Studies in Literature and the Humanities George Whalley,1985-06-18 Studies in Literature and the Humanities George Whalley,2016-01-23 The Pleasures of Academe James Axtell,1998-01-01 For years American colleges and universities have been criticized by the media cash strapped state legislators and many others Bearing the brunt of these attacks are the professors accused of working too little and of neglecting their teaching responsibilities in favor of research In this lively and timely book the distinguished historian James Axtell offers a compelling defense of higher education Drawing on national statistics broad ranging scholarship and delightful anecdotes Axtell reminds us of the dedication of professors and the increasing demands placed on them He describes the professorial work cycle the evolution of scholarship in the past three decades the importance of habitual scholarship and the best ways to judge a university He discusses with imagination and wit the many pleasures of academic life including intercollegiate sports the benign pathology of loving and collecting books teaching and service outside the classroom life in college towns and working vacations Axtell persuasively confronts the major critics of higher education arguing that they have perpetuated misunderstandings of tenure research teaching curricular change and professorial politics Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul Schellinger,2014-04-08 The Encyclopedia of the Novel is the first reference book that focuses on the development of the novel throughout the world Entries on individual writers assess the place of that writer within the development of the novel form explaining why and in exactly what ways that writer is important Similarly an entry on an individual novel discusses the importance of that novel not only form analyzing the particular innovations that novel has introduced and the ways in which it has influenced the subsequent course of the genre A wide range of topic entries explore the history criticism theory production dissemination and reception of the novel A very important component of the Encyclopedia of the Novel is its long surveys of development of the novel in various regions of the world Gottfried Keller and His Critics Richard R. Ruppel,1998 Survey of the criticism devoted to Gottfried Keller the important nineteenth century writer in German The works of Gottfried Keller 1819 1890 rank alongside those of Goethe and Thomas Mann yet this volume is the first in any language to examine the critical assessment and scholarly expertise devoted to him ranging from the early stages of journalistic criticism to the present day Professor Ruppel begins by exploring the literary industry in the nineteenth century the literary market place the tastes of the reading public and the expectations of editors before going on to survey representative journalistic assessments of Keller s writing including critical correspondence from Keller s contemporaries Subsequent chapters examine in chronological order the most important milestones in Keller scholarship particularly twentieth century criticism and the Anglo American tradition There is also a brief history of the translations of Keller s works into English investigating some of the difficulties confronting English translators of Keller s poetically creative German The study concludes with an overview of recent scholarly assessments covering the past twenty five years New World Myth Marie Vautier,1998 In this comparative study of six Canadian novels Marie Vautier examines reworkings of myth in the postcolonial context While myths are frequently used in literature as transhistorical master narratives she argues that these novels destabilize the traditional function of myth in their self conscious reexamination of historical events from a postcolonial perspective Through detailed readings of Fran ois Barcelo s La Tribu George Bowering s Burning Water Jacques Godbout s Les T tes Papineau Joy Kogawa s Obasan Jovette Marchessault s Comme une enfant de la terre and Rudy Wiebe s The Scorched Wood People Vautier situates New World myth within the broader contexts of political history and of classical biblical and historical myths George Orwell: A Reassessment Ira B Nadel, Peter Buitenhuis, 1988-11-24 English Studies in Canada ,1996 Austen, Eliot, Charlotte Bronte and the Mentor-Lover P. Menon, 2003-05-23 This lucid and tightly argued study uses the motif of the mentor lover embodying diverse permutations of sexual love power and judgement to explore evaluate and compare the works of Jane Austen Charlotte Bront and George Eliot as they contend with issues of sexuality family selfhood freedom conduct and gender The figure also provides a means to probe their relationship to the reader as they become mentor lovers through authorship each eliciting a different form of love and electing a different style of instruction Under Conrad's Eyes Michael John DiSanto, 2009 An innovative account of Joseph Conrad s engagement with nineteenth century thought Silence, the Word and the Sacred E.D. Blodgett, Harold Coward, 2010-10-30 The result of a dialogue between poets and scholars on the meaning and making of the sacred this book endeavours to determine how the sacred emerges in sacred script as well as in poetic discourse It ranges through scholarship in areas as apparently disparate as postmodernism and Buddhism The perspectives developed are various and without closure locating the sacred in modes