Sudan, Civil War and Terrorism, 1956-99 E. O'Ballance, 2000-08-23 Sudan the largest country in Africa became independent in 1956 to find it had a foot in both the Arab Muslim and the Black African camps Almost immediately a sixteen year civil war began ending with autonomy for the South which devolved into chaos A second southern revolution broke out in 1983 when the government introduced the Sharia law which is still in progress the impasse halted only by an uneasy cease fire Central governments have been mainly military dictatorships plagued by plots quarrels with adjacent countries and involvement in international terrorism

Sudan, Civil War and Terrorism, 1956-99 Edgar O'Ballance, 2000 In Khartoum government coups and counter coups alternated with periods of military dictatorship In 1983 Sharia law was introduced and attempts were made to force it on the south causing the civil war to resume This stalemated struggle continues In 2000 there have been signs of returning democracy and a multi party election has been held but the reappearance from exile of strong contenders for power does not bode well for the stability of the country

Peace Negotiations and Time Marco Pinfari, 2013 This book discusses the role of time in peace negotiations and peace processes in the post Cold War period making reference to real world negotiations and using comparative data Deadlines are increasingly used by mediators to spur deadlocked negotiation processes under the assumption that fixed time limits tend to favour pragmatism Yet little attention is typically paid to the durability of agreements concluded in these conditions and research in experimental psychology suggests that time pressure can have a negative impact on individual and collective decision making by reducing each side's ability to deal with complex issues complex inter group dynamics and inter cultural relations This volume explores this lacuna in current research through a comparative model that includes 68 episodes of negotiation and then more in detail in relation to four cases studies the Bougainville and Casamance peace processes and the Dayton and Camp David proximity talks The case studies reveal that in certain conditions low time pressure can impact positively on the durability of agreements by making possible effective intra rebel agreements before official negotiations and that time pressure works in proximity talks only when applied to solving circumscribed deadlocks This book will be of much interest to students of peace processes conflict resolution negotiation diplomacy and international relations in general God Grew Tired of Us John Bul Dau, Michael S. Roger Louis, 2025-02-20 The quarter century after the end of the Second World War and the transfer of power in India in 1947 marked the slow and turbulent dissolution of the British Empire in the Middle East Seeking to capture the period in its full complexity and contradictions acclaimed historian Wm Roger Louis here provides a through going account of the British Empire's gradual decline Unpicking the overlapping motivations of those across Britain the US and the Middle East the book demonstrates how and why enthusiasm for the British involvement in the region waned the chaotic ways in which the withdrawal unfolded and the importance of these events for understanding the region today The book explores the period in full detail from the overthrow of the Musaddiq government in Iran the Egyptian Revolution Sudan's independence and the events of the pivotal year of 1955 that set the stage for the Suez crisis the following year through the pivotal Suez crisis of 1956 itself to the crises of 1957 the Iraqi Revolution of 1958 and the 1967 Arab Israeli war and concluding with the collapse of the British position in Aden and the decision to withdraw from the Gulf a process completed by the end of 1971 This panoramic and comprehensive history draws on six decades work in archives across Europe the Middle East and the US including those from governmental archives and private papers and in multiple languages complemented by a considerable body of oral history testimony much of it acquired by the author through conversations with contemporary British politicians and officials In so doing the book sheds new light onto the nature and complexity of the British Empire in its final days and the importance of understanding this history today Armed Groups and the Balance of Power Anthony Vinci,2008-09-09 This new book provides a framework for understanding the international relations of armed groups including terrorist organizations insurgencies and warlords which play an increasingly important role in the international system Specifically the book argues that such groups can be understood as taking part in the balance of power with states and other armed groups as they are empirically sovereign non state actors that are motivated by the pursuit of power and exist as part of an anarchic self help system This radically new approach offers a renewed conceptualization of Neorealism and provides new insights into debates about sovereignty non state actors new wars counterterrorism and counterinsurgency The approach is illustrated through case studies on Somali warlords the security complex between the Lord s Resistance Army LRA Sudanese People s Liberation Army SPLA Sudan and Uganda as well as Al Qaeda The book provides insights into such issues as how non state actors can be integrated into structural theories of international relations and also offers pragmatic methodologies for the foreign policy or military practitioner such as how to best deter terrorists A History of Modern Mercenary Warfare Harry McCallion,2024-04-18 Explores the development of modern mercenary forces from the British operation in Yemen in late 1960 s to today s War in Ukraine Since before the time of Alexander the Great trained soldiers have sold their expertise on battlefield around the World fighting and dying in other people s wars for money glory or the lust for violence and combat In this book Harry McCallion explores the development of modern mercenary forces from the British SAS led deniable operation in Yemen in late 1960 s during which the Israelis were persuaded to arm the SAS led Yemeni tribesmen through the bush wars in Africa Britain s ill fated intervention in the war in Afghanistan right up to today s War in Ukraine Many of the modern day British mercenaries were known to the author personally including such notably figures as the legendary SAS Fijian warriors Tak Takevesia who although in his early sixties shot his way out of an ambush in Bagdad and Fred Big Fred Mrafano who devoted himself to the cause of the people of Serra Leone SAS veteran Bill Scully who received the Queen s Gallantry Medal single handedly protected 1 300 civilians from rebel troops during the uprising in May 1997 after the Sierra Leone coup and American Vietnam veteran Major Mac Mackenzie who although badly wounded in Vietnam rose from trooper to command a Rhodesian SAS squadron and was one of the units most highly decorated soldiers Also included are more notorious figures like Costas Georgiou also known by his alias Colonel Callan who served in the 1st Battalion of the Parachute Regiment but was dishonorably discharged and sentenced to five years in prison for a post office robbery later he proclaimed himself a Colonel and led a group of psychopathic mercenaries in the Angolan War of Independence before being captured and executed by Angolan forces The book explores the roles of modern day mercenaries who's use has expanded precisely because they are mercenaries fighting for money and not love of country their deaths are not seen as a patriotic sacrifice often they go unreported and in turn helps to conceal the true tragic human cost of waging a war As one former private military contractor recently stated to Australian TV If you want to conquer in the 21st century you use mercenaries special forces things to keep war secret and nobody's better at secret wars than mercenaries

