Sudan The Gezira Scheme And Agricultural Transition:

Sudan Abbas Abdelkarim, Tony Barnett, 2013-12-16 The authors propose that the Gezira scheme has played a paradoxical role in the capitalist transformation of the Sudan reinforcing some non capitalist production relations while at the same time acting as an engine for the peripheral capitalist development

Improvising Planned Development on the Gezira Plain, Sudan, 1900-1980 Maurits W. Ertzen, 2015-11-04 The typical image of the Gezira Scheme the large scale irrigation scheme started under British colonial rule in Sudan is of a centrally planned effort by a central colonial power controlling tenants and cotton production However any idea l s of planned irrigation and profit in Gezira had to be realized by African farmers and European officials who both had their own agendas Projects like Gezira are best understood in terms of continuous negotiations This book rewrites Gezira s history in terms of colonial control farmers actions and resistance and the broader development debate

Frontiers of Medicine in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, 1899-1940 Heather Bell, 1999-06-10 Much recent work on the history of colonial medicine argues that medicine was the handmaiden of colonial power and of capitalism Dr Bell challenges this interpretation through careful investigation of the complicated relationship between medicine politics and capital in the Anglo Egyptian Sudan Subverting the accepted wisdom that colonial medicine consisted primarily of white male doctors treating black patients Dr Bell highlights the important role of women and of African and non European practitioners of Western medicine She moves beyond the realm of medical practice to consider the relationship between medical research and colonial power And she argues that a new international medicine emerged during the interwar period modifying and even supplanting existing colonial relationships Frontiers of Medicine examines the physical epidemiological and professional boundaries that endlessly preoccupies colonial officials Emphasising the tenuousness of colonial power it includes chapters on midwifery training and female circumcision on health and racial ideology and on the quest to find the yellow fever virus in East Africa Accepted wisdom maintains that colonial medicine consisted primarily of white doctors treating black patients that it was mainly about medical practice and that it was driven by colonial relationships Dr Bell subverts these notions with detailed evidence of the participation of women and native Africans as trained medical personnel in the Anglo Egyptian Sudan and demonstrates the tenuousness of colonial power in practice There are chapters on midwifery training and female circumcision on health and racial ideology and on the quest to find yellow fever virus in East Africa Dr Bell also investigates the relationship between colonial power and medical research arguing that a new international medicine emerged during the inter war period

Historical Dictionary of the Sudan Robert S. Kramer, Richard A. Lobban Jr., Carolyn Fluehr-Lobban, 2013-03-22 The Republic of the Sudan was long the largest country in Africa and according to the general consensus also one of the least successful in many ways This was not entirely its fault since it lay along the fault line between Muslim and Christian Africa and between the Nile Valley civilizations and African Sudanic cultures This partly explains the long and bloody warfare waged by the Southerners to achieve independence which they did in July 2011 So this hefty book actually covers not one but two states This fourth edition of the Historical Dictionary of the Sudan does so first through a lengthy and detailed chronology tracing its relatively few successes and numerous failures The introductory essay does an admirable job of putting it all in perspective But the most informative part is the dictionary with now over 700 entries for this fourth edition They deal with important personalities politics the economy society culture religion and inevitably the civil war There are also appendixes and an extensive bibliography

Weaving the Social Networks of Women Migrants in Sudan Awatif Ata Elmannan Elageed, 2008 The Gezira Scheme GS area in the central Sudan is considered a melting pot for migrants of different origins and whose lives are intertwined with the Scheme land This book offers a qualitative analysis of social networks of women migrants of different origins and age groups who are engaged in the agricultural labour force of the GS It looks at the social interactions the diversity of social processes and the functions and functioning of social networks of women that shape their everyday life Special emphasis is given to the means by which women get work opportunities and undertake work negotiations Strategies that women apply to solve problems arising at work and in their private sphere are explored The differential responses concerning ethnicity based differences are analysed A combination of social networks theory and an actor oriented perspective both framed in constructivist terms guided the analysis To illustrate the complete picture of gendered social realities additional notions such as social security and social capital are introduced Evidence shows that women are actors and acquire agency and their social networks serve multiple purposes and facilitate a wide range of settings Examining the social networks by drawing upon a sociological approach provides new insights into the social networks theory and postulates additions to the actor oriented approach and proposes new contributions to both theories

Technology and Transition Abdelkader Djeflat, Girma Zawdie, 2014-01-14 The Maghreb countries had a promising start in economic growth after independence For the most part they thrived on industrialisation by import substitution but unfortunately this strategy left them with macroeconomic and structural imbalances which together have effectively constrained their ability to compete in the world economic system and to catch up with the rapidly changing global techno economic circumstances Issues relating to aspects of technology transfer to the

Maghreb strategies for technological and resource development and the integration of education and R D systems with the productive systems of the economies in the region are discussed along with relevant cases from Mexico China South Korea India and Bangladesh

War and Underdevelopment: Country experiences Frances Stewart, Edmund Valpy Knox Fitzgerald, 2001 This series traces the economic and social consequences of conflict both theoretically and through empirical investigations including seven country case studies

Making Water Security Hermen Smit, 2020-02-04 This book examines Nile water security through the morphology of the river it uses the always changing form of the river as a theoretical and empirical device to map and understand how infrastructures and discourses dynamically interact with the Nile By bringing a history of two centuries of dam development on the Nile in relation with the drainage of a hill slope in Ethiopia on the one hand and irrigation reform in Sudan on the other the author shows how the scales units and populations figuring in projects to securitize the river emerge through the rearrangement of its water and sediments The analysis of Making water security is more than yet another story of how modern projects of water security have legitimized often violent dispossessions of Nile land and water It shows how no water user is confined by the roles assigned by project engineers and planners As ongoing modern development of the river reduces the prospects for new large diversions of water the targeted subjects of development and modernization make use of newly opened spaces to carve out their own projects They creatively mobilize old irrigation and drainage infrastructures in ways that escape the universal logic of water security

