Studies In Roman And Early Christian Architecture:

Studies in Roman and Early Christian Architecture John Bryan Ward-Perkins, 1994 The work of J B Ward Perkins on Roman architecture spanned fifty years and his numerous published papers covered almost every aspect of the subject This selection of sixteen studies focuses mainly on the provinces particularly the North African cities There are two articles on Roman town planning followed by a study of Nero's Golden House at Rome The following nine papers deal with architecture in the provinces The author's interest in the excavations under St Peter's in Rome resulted in the publication of a number of studies on the development of Early Christian architecture from such Roman models as the basilica and the Imperial mausolea Five of these papers are included here in the final section on Early Christian architecture There is a Preface by Professor Roger Ling and a comprehensive index Roman Architecture, 1980 Christian Responses to Roman Art and Architecture Laura Salah Nasrallah, 2010-01-25 Laura Nasrallah argues that early Christian literature is best understood when read alongside the archaeological remains of Roman antiquity Art and Architecture of the Synagogue in Late Antique Palestine David William Milson, 2006-12-31 This study examines the material evidence for synagogues and churches in the Holy Land from the age of Constantine in the fourth century CE to the Arab conquest of the eastern provinces in the seventh century CE Whereas scholars once viewed the growth of the Byzantine empire as time of persecution a re-evaluation of the archaeological evidence indicates that Jews prospered along with their Christian neighbours What influence did Christian art and architecture have on ancient synagogues In the sixth century one third of all known synagogues in Palestine bear features similar to early Byzantine churches basilical layouts mosaic floors apses and chancel screens Focusing on these features sheds light on how Jewish communities met the challenges posed by the Church's development into a major religious and political power This book provides a critical analysis of the archaeological evidence as a basis for our better understanding of Jewish identity and community in late Antique Palestine Religious Diversity in Late Antiquity David Morton Gwynn, Susanne Bangert, 2010 This volume in the ongoing Late Antique Archaeology series draws on material and textual evidence to explore the diverse religious world of Late Antiquity Subjects include Jews and Samaritans orthodoxy and heresy pilgrimage stylites magic the sacred and the secular Studies in Hellenistic Architecture Frederick E. Winter, Janos Fedak, 2006-01-01 Studies in Hellenistic Architecture is a detailed analysis of the development of the major building types of the Hellenistic age the mid fourth century B C to the time of the Roman conquest of the Eastern Mediterranean In this meticulous work Frederick E Winter reveals how the architects of the period went beyond anything achieved by their Classical Greek predecessors and how these impressive skills prepared the way for many of Rome's later architectural achievements Geographically the monuments included in this volume extend from Spain to Afghanistan and from Provence to North Africa Winter discusses the architectural achievements of the various regional styles of the Eastern Mediterranean and takes a detailed look at Hellenistic developments west of the Adriatic While the interrelationship of these regional developments is often unclear especially in cases where there are no explicit criteria for dating Winter makes excellent use of the advance in scholarship over the past fifty to sixty years offering the first real attempt at a synthesis of this vast subject Studies in Hellenistic Architecture is an invaluable resource containing a wealth of illustrations of the various types of Hellenistic building and the most comprehensive scholarship to date on the topic The Art of the Roman Empire Jas Elsner, 2018-05-02 The passage from Imperial Rome to the era of late antiquity when the Roman Empire underwent a religious conversion to Christianity saw some of the most significant and innovative developments in Western culture This stimulating book investigates the role of the visual arts the great diversity of paintings statues luxury arts and masonry as both reflections and agents of those changes Jas Elsner's ground breaking account discusses both Roman and early Christian art in relation to such issues as power death society acculturation and religion By examining questions of reception viewing and the culture of spectacle alongside the more traditional art historical themes of imperial patronage and stylistic change he presents a fresh and challenging interpretation of an extraordinarily rich cultural crucible in which many fundamental developments of later European art had their origins This second edition includes a new discussion of the Eurasian context of Roman art an updated bibliography and new full colour illustrations Holy Sites Encircled Vered Shalev-Hurvitz, 2015 This volume explores the architecture of Jerusalem's round and octagonal churches the perceptions and architectural models that stood behind it and their impact on both ideas and design in future architecture The Framing of Sacred Space Jelena Bogdanovic, 2017-06-19 The Framing of Sacred Space offers the first topical study of canopies as essential spatial and symbolic units in Byzantine rite churches Centrally planned columnar structures typically comprised of four columns and a roof canopies had a critical role in the modular processes of church design from actual church furnishings in the shape of a canopy to the church's structural core As architectonic objects of basic structural and design integrity canopies integrate an archetypical image of architecture and provide means for an innovative understanding of the materialization of the idea of the Byzantine church and its multi focal spatial presence The Framing of Sacred Space considers both the material and conceptual framing of sacred space and explains how the canopy bridges the physical and transcendental realms As a crucial element of church design in the Byzantine world a world that gradually abandoned the basilica as a typical building of Roman imperial secular architecture the canopy carried tectonic and theological meanings and through vaulted canopied bays and recognizable Byzantine domed churches established organic architectural symbolic and sacred ties between the Old and New Covenants In such an overarching context the canopy becomes an architectural parti a vital concept and dynamic design principle that carries the essence of the Byzantine church The Framing of Sacred Space highlights significant factors in understanding canopies through specific architectural settings and the Byzantine concepts of space thus also contributing to larger debates about the creation of sacred space and related architectural taxonomy Sacred Power, Sacred Space Jeanne Halgren Kilde, 2008-07-21 Jeanne Halgren Kilde's survey of church architecture is unlike any other. Her main concern is not the buildings themselves but rather the dynamic character of Christianity and how church buildings shape and influence the religion. Kilde argues that a primary function of church buildings is to represent and reify three different types of power: divine power or ideas about God, personal empowerment as manifested in the individual's perceived relationship to the divine, and social power meaning the relationships between groups such as clergy and laity. Each type intersects with notions of Christian creed, cult, and code and is represented spatially and materially in church buildings. Kilde explores these categories chronologically from the early church to the twentieth century. She considers the form, organization, and use of worship rooms, the location of churches, and the interaction between churches and the wider culture. Church buildings have been integral to Christianity, and Kilde's important study sheds new light on the way they impact all aspects of the religion. Neither mere witnesses to transformations of religious thought nor simple backgrounds for religious practice, church buildings are in Kilde's view dynamic participants in religious change and goldmines of information on Christianity itself.

