Stuffing The Ballot Box Fraud Electoral Reform And Democratization In Costa Rica:

Stuffing the Ballot Box Fabrice E. Lehoucq, Ivan Molina, 2002-06-13 Stuffing the Ballot Box is a pioneering study of electoral fraud and reform. It focuses on Costa Rica, a country where parties gradually transformed a fraud-ridden political system into one renowned for its stability and fair elections by the mid-twentieth century. Lehoucq and Molina draw upon a unique database of more than 1,300 accusations of ballot rigging to show that parties denounced fraud where electoral laws made the struggle for power more competitive. They explain how institutional arrangements generated opportunities for executives to assemble legislative coalitions to enact far-reaching reforms. This book also argues that nonpartisan commissions should run elections and explains why splitting responsibility over election affairs between the executive and the legislature is a recipe for partisan rancour and political conflict. Stuffing the Ballot Box will interest a broad array of political and social scientists, constitutional scholars, historians, election specialists, and policy makers interested in electoral fraud and institutional reform.

Inequality and Democratization Ben W. Ansell, David J. Samuels, 2014-12-18 Research on the economic origins of democracy and dictatorship has shifted away from the impact of growth and turned toward the question of how different patterns of growth, equal or unequal, shape regime change. This book offers a new theory of the historical relationship between economic modernization and the emergence of democracy on a global scale, focusing on the effects of land and income inequality. Contrary to most mainstream arguments, Ben W. Ansell and David J. Samuels suggest that democracy is more likely to emerge when rising yet politically disenfranchised groups demand more influence because they have more to lose rather than when threats of redistribution to elite interests are low.

From Open Secrets to Secret Voting Isabela Mares, 2015-06-17 This book presents an account of the adoption of electoral reforms democratizing electoral practices in nineteenth-century European countries.

Why Elections Fail Pippa Norris, 2015-07-08 This volume compares international and institutional accounts as alternative perspectives to explain why elections fail to meet international standards.

Regional Economic Voting Joshua A. Tucker, 2006-01-09 This study demonstrates that in a time of massive change, characterized by the emergence of entirely new political systems and a fundamental reorganization of economic life, systematic patterns of economic conditions affecting election results at the aggregate level can in fact be identified during the first decade of post-communist elections in five post-communist countries: Russia, Poland, Hungary, Slovakia, and the Czech Republic. A variety of theoretical arguments concerning the conditions in which these effects are more or less likely to be present are also proposed and tested. Analysis is conducted using an original data set of regional-level economic, demographic, and electoral indicators and features both broadly based comparative assessments of the findings across all twenty elections as well as more focused case study analyses of pairs of individual elections.

Legislative Voting and Accountability John M. Carey, 2008-12-15 Legislatures are the core representative institutions in modern democracies. Citizens want legislatures to be decisive and they want accountability, but they are frequently disillusioned with the representation legislators deliver Political parties can provide decisiveness in legislatures and they may provide collective accountability but citizens and political reformers frequently demand another type of accountability from legislators at the individual level Can legislatures provide both kinds of accountability This book considers what collective and individual accountability require and provides the most extensive cross national analysis of legislative voting undertaken to date It illustrates the balance between individualistic and collective representation in democracies and how party unity in legislative voting shapes that balance In addition to quantitative analysis of voting patterns the book draws on extensive field and archival research to provide an extensive assessment of legislative transparency throughout the Americas Historical framework for analyzing voter choice examining three electoral arenas parliamentary presidential and federal Electoral Politics and Africa's Urban Transition Noah L. Nathan, 2019-02-28 Two aspects of contemporary urban life in Africa are often described as sources of political change the emergence of a large urban middle class and high levels of ethnic diversity and inter ethnic social contact Many expected that these factors would help spark a transition away from ethnic competition and clientelism toward more programmatic elections Focusing on urban Ghana this book shows that the growing middle class and high levels of ethnic diversity are not having the anticipated political effects Instead urban Ghana is stuck in a trap clientelism and ethnic voting persist in many urban neighborhoods despite changes to the socio economic characteristics and policy preferences of voters Through a unique examination of intra urban variation in patterns of electoral competition Nathan explains why this trap exists demonstrates its effects on political behavior and explores how new democracies like Ghana can move past it Mexico's Democracy at Work Russell Crandall, Guadalupe Paz, Riordan Roett, 2005 A concise overview of political and economic developments in Mexico highlighting the challenges posed by the country's recent democratic breakthrough Democratic Practice and Governance in Nigeria Ebenezer Oluwale Oni, Omololu Michael Fagbadebo, Dhikru Adewale Yagboyaju, 2020-06-08 This book examines the challenges confronting the practice of democracy and governance in Nigeria The book examines the theoretical underpinnings and the procedural and institutional components of democratic practice in Nigeria including the challenges associated with elections the legislature the media and gender issues Approaching the pluralistic characteristics of the Nigerian state and how they impede democratisation through contributions by experts and scholars in the field the book analyses the issues and nuances inherent to governance and democracy in Nigeria as well as domestic policy process global governance and human security Democratic Practice and Governance in Nigeria will be of interest to students and scholars of African politics and democratisation Opposing Power Elvin Jiayun Ong, 2022-05-17 Opposing Power argues that perceptions of regime vulnerability and mutual dependency by opposition elites shape the building of opposition alliances When electoral autocracies are consistently dominant opposition parties eschew fully fledged alliances At best they allocate only one candidate to contest against the incumbent in each subnational electoral district to avoid splitting the opposition vote However when multiple regime debilitating events strike within a short period of time thus pushing an incumbent to the precipice of power opposition elites expect victory accepting costly compromises to build alliances and seize power Opposing Power shows how oppositions build these alliances through case study comparisons in East and Southeast Asia between the Philippines and South Korea in the late 1980s and between Malaysia and Singapore from 1965 to 2020 The Political Logic of Poverty Relief Alberto Diaz-Cayeros, Federico Estévez, Beatriz Magaloni, 2016-02-26 The Political Logic of Poverty Relief places electoral politics and institutional design at the core of poverty alleviation The authors develop a theory with applications to Mexico about how elections shape social programs aimed at aiding the poor They also assess whether voters reward politicians for targeted poverty alleviation

Who Speaks for the Poor? Karen Long Jusko, 2017-08-29

Who Speaks for the Poor explains why parties represent some groups and not others. This book focuses attention on the electoral geography of income and how it has changed over time to account for cross-national differences in the political and partisan representation of low-income voters. Jusko develops a general theory of new party formation that shows how changes in the geographic distribution of groups across electoral districts create opportunities for new parties to enter elections, especially where changes favor groups previously excluded from local partisan networks. Empirical evidence is drawn first from a broadly comparative analysis of all new party entry and then from a series of historical case studies, each focusing on the strategic entry incentives of new low-income peoples' parties. Jusko offers a new explanation for the absence of a low-income people's party in the USA and a more general account of political inequality in contemporary democratic societies.