Capitalism and Development Leslie Sklair, 2002-09-11 This collection draws together a distinguished group of authors to explore how capitalism contributes to the development and underdevelopment of the Third World It provides a superb overview of key concepts such as capitalism development modernization and dependency

Mohamed Elamin,1993 Kordofan Invaded Endre Stiansen,Michael Kevane,1998 The book will be of interest to scholars of Africa and Islam because of its novel focus on regional institutions and their relation to state structures

Kordofan Invaded Stiansen,Kevane,2021-10-11 This volume addresses economic change regional politics and Islamisation in Kordofan a large province in the Sudan Kordofan s history is characterised by resistance and adaptation to expanding states and market forces causing both sectoral transformation and stagnation The contributions in different ways examine the interplay between local and invading institutions and include studies of Kordofan as a terra media between Darfur and Sinnar international trade in the nineteenth century the Mahdist revolt the Anglo Egyptian Condominium with particular reference to land tenure and tribal identity Kordofan in Sudanese nationalist poetry local politics in the Nuba Mountains and the conflict between religious orthodoxy and local practice The book will be of interest to scholars of Africa and Islam because of its novel focus on regional institutions and their relation to the state structures This edited volume explores the history social structure and economy of Kordofan in the Sudan Representing several academic disciplines each chapter is concerned with the long term incorporation through invasions of the region into wider socio political and economic structures The Post-Colonial State and Civil War in Sudan Noah R. Bassil,2015-08-25 Since 2003 the ongoing violence and subsequent humanitarian crisis in Darfur has attracted significant international media attention Here Noah R Bassil offers a re conception of the conflict in Darfur by examining the origins and progression of the conflict through the broader issue of state failure in postcolonial Sudan By moving away from a localised view of the conflict Bassil is able to demonstrate the extent to which the breakdown of social relations in Darfur is interconnected with the wider breakdown of Sudanese and post colonial societies more broadly offering a definitive study of the nexus between international national and local forces and providing a coherent framework for understanding the causes of the civil war that erupted in the Darfur region of Sudan in 2003 The Post Colonial State and Civil War in Sudan offers a thorough examination of the historical development of the Sudanese state from an analysis of the colonial state structure to the post colonial state struggles and from the failure of the state led development project to the impact these had on the Darfur region It therefore demonstrates how Sudan s political instability recurrent civil wars and crisis of identity provide an important context for understanding why Darfur became the location of a major rebellion against the government in 2003 and in fact created the very conditions for conflict in Darfur Looking forward towards peace in post colonial societies Bassil urges the abandonment of neo liberal policies and a return to an international system that is based on building state capacity and state legitimacy as the most effective mechanisms for rebuilding political and social relations in regions that have suffered crises in the post colonial state Rather than examining Darfur as a sui generis conflict through the analysis here it becomes evident that in fact the events in Darfur are far from unusual but part of the wider contemporary demise of the post colonial state building project This book therefore provides a unique examination of the conflict and the wider postcolonial situation making it an important contribution to the fields of History International Relations and Peace Studies International Bibliography of Economics British Library of Political and Economic Science,1993 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences

Property and Political Order in Africa Catherine Boone,2014-02-10 In sub Saharan Africa property relationships around land and access to natural resources vary across localities districts and farming regions These differences produce patterned variations in relationships between individuals communities and the state This book captures these patterns in an analysis of structure and variation in rural land tenure regimes In most farming areas state authority is deeply embedded in land regimes drawing farmers ethnic insiders and outsiders lineages villages and communities into direct and indirect relationships with political authorities at different levels of the state apparatus The analysis shows how property institutions institutions that define political authority and hierarchy around land shape dynamics of great interest to scholars of politics including the dynamics of land related competition and conflict territorial conflict patron client relations electoral cleavage and mobilization ethnic politics rural rebellion and the localization and nationalization of political competition

The Genocide-Ecocide Nexus Damien Short,Martin Crook,2022-02-09 In a world gripped by an ever worsening ecological crisis there are present and increasing genocidal pressures on many culturally distinct social groups such as indigenous peoples This is where the genocide ecocide nexus presents itself The destruction of ecosystems ecocide can be a method of genocide if for example environmental destruction results in conditions of life that fundamentally threaten a social group s cultural and or physical existence Given the looming threat of runaway climate change the attendant rapid extinction of species destruction of habitats ecological collapse and the self evident dependency of the human race on our bio sphere ecocide both natural and manmade will become a primary driver of genocide Through nine chapters of cutting edge research this book examines specific case studies in geographical settings such as Iraq Sudan Nigeria and Brazil to highlight and analyse the crucial connections and vectors of the genocide ecocide nexus This book will be of great value to scholars students and researchers interested in the ecological crisis Environmental Justice the political economy of genocide and ecocide as well as environmental human rights The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of The Journal of Genocide Research Beyond Cultural Imperialism Peter Golding,Phil Harris,1996-12-17 Moving beyond notions of cultural imperialism this book furthers our understanding of the implications of global media culture and politics in the 1990s Leading scholars from a range of fields bring different perspectives to bear on the role of the state the range of culture beyond the media the contribution of international organizations and the potential for resistance and alternatives They reflect on the New World International Communications Order as delineated since the 1970s and examine its changing nature Throughout they connect analysis of the flows and forces which form the world media and communications with the fundamental themes of social science and illuminate the ways in which underlying questions of inequality power and control reappear within new media environments