Early Christian and Byzantine Architecture Richard Krautheimer, Slobodan Ćurčić, 1992-01-01. By now a classic, it presents in a single volume a coherent overall view of the history and the changing character of Early Christian and Byzantine architecture from Rome and Milan to North Africa from Constantinople to Greece and the Balkans and from Egypt and Jerusalem to the villages and monasteries of Syria, Asia Minor, Armenia, and Mesopotamia.

Roman architecture expressed in sketches by Francesco di Giorgio Martini Christoffer H. Ericsson, 1980.

Encyclopedia of the History of Classical Archaeology Nancy Thomson de Grummond, 2015-05-11. With 1,125 entries and 170 contributors, this is the first encyclopedia on the history of classical archaeology. It focuses on Greek and Roman material but also covers the prehistoric and semi-historical cultures of the Bronze Age, Aegean, the Etruscans, and manifestations of Greek and Roman culture in Europe and Asia Minor. The Encyclopedia of the History of Classical Archaeology includes entries on individuals whose activities influenced the knowledge of sites and monuments in their own time, articles on famous monuments and sites as seen, changed, and interpreted through time, and entries on major works of art excavated from the Renaissance to the present day as well as works known in the Middle Ages. As the definitive source on a comparatively new discipline, the history of archaeology, these finely illustrated volumes will be useful to students and scholars in archaeology, the classics, history, topography, and art and architectural history.

