

Key thoughts about Learning to Forward!

In many Latin American nations, property prices were one of the assets most affected by the global financial crisis. Moreover, they have increased markedly in value in cities, and in the numerous other markets in real estate markets, government bonds and commodity prices, property has once again become valued as something of a safe haven for a number of investors. The research from University of Cambridge Economics and Global Property Guide, looks at each of the 27 EU member states from a property investment perspective.
