Indigenous Communities and Settler Colonialism Z. Laidlaw, Alan Lester, 2015-03-30 The new world created through Anglophone emigration in the 19th century has been much studied But there have been few accounts of what this meant for the Indigenous populations This book shows that Indigenous communities tenaciously held land in the midst of dispossession whilst becoming interconnected through their struggles to do so Indigenous Networks Jane Carey, Jane Lydon, 2014-06-27 This edited collection argues for the importance of recovering Indigenous participation within global networks of imperial power and wider histories of transnational connections It takes up a crucial challenge for new imperial and transnational histories to explore the historical role of colonized and subaltern communities in these processes and their legacies in the present Bringing together prominent and emerging scholars who have begun to explore Indigenous networks and transnational encounters and to consider the broader significance of extra local connections exchanges and mobility for Indigenous peoples this work engages closely with some of the key historical scholarship on transnationalism and the networks of European imperialism Chapters deploy a range of analytic scales including global regional and intra Indigenous networks and methods including histories of ideas and cultural forms and biography as well as exploring contemporary legacies In drawing these perspectives together this book charts an important new direction in research In Good Faith?

Jessie Mitchell, 2011-01-01 In the early decades of the 19th century Indigenous Australians suffered devastating losses at the hands of British colonists who largely ignored their sovereignty and even their humanity At the same time however a new wave of Christian humanitarians were arriving in the colonies troubled by Aboriginal suffering and arguing that colonists had

Social Determinants of Indigenous Health Bronwyn Carson, Terry Dunbar, Richard D Chenhall, Ross Bailie, 2020-07-16 The opportunities and comfortable lifestyle available to most Australians have been denied to generations of Indigenous people As a result some of Australia s original inhabitants suffer from what has been described as Fourth World standards of health This is out of place in a country that prides itself on egalitarianism and a fair go for all Shifting the focus from individual behaviour to the social and political circumstances that influence people s lives and ultimately their health helps us to understand the origins of poor health It can also guide action to bring about change Social Determinants of Indigenous Health offers a systematic overview of the relationship between the social and political environment and health Highly respected contributors from around Australia examine the long term health impacts of the Indigenous experience of dispossession colonial rule and racism They also explore the role of factors such as poverty class community and social capital education employment and housing They scrutinise the social dynamics of making policy for Indigenous Australians and the interrelation between human rights and health Finally they outline a framework for effective health interventions which take social factors into consideration This is a groundbreaking work developed in consultation with Indigenous health professionals and researchers It is essential reading for anyone working in Indigenous health

BOYD Royal Yacht Squadron Slaver Ruling the World Alan Lester, Kate Boehme, Peter Mitchell, 2021-01-07 Ruling the World tells the story of how the largest and most diverse empire in history was governed everywhere and all at once Focusing on some of the most tumultuous years of Queen Victoria's reign Alan Lester Kate Boehme and Peter Mitchell adopt an entirely new perspective to explain how the men in charge of the British Empire sought to manage simultaneous events across the globe Using case studies including Canada South Africa the Caribbean Australia India and Afghanistan they reveal how the empire represented a complex series of trade offs between Parliament's colonial governors colonists and colonised peoples agendas They also highlight the compromises that these men made as they adapted their ideals of freedom civilization and liberalism to the realities of an empire imposed through violence and governed in the interests of Britons

Colonization and the Origins of Humanitarian Governance Alan Lester, Fae Dussart, 2014-04-17 How did those responsible for creating Britain's nineteenth century settler empire render colonization compatible with humanitarianism Avoiding a cynical or celebratory response this book takes seriously the humane disposition of colonial officials examining the relationship between humanitarian governance and empire The story of humane colonial governance connects projects of emancipation amelioration conciliation protection and development in sites ranging from British Honduras through Van Diemen's Land and New South Wales New Zealand and Canada to India It is seen in the lives of governors like George Arthur and George Grey whose careers saw the violent and destructive colonization of indigenous peoples at the hands of British emigrants The story challenges the exclusion of officials humanitarian sensibilities from colonial history and places the settler colonies within the larger historical context of Western humanitarianism How They Fought Ray Kerkhove, The history of Australia's Frontier Wars is becoming a hot topic for debate and research It is now part of our national educational syllabus However there are very few books available which explain in detail the modes of warfare First Australians applied during the Frontier Wars How They Fought is written as an introductory guidebook It is broken into chapters covering organisation strategies weaponry and defences The book considers both traditional practices and technological and tactical adaptations To make this complex topic more accessible How They Fought includes numerous tables figures and diagrams that illustrate and summarize the contents Dogs Brandi Bethke, Amanda Burt, 2020-03-31 This volume offers a rich archaeological portrait of the human canine connection Contributors investigate the ways people have viewed and valued dogs in different cultures around the world and across the ages Case studies from North and South America the Arctic Australia and Eurasia present evidence for dogs in roles including pets guards hunters and herders In these chapters faunal analysis from the Ancient Near East suggests that dogs contributed to public health by scavenging garbage and remains from a Roman temple indicate that dogs were offered as sacrifices in purification rites Essays also chronicle the complex partnership between Aboriginal peoples and the dingo and describe how the hunting abilities of dogs made them valuable assets for Indigenous groups in the Amazon rainforest The volume draws on multidisciplinary methods that include