The Early Christian World Philip Francis Esler, 2000. The Early Christian World, volumes 1 and 2, presents an exhaustive, erudite, and illustrated treatment of how the small movement which formed around Jesus in Galilee became the pre-eminent religion of the ancient world.

The Book of Acts in its First Century Setting, Volume 2 David W. Gill, Conrad Gempf, 2000-11-24. The results of our rapidly expanded historical and archaeological knowledge have here been brought to bear on the Book of Acts to stunning effect. Outstanding as Jackson and Lake was in its day, this volume on the Graeco-Roman setting of Acts holds out the promise of equaling, if not surpassing, that great achievement. Paul Barnett, Bishop of North Sydney, Australia. This well written volume offers a remarkable up to date collection of relevant new data to assist in scenario formation for a considerate reading of the Book of Acts The largely Australian and British team of authors must be congratulated for preparing this very useful data set There are authoritative descriptions of travel of food supply of domestic and political religion of urban elites and of the Eastern Mediterranean provinces and their leadership Such information about the realm of the Graeco Roman world will enable the interpreter of Acts to bring these data to bear in the process of interpretation Of great use to ancient historians classicists and biblical scholars yet written and presented in such a way that it will be fascinating to intelligent nonprofessionals as well Bruce J Malina Creighton University Eastern Medieval Architecture Robert G.

Ousterhout,2019 The rich and diverse architectural traditions of the Eastern Mediterranean and adjacent regions are the subject of this book including the social and cultural developments of the Byzantine Empire the Caucasus the Balkans and Russia as well as parallel developments in Crusader and early Islamic architecture American Architecture: Studies Montgomery Schuyler,2019-12-16 In American Architecture Studies Montgomery Schuyler explores the evolving landscape of American architectural thought during the late 19th and early 20th centuries Through a critical and analytical lens Schuyler examines not only the aesthetics but also the cultural significance of various architectural movements and structures His prose is marked by both clarity and precision reflecting deep engagements with the works of contemporaneous architects and theorists This collection of essays captures the spirit of American innovation while providing insightful critiques within the broader context of artistic and historical movements positioning architecture as an essential mode of cultural expression Montgomery Schuyler a prominent critic and architect was deeply embedded in the architectural discourse of his time His experiences and keen observations were influenced by the rapid urbanization and industrialization occurring in America Schuyler s involvement in various architectural commissions as well as his editorial role at influential publications enriched his perspective allowing him to articulate the complexities and nuances present within American architecture informed by both pride and skepticism This book is indispensable for scholars students and enthusiasts of architecture offering profound insights into the symbiotic relationship between architecture and American identity Schuyler s eloquent articulation prompts readers to reconsider the significance of architectural forms that shape our environment and the myriad cultural forces that influence their creation Roman architecture expressed in sketches by Francesco di

Giorgio Martine Christoffer H. Ericsson,1980 Sir Banister Fletcher's a History of Architecture Sir Banister Fletcher,Dan Cruickshank,1996 The world s major architecture is described explained and frequently illustrated Scope is widened to include more architecture from non European countries Liturgy and Architecture Allan Doig,2017-03-02 In this book Allan Doig explores the interrelationship of liturgy and architecture from the Early Church to the close of the Middle Ages taking into account social economic technical theological and artistic factors These are crucial to a proper understanding of ecclesiastical architecture of all periods and together their study illuminates the study of liturgy Buildings and their archaeology are standing indices of human activity and the whole matrix of meaning they present is highly revealing of the larger meaning of ritual performance within and movement through their space The excavation of the mid third century church at Dura Europos in the Syrian desert the grandeur of Constantine s Imperial basilicas the influence of the great pilgrimage sites and the marvels of soaring Gothic cathedrals all come alive in a new way when the space is animated by the liturgy for which they were built Reviewing the most recent research in the area and moving the debate forward this study will be useful to liturgists clergy theologians art and architectural historians and those interested in the conservation of ecclesiastical structures built for the liturgy
