and Active Ageing Virpi Timonen, 2016-04-29 This controversial book argues that concepts such as successful and active ageing ubiquitous terms in research marketing and policy making concerned with older adults are potentially dangerous paradigms that reflect and exacerbate inequalities in older populations This author presents a new theory to make sense of the popularity of these successful and active ageing concepts Readers are invited to view them through the prism of Model Ageing a theory that throws light on the causes and consequences of attempts to model ageing as a phenomenon and stage of life that is in need of direction reshaping and control This is essential reading for anyone seeking to make sense of social constructions of ageing in contemporary societies

Successful Aging Sheung-Tak Cheng, Iris Chi, Helene H. Fung, Lydia W. Li, Jean Woo, 2015-01-26 This book brings together state of the art research on successful aging in Asian populations and highlights how the factors that contribute to successful aging differ from those in the West It examines the differences between the Asian and Western contexts in which the aging process unfolds including cultural values lifestyles physical environments and family structures In addition it examines the question of how to add quality to longer years of life Specifically it looks at ways to promote health preserve cognition maximize functioning with social support and maintain emotional well being despite inevitable declines and losses Compared to other parts of the world Asia will age more quickly as a result of the rapid socioeconomic developments leading to rising longevity and historically low fertility rates in some countries These demographic forces in vast populations such as China are expected to make Asia the main driver of global aging in the coming decades As a result researchers professionals policymakers as well as the commercial sector in both East and West are increasingly interested in gaining a deeper understanding of aging in Asia boomers and their dilemmas living wills and Alzheimer s disease The SAGE Handbook of Applied Social Psychology

Kieran C. O'Doherty, Darrin Hodgetts, 2019-01-14 In the present epoch of global change movement interconnection and the intensification of social issues within and across many societies applied social psychology is more relevant than ever The SAGE Handbook of Applied Social Psychology offers an overview of the field and the disparate and evolving approaches Through an international team of contributors the handbook brings prominent research literature together and organises it around ten key areas Part 01 Culture race indigeneity Part 02 Gender Sexuality Part 03 Politics Part 04 Health and mental health Part 05 Work Part 06 Ageing Part 07 Communication Part 08 Education Part 09 Environment Part 10 Criminal Justice Law Crime This handbook is a uniting and invigorating resource for the field of Applied Social Psychology Successful Ageing Patricia McCann Mortimer, 2010 Current mainstream models of successful ageing have received criticism in the literature especially Rowe and Kahn s 1987 model the most widely accepted theory of successful ageing in gerontology A key aim for the present study is to challenge the key mainstream theories of successful ageing This thesis asks whether the dominant perspectives on successful ageing can be challenged by directly consulting older women about how they see the roles of religion and spirituality in ageing well and by unpacking specific problems identified in the literature Criticisms include the lack of consultation with older people by successful ageing researchers A second issue is the negative way that the last phase of life or Fourth Age Laslett 1989 is represented in successful ageing theories and also in the field of gerontology and society generally The leading models of successful ageing from Rowe and Kahn and Baltes and Baltes 1990 postulate that successful ageing is contingent on certain capacities and that successful ageing comes to an end when health and good functioning or the capacity to employ adaptive strategies fails Hence life in very old age is represented as a picture of loss and decline with no positive prospects A third criticism relates to the lack of inclusion of religious and spiritual affiliations which may be important resources for psychological spiritual and existential well being particularly during the final phase of life This issue is investigated with participants identified as both spiritual and religious SR and as spiritual only and not religious SO Some researchers have argued that women do not age as well as men and that older women are usually less financially well off and in poorer health than their male counterparts across all levels of socio economic status Greene 2003 Smith Baltes 1998 The views of women were sought in order to contribute to balancing the gender scales of ageing well The focus in this research is on the views of women who are in midlife or older on successful ageing The research design of mixed models used qualitative data derived from focus groups and in depth individual interviews supplemented by quantitative data gained from surveys Three broad central themes encompassing participants views on successful ageing were identified Most participants viewed life as a journey of growth and development and for some this extended beyond poor health and functioning Autonomy was valued by most participants Relationships were also important and nearly all participants gained much personal satisfaction from generative activities consistent with the literature Some participants provided examples of successful ageing occurring in the final stages of life or Fourth Age Laslett 1989 A number regarded the current options for frail aged accommodation and end of life care with fear and dread These findings point to the need for researchers and policy makers to listen carefully to the voices of ageing people Based on participants comments there is a need for informed and tailored changes to be made in policy planning physical accommodation options and crucially to the training of those who work with older people The development of more positive whole of life theories of successful ageing is urgently required in order to counterbalance the dominant negative perspectives on the final phase of life The Palgrave Handbook of Age Diversity and Work Emma Parry, Jean McCarthy, 2016-11-26 This Handbook incorporates a variety of disciplines and approaches in order to provide a comprehensive and authoritative examination of the issues that result from increasing age diversity at work Despite interest in this area exploding over the past few years amongst academics practitioners and policy makers the analysis of age diversity has remained primarily within disciplinary silos such as Psychology or Sociology with a focus on ageing or generational differences rather than a combination of approaches to understanding age diversity Unique in its coverage of multiple perspectives it considers not only generational and ageing perspectives to age diversity but also highlights the importance of context in driving both the impact and response to this issue The Palgrave Handbook of Age Diversity and Work includes contributions from leading scholars in age and generational diversity from across the world discussing cutting edge research findings about the nature and impact of age diversity and presenting approaches to managing this phenomenon Ageing with a Lifelong Disability Christine Bigby, 2003-12-15 This pioneering guide provides up to date specialist knowledge about ageing with a disability in the context of the more mainstream knowledge about ageing processes Christine Bigby uses the concept of successful ageing as a framework in which to consider the issues and practicalities for older people with a lifelong disability Fostering Development in Midlife and Older Age Irina Catrinel Crăciun, 2023-02-22 This handbook integrates and discusses a growing evidence base concerning individual development across middle and late adulthood The book includes a comprehensive analysis of what growth implies within midlife and older age and considers how different developmental areas are intertwined i e physical cognitive social and emotional development as well as personality growth As the gap between theory and practice still constitutes an issue in developmental research the handbook also aims to provide illustrative examples of prevention and intervention from a positive psychology perspective These were selected to represent a variety of topics relevant for individual development where research informs practice ranging from happiness grandparenthood love and sexuality to loneliness depression anxiety suicide prevention and coping with death This handbook is a must have resource for students and researchers working in developmental psychology health psychology gerontology and public health It will also be of interest to practitioners such as counsellors life coaches psychotherapists organizational psychologists health professionals social workers or public health planners Handbook of the Psychology of Aging, 2021-07-17 Handbook of the Psychology of Aging Ninth Edition tackles both the biological and environmental influences on behavior and the reciprocal interface between changes in the brain and behavior that span the adult lifespan This information is very important to many features of daily life from workplace to family and in public policy matters It is complex and new questions are continually raised about how behavior changes with age Providing perspectives on the behavioral science of aging for diverse disciplines the handbook explains how the role of behavior is organized and how it changes over the course of life Along with parallel advances in research methodology it explicates in great detail patterns and sub patterns of behavior over the lifespan and how it affects biological health and social interactions Covers preclinical neuropathology Examines age and sex differences in the process of aging Considers financial decision making and capacity Explores mental health issues related to death and dying Discusses technology for older adults

This volume is the first collection of papers dealing with linguistic taboo from that perspective. The volume gathers 15 chapters which provide novel insights into a broad range of taboo phenomena: euphemism, dysphemism, swearing, political correctness, coprolalia etc. from the fields of sexuality, diseases, death, war, ageing or religion.
