The Archaeology of Vernacular Watercraft Amanda M. Evans,2016-04-19 This volume presents multiple idiographic archaeological studies of vernacular watercraft from North America and the Caribbean Rather than attempt to synthesize all vernacular types this volume focuses on ship construction data recovered through archaeological investigations that has been used to make inferences about culture This collection of case studies including many examples from cultural resource management and graduate student theses presents a thematic exploration of cultural adaptation as expressed through ship construction The Oxford History of the British Empire: Volume III: The Nineteenth Century Andrew Porter,2001-07-26 The Oxford History of the British Empire is a major new assessment of the Empire in the light of recent scholarship and the progressive opening of historical records From the founding of colonies in North America and the West Indies in the seventeenth century to the reversion of Hong Kong to China at the end of the twentieth British imperialism was a catalyst for far reaching change The Oxford History of the British Empire as a comprehensive study helps us to understand the end of Empire in relation to its beginning the meaning of British imperialism for the ruled as well as for the rulers and the significance of the British Empire as a theme in world history Volume III of The Oxford History of the British Empire covers the long nineteenth century from the achievement of American independence in the 1780s to the eve of world war in 1914 This was the period of Britain s greatest expansion as both empire builder and dominant world power The volume is divided into two parts The first contains thematic chapters some focusing on Britain others on areas at the imperial periphery exploring those fundamental dynamics of British expansion which made imperial influence and rule possible They also examine the economic cultural and institutional frameworks which gave shape to Britain s overseas empire Part 2 is devoted to the principal areas of imperial activity overseas including both white settler and tropical colonies Chapters examine how British interests and imperial rule shaped individual regions nineteenth century political and socio economic history Themes dealt with include the economics of empire imperial institutions defence technology imperial and colonial cultures science and exploration Attention is given not only to the formal empire from Australasia and the West Indies to India and the African colonies but also to China and Latin America often regarded as central components of a British informal empire The Transformation of Maritime Professions Karel Davids,Joost Schokkenbroek,2023-04-30 This book deals with the economic impact of technological changes and the rise of passenger shipping on social relations on board and ashore in

European shipping industries between c 1850 and 2000 The changes in motive power communication techniques and positioning technologies and the rise of passenger shipping went together with the creation of new tasks and functions and the marginalization or disappearance of traditional jobs and skills This book presents case studies on changes in different maritime professions between the middle of the nineteenth century and the end of the twentieth century covering the shipping industries of a variety of seafaring countries in Europe The subjects include changes in maritime labour at large changes in specific groups of deck catering or engine room personnel such as captains cooks catering personnel engineers or radio operators A number of chapters employ a prosopographical or micro historical approach while others apply a spatial perspective analyze business records materials from professional associations or distil information from large sets of quantitative data This book will be of interest to academics and students of economic history maritime and labour history

Mediterranean Seafarers in Transition ,2022-10-17 This volume discusses the effects of industrialization on maritime trade labour and communities in the Mediterranean and Black Sea from the 1850s to the 1920s The 17 essays are based on new evidence from multiple type of primary sources on the transition from sail to steam navigation written in a variety of languages Italian Spanish French Greek Russian and Ottoman Questions that arise in the book include the labour conditions wages career and retirement of seafarers the socio economic and spatial transformations of the maritime communities and the changes in the patterns of operation ownership and management in the shipping industry with the advent of steam navigation The book offers a comparative analysis of the above subjects across the Mediterranean while also proposes unexplored themes in current scholarship like the history of navigation Contributors are Luca Lo Basso Andrea Zappia Leonardo Scavino Daniel Muntane Eduard Page Campos Enric Garcia Domingo Katerina Galani Alkiviadis Kapokakis Petros Kastrinakis Kalliopi Vasilaki Pavlos Fafalios Georgios Samaritakis Kostas Petrakis Korina Doerr Athina Kritsotaki Anastasia Axaridou and Martin Doerr

Maritime Science and Technology: Changing Our World Nigel Watson,2015-01-01 This book addresses some key questions Did the marine sector drive the developing technologies Or did it just adopt them It would appear that the former is the case as the industry has moved from sail to steam from steam to internal combustion engines from wood to steel and to increasing sizes and types of specialist vessels the pioneers of naval architects and marine engineers have applied the latest technologies and our global society has benefited

British and French Colonialism in Africa, Asia and the Middle East James R. Fichter,2019-08-02 This book examines the connections between the British Empire and French colonialism in war peace and the various stages of competitive cooperation between in which the two empires were often fr res ennemis It argues that in crucial ways the British and French colonial empires influenced each other Chapters in the volume consider the two empires connections in North West and Central Africa as well as their entanglement at sea in the Mediterranean Sea Persian Gulf and South China Sea Also analysed are their mutual engagement with Islam in both the Hajj and various religiously inflected colonial revolts their mutually informed systems of administration in the New Hebrides and generally and the interconnected ways the two empires fought World War II and decolonization By uniting historians of France and her colonies with historians of Britain and her colonies this volume speaks to a broad