as diverse as patristic traditions feminist retranslations of biblical texts and oral and written versions of documents from the world s religions The essays cohere in their preoccupation with the crucial role language plays in the creation of the sacred particularly in the relation that language bears to silence In their interplay language does not silence silence by rather calls the other as sacred into articulate existence Making Canada New Dean Irvine, Vanessa Lent, Bart A. Vautour, 2017-03-17 An examination of the connections between modernist writers and editorial activities Making Canada New draws links among new and old media collaborative labour emergent scholars and scholarships and digital modernisms In doing so the collection reveals that renovating modernisms does not need to depend on the fabrication of completely new modes of scholarship Rather it is the repurposing of already existing practices and combining them with others whether old or new print or digital that instigates a process of continuous renewal Critical to this process of renewal is the intermingling of print and digital research methods and the coordination of more popular modes of literary scholarship with less frequented ones such as bibliography textual studies and editing Making Canada New tracks the editorial renovation of modernism as a digital phenomenon while speaking to the continued production of print editions What is Wrong with Us? Eric Coombes, Theodore Dalrymple, 2016-11-08 Can any of us entirely banish from our hearts and minds grave misgivings about the condition of the culture we now inhabit Expressions of those misgivings are mostly unheard in public forums ignored in the dominant media and if noticed at all dismissed by state supported bureaucracies and commercial vested interests To have any chance of gaining attention they must resolve themselves into coherent forms We need to clarify our perceptions of the things that trouble us by articulating and developing our thoughts about them That is we are in need of serious criticism serious criticism aesthetic social and political which is notably lacking in the contemporary world especially in places readily available to the educated non specialist such as the quality weekend newspapers and especially perhaps in relation to the visual arts The pieces collected in this volume are not presented as amounting to an overall account or theory of our cultural condition They are offered merely as examples of serious criticism of what we need if we are to begin to think more profitably about our condition daring in defiance of contemporary dogmatism to make the necessary judgements of value without which our culture will continue to disintegrate

The Fire Robin Blaser, 2006-09-29 Spanning four decades of meditation on the avant garde in poetry art and philosophy the essays collected in The Fire reveal Robin Blaser's strikingly fresh perspective on New American poets deconstructive philosophies current events and the state of humanities now The essays gathered in one volume for the first time include commentaries on Jack Spicer Charles Olson Robert Duncan Mary Butts George Bowering Louis Dudek Christos Dikeakos and J S Bach Blaser emerged from the Berkeley Renaissance of the 1940s and 1950s having studied under legendary medieval scholar Ernst Kantorowicz and having been a major participant in the burgeoning literary scene His response to the cultural and political events of his time has been to construct a poetic voice that offers a singular perspective on a shareable world and to pose that voice alongside others as a source of countermemory and potential agency Conceived as conversations these essays brilliantly reflect that ethos as they re read the cultural events of the past fifty years

Working in English Heather Murray, 1996 This is an analysis of English studies in higher education addressed in particular to practitioners in the field teachers and students As Heather Murray states in her introduction those who work in English are likely to have a stronger sense of critical history than of disciplinary history She contends that in order to understand and reform the discipline of English studies it is necessary to shift the focus of examination down and back to look at ordinary and often taken for granted disciplinary practices such as pedagogy and to extend the historical frame Murray begins with an examination of some important historical moments in the development of the discipline in Canada the appointment in 1889 of W J Alexander as first professor of English at the University of Toronto the twenty five year experiment early in this century in rhetorical and dramatic education for women that the Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression represented and the entry of theory into the English Canadian academy The second section examines some of the common features and routines of English departments such as curriculum design seminar groups tests and assignments essay questions and the conference in order to establish the critical political principles that underpin study and teaching in the academy today In this section Murray also focuses on the role of women as students and teachers of English The final section surveys the literature available for further research on the discipline and for constructing a history of English studies in Canada BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved The Romantic Movement ,1986 The Romantic Movement David V.