Sudan at the Crossroads - Between Consolidation and a Failing State Jens Parnow, 2009-12-09 Research Paper undergraduate from the year 2008 in the subject Economics Case Scenarios grade 1.0 Helmut Schmidt University University of the Federal Armed Forces Hamburg Fakultät für Wirtschafts und Sozialwissenschaften course Staatszerfall und Konfliktökonomien in Afrika language English abstract The recent Darfur crisis and the humanitarian catastrophe have put some public view on the Sudan Voices to intervene have been raised and quick connections to the massacres in Rwanda in 1994 are made The fact that the Sudanese people have been suffering from almost 40 years of intermitted civil war seems to play at best an inferior role Despite the neglect by a vast majority of the public the southern regions are just recovering from devastating civil war and peace is still fragile The transition to a democratic system is far from being realized droughts have increased nutrition problems in the South and the revenues from economic growth are distributed very unevenly In addition to these problems neighbouring states are either dictatorships with rivaling interests in a period of uncertain transition or former stable states such as Chad and Kenya which are tumbling towards domestically crisis Nevertheless to understand the aims of the opposing actors and how these conflicts were able to develop it is necessary to have a close look on Sudan's recent past The essay covers Sudan's way from a British colony to its independence followed and accompanied by two severe civil wars and their reasons up to the Darfur crisis today In the second part the author analyses the aims of the different local national and international actors and assesses reasonable strategies for a lasting peace in Sudan The leading thoughts in this essay are expressed by the main questions How did the Sudanese civil wars which culminated in the recent Darfur crisis evolve What would be a reasonable strategy to secure a stable peace in Sudan The author wants to emphasize the necessity to bring Sudan to a stable peace As the biggest country in Africa this could contribute to stability in the whole eastern African region preventing humanitarian crisis and agony Hasty decision derived from compassion and quick accusations without the necessary background may lead to false directions This analysis shall provide objective evidence about the current situation and is intended to contribute to a wider comprehension among students of international politics
