Few full length studies exist in English on French speaking authors from Belgium What if any are the particular features of francophone Belgian writing This book explores questions of cultural and literary identity and offers an overview of currents in critical debate regarding the place of francophone Belgian writing and its relationship to its larger neighbour but also engages with broader questions concerning the classification of francophone literature The study brings together well known and less well known modern and contemporary writers Suzanne Lilar Neel Doff Dominique Rolin Jacqueline Harpman Fran oise Mallet Joris Jean Muno Nicole Malinconi and Am lie Nothomb whose works share a number of recurring themes and features notably a preoccupation with questions of identity and alterity Overall the study highlights the diverse ways in which these questions of cultural identity and alterity emerge as a dominant theme throughout the corpus

Aimer et mourir Eilene Hoft-March, Judith Holland Sarnecki, 2009-01-23 Aimer et Mourir offers a wide ranging selection of essays that collectively address how from the Middle Ages to the present the notions of love and death get inextricably associated with the narratives that are women's lives Some of the essays tackle male writers representations that link women and in particular women's sexuality with death resulting in the figures of the femme fatale the woman in parturition and the desiring vampire A number of essays reiterate that women's hyper sexualized bodies have been used as a social construct and a psychological screen upon which to project a fear of death The challenges to this pat reduction of woman's domain come from the mostly women writers represented here and they span from Marguerite de Navarre to Am lie Nothomb These women writers rework the old formulae giving us instead death defying memories of love love regenerative of language as of bodies love forcing the frontiers of death or love creatively redefined within the parameters of death Nor are these new narratives imagined as belonging to women alone but rather as attesting to a richer more varied and greatly sensitized human experience

Under Foreign Eyes James King, 2012-02-24 This book is about the perception of Japan in the sixty films set there by gaijin foreigners outsiders who almost always do not speak or read Japanese My area of attention is directed to films depicting post World War II Japan and the Japanese and in many cases films showing how foreigners in the same time frame respond to Japan Why have a substantial number of films been set there by strangers As a body of work what do they tell us about contemporary Japan and about cinema These films certainly provide a new cultural history of the West's reaction to Japan but even more they are constructions that demonstrate how the West gazes at Japan As such more information can often be derived about the onlookers as on those looked upon
