Studies in East African Geography and Development Simeon Hongo Ominde, 1971 Studies in East African geography and development: essays presented to S.J.K. Baker, ed , Studies in East African Geography and Development: Essays Presented to S. J. K. Baker Roy C. Strong, Julia Trevelyan Omar, 1971 Issues in Resource Management and Development in Kenya Robert A. Obudho, J. B. Ojwang, 2000 Seaports and Development B. S. Hoyle, 2012-07-26 This book originally published in 1983 demonstrates the importance of seaports in the growth of less developed countries The author focuses on the character of port activity within the context of transport systems and regional economic planning General principles of port development are illustrated by detailed reference to one Third World port group that of the Indian Ocean coasts of Kenya and Tanzania The objective is not merely to illustrate the character of one specific group of ports but to demonstrate methods of analysis and to underline the crucial role of ports in the development process

An Economic History of Kenya and Uganda, 1800-1970 Anne King, R.M.A. Van Zwanenberg, 1975-01-01 Journal of Eastern African Research and Development , 1992 Tourism and African Development Isaac Sindiga, 2018-12-20 First published in 1999 this book is a contribution to the debate on tourism and Third World development The general goal of the study is to assess whether tourism is a viable development strategy for Africa using the example of Kenya More specifically the book assesses the contribution of tourism in development documents the development of tourism in Kenya examines the outcomes of international tourism on the environment and society in Kenya examines the response of Kenyan communities to international tourism and makes recommendations for alternative tourism strategies with applicability to other African countries

Eastern and Southern Africa Debby Potts, T.A.S. Bowyer-Bower, 2016-02-04 A unique and comprehensive introduction to contemporary development issues in East and Southern Africa and represents a significant departure from the often descriptive approach adopted by existing regional and development texts on African regions Each contribution is carefully chosen to highlight the theoretical basis to development issues and the practical problems of implementing development plans in this vital subregion Overall this produces comprehensive and balanced coverage of historical economic political and social issues The twin issues of globalisation and modernisation give the book a clear focus Studies in East Africa Geography and Development S.H. Ominde, 1971 Kenya's Changing Landscape

Raymond M. Turner, H. Awala Ochung', Jeanne B. Turner, 2021-11-09 Botanist Homer L Shantz took photographs of the Kenyan landscape in the early 1920s as part of his effort to document the natural plant cover of Africa He returned there with B L Turner in the late 1950s to repeat the photographs In 1990 Raymond Turner traveled to Kenya under the auspices of the National Geographic Society in order to match the photographs made by Shantz and B L Turner and to show the changes that have occurred over the decades since Shantz's initial journey. Turner's comparative photos and research into the botanical record dramatically reflect the encroachment of woody plants in arid areas and the increasing human impact in more humid locales. Turner's discussions of the photographs and the conclusions he draws provide an important reference for ecologists, geographers, botanists, and other researchers attempting similar studies. By documenting vegetation change in a region broadly similar climatically to North America's subtropical deserts and grasslands but different in its wildlife and its human culture, the book shows that the endpoints of landscape status are similar despite the vastly different histories of these two regions of the world. Kenya, a Country Study, 1982 Migration in Eastern Africa Elias Ayiemba, Alfred T. Otieno, 2025-05-22

This book is a collection of essays written in honour of the late Professor John Oyaro Oucho, an icon of migration scholarship in the East Africa region. The book is constructed around themes which cover the nexus between challenges and opportunities in migration and national development. The book explores environmental planning and management, community development, urbanization, human impact on the environment, human security, rural settlement, health care, and governance, and is therefore valuable to postgraduate students, humanitarian agencies, and governments with concerns surrounding emerging migration issues. Several chapters highlight the debate among scholars and policy makers on the dynamic nature of migration patterns and streams, and the impact of these on the quality of migration data, migration theories, and the monitoring and evaluation tools which are appropriate for Africa's development planning. Livestock Development In Kenya's Maasailand Phylo Evangelou, 2019-03-04

Throughout Sub-Saharan Africa, traditional pastoral societies are experiencing great change as ecological limitations intensify and national demands for livestock products expand. In light of these pressures, the transition of pastoralists from a principally subsistence way of life to greater involvement in market economies seems inevitable. Focus on Planning African Development Glen Norcliffe, Tom Pinfold, 2012-08-06. First published in 1981, this book concerns specifically the Kenyan experience with regards to development planning, but given that the problems of hunger, poverty, and underdevelopment manifest themselves in slightly different forms across all African countries, this book has considerable relevance to development planning across the African continent. The first set of essays in this collection address the question of development, which is undoubtedly Africa's highest development priority. The second grouping of essays considers issues in project planning and asks questions concerning cost, method, outcome, and evaluation of various projects in Kenya. Area Handbook for Kenya Irving Kaplan, 1976 Bibliography of Agriculture, 1972-07