zooarchaeological analysis scientific techniques such as dental microwear isotopic and DNA analyses and the integration of history ethnography multispecies scholarship and traditional cultural knowledge to provide an in depth account of dogs lives Showing that dogs have been a critical ally for humankind through cooperation and companionship over thousands of years this volume broadens discussions about how relationships between people and animals have shaped our world Contributors Brandi Bethke Kate Britton Amanda Burt Larisa R G DeSantis Melanie Fillios Emily Lena Jones Loukas Koungoulos Robert Losey Edouard Masson Maclean Ellen McManus Fry Victoria Monagle Victoria Moses Angela R Perri Nerissa Russell Peter W Stahl A Successful Failure Edgar Morrison, Geoff Morrison, 2002-12 This book tells of the Aboriginal Protectorate system in Colonial Victoria between 1838 1852 This volume is a reprint of 3 separate publications Early Days in the Loddon Valley Frontier Life in the Loddon Protectorat eand The Loddon Aborigines White Women, Aboriginal Missions and Australian Settler Governments Joanna Cruickshank, Patricia Grimshaw, 2019-05-15 In White Women Aboriginal Missions and Australian Settler Governments Joanna Cruickshank and Patricia Grimshaw provide the first detailed study of the central part that white women played in missions to Aboriginal people in Australia As Aboriginal people experienced violent dispossession through settler invasion white mission women were positioned as mothers who could protect nurture and civilise Aboriginal people In this position missionary women found themselves continuously navigating the often contradictory demands of their own intentions of Aboriginal expectations and of settler government policies Through detailed studies that draw on rich archival sources this book provides a new perspective on the history of missions in Australia and also offers new frameworks for understanding the exercise of power by missionary women in colonial contexts A Dumping Ground Thom Blake, 2001 Cherbourg settlement was a home to many But it was never the haven the Queensland government intended By the end of the 19th century at the height of Queensland s Aboriginal protectionist policy practice the idea of establishing two government controlled Aboriginal reserves at either end of the state was nearing realisation The reserve established in Queensland s south began as Barambah in 1901 and was later renamed Cherbourg Variouslly described as bold well meaning and misguided it was a social experiment in institutional control that was to impact on the lives of thousands of Aboriginal families in ways that continue to this day In this revealing first ever publication on Cherbourg Settlement s history 1900 1940 Thom Blake adds the vital dimension of interviews with former residents Supported by maps archival documents and letters this book illustrates an Aboriginal reserve s evolution under government practice It also explores the dynamics of cultural resilience through the generations Johann Friedrich Blumenbach Nicolaas Rupke, Gerhard Lauer, 2018-07-11 The major significance of the German naturalist physician Johann Friedrich Blumenbach 1752 1840 as a topic of historical study is the fact that he was one of the first anthropologists to investigate humankind as part of natural history Moreover Blumenbach was and continues to be a central figure in debates about race and racism How exactly did Blumenbach define race and races What were his scientific criteria And which cultural values did he bring to bear on his scheme Little historical work has been done on Blumenbach's fundamental influential race work From his own time till today several different pronouncements have been made by either followers or opponents some accusing Blumenbach of being the fountainhead of scientific racism By contrast across early nineteenth century Europe not least in France Blumenbach was lionized as an anti racist whose work supported the unity of humankind and the abolition of slavery This collection of essays considers how with Blumenbach and those around him the study of natural history and by extension that of science came to dominate the Western discourse of race
