Gallivan, 2018-09-17 Southern Anthropological Society James Mooney Award As Native American history is primarily studied through the lens of European contact, the story of Virginia's Powhatans has traditionally focused on the English arrival in the Chesapeake. This has left a deeper indigenous history largely unexplored, a longer narrative beginning with the Algonquians' construction of places, communities, and the connections in between. The Powhatan Landscape breaks new ground by tracing Native placemaking in the Chesapeake from the Algonquian arrival to the Powhatan's clashes with the English. Martin Gallivan details how Virginia Algonquians constructed riverine communities alongside fishing grounds and collective burials, and later within horticultural towns. Ceremonial spaces, including earthwork enclosures, within the center place of

Werowocomoco gathered people for centuries prior to 1607 Even after the violent ruptures of the colonial era Native people returned to riverine towns for pilgrimages commemorating the enduring power of place For today s American Indian communities in the Chesapeake this reexamination of landscape and history represents a powerful basis from which to contest narratives and policies that have previously denied their existence A volume in the series Society and Ecology in Island and Coastal Archaeology edited by Victor D Thompson The Garden ,1874 Integrated Landscapes in Policy, Practice and Everyday Life Kathryn Moore,Anastasia Nikologianni,Alex Albans,Paul Cureton,2025-06-27 Exploring the ways in which an integrated landscape vision can help deliver regional national and international agendas this book investigates how a new idea of landscape can reimagine governance policy economics culture identity health transport and development priorities by connecting in a more powerful and meaningful way with local aspirations and demands Developed in fieldwork undertaken over the last decade the capacity of a landscape led approach to deal with problems such as rapid urbanisation water and food security climate change air pollution and health is both timely and topical Divided into three main sections it includes illustrated case studies from the UK Europe East Asia South Asia and more As part of a strategy to capture build and disseminate expertise in this approach the book aims to develop an interdisciplinary body of work that will appeal to academics and professionals by bringing together a number of contributors who are operating at the cutting edge of landscape led large scale transformation This book is essential for practitioners and academics of landscape architecture as well as students in the architecture and design fields Plant Evolution in the Mediterranean John D. Thompson,2020-08-21 Since the first edition of this book published in 2005 there has been an immense amount of new and fascinating work on the history ecology and evolution of the Mediterranean flora During this time human impacts have continued to increase dramatically significantly influencing both the ecology and evolution of the region s biota This timely and comprehensive update of the original text integrates a diverse and scattered literature to produce a synthetic account of Mediterranean plant evolutionary ecology It maintains the accessible style of its previous version whilst incorporating recent work in a new structural framework This is not a traditional plant science book per se but a novel integration of history ecology biogeography and evolution all set in the context of a dramatically increasing human footprint There is a particular emphasis on the role of human activities as an ecological factor and their subsequent impact on plant evolution Conversely it demonstrates how an understanding of the evolutionary ecology of the region s flora can be used to provide insights into its future conservation and management Plant Evolution in the Mediterranean is aimed at all those who are interested in the biology of the Mediterranean region whether it is taxonomy ecology evolution conservation policy and management or the regional history of its biodiversity in general It will be of relevance and use to all graduate students and researchers of Mediterranean type ecosystem ecology and geography as well as professional ecologists evolutionary biologists conservation biologists and environmental practitioners requiring a concise authoritative overview of the topic General Technical
