Rethinking and Recontextualizing Glosses Patrizia Lendinara, Loredana Lazzari, Claudia Di Sciacca, Fédération internationale des instituts d'études médiévales, 2011 Glossing was a scribal practice in use since antiquity but it was in the Middle Ages that it acquired a wider meaning and a different role becoming one of the most widespread forms of literacy in the Germanic West including the British Isles Most of the essays collected in this volume focus on the late Anglo Saxon period that is a well identified time frame spanning from the Benedictine Reform to the eleventh century As recent scholarship has convincingly established the second half of the tenth century and the beginning of the eleventh saw the blooming of Anglo Saxon scholarship and a remarkable advance in educational practices Within this cultural resurgence glossing undoubtedly played no small role and was particularly vital in centres such as Abingdon Canterbury and Winchester In the contributions to the present volume the relationship between glosses and the text they accompany is always explored on the basis of their manuscript context The essays are devoted to both Latin and Old English apparatuses of glosses as well as to specific items of the Old Norse and Old Saxon glossarial production 1996 Massimo Mastrogregori, 2014-02-21 Annually published since 1930 the International bibliography of Historical Sciences IBOHS is an international bibliography of the most important historical monographs and periodical articles published throughout the world which deal with history from the earliest to the most recent times The works are arranged systematically according to period region or historical discipline and within this classification alphabetically The bibliography contains a geographical index and indexes of persons and authors Anglo-Saxon England: Volume 26 Michael Lapidge, Malcolm Godden, Simon Keynes, 1998-06-04 In the present volume the two essays that frame the book provide exciting insight into the mental world of the Anglo Saxons by showing on the one hand how they understood the processes of reading and assimilating knowledge and on the other how they conceived of time and the passage of the seasons In the field of art history two essays treat two of the best known Anglo Saxon manuscripts The lavish symbol pages in the Book of Durrow are shown to reflect a programmatic exposition of the meaning of Easter and a posthumous essay by a distinguished art historian shows how the Anglo Saxon illustrations added to the Galba Psalter are best to be understood in the context of the programme of learning instituted by King Alfred The usual comprehensive bibliography of the previous year s publications in all branches of Anglo Saxon studies rounds off the book
