Questions of Style Michel Hockx, 2017-06-20 Dealing with the central issue of style in literature this groundbreaking study is a must for sinologists but also for all students of comparative literature Michel Hockx takes as a point of departure the observation that most writers of the Republican period adhered to a distinctly traditional practice of gathering in literary societies while at the same time displaying a marked preference for publishing their works through the modern medium of the literary journal The first part of the book analyses different types of societies and their journals The case studies in part two convey the wider impact of literary collectives and journal publications on literary practice Convincingly breaking with the May Fourth paradigm the author proposes a radically new way of understanding the relationship between New Literature and other styles of modern Chinese writing

Modern China Studies, 1977 Modern China Sih-Gung Cheng, 2017-09-12 Excerpt from Modern China A Political Study This book is an attempt to deal with some of the important problems which confront the Chinese statesman and diplomat and those who have anything to do with China It has been the author's hope to give a true picture of things in the Far East and to suggest constructive schemes for every subject touched upon He has tried to avoid patriotic bias and to discuss politics with disinterestedness and it is hoped that he has not altogether failed in his efforts The world has become small through the rapid means of communication and through the economic interdependence of its different parts and it is certain that before many years have passed a country with a territory extending over four million square miles and with a population of nearly four hundred millions will play a far more important part in the intellectual and economic developments of the world than it does at present It will indeed be most gratifying to the author should this book afford some food for thought to readers interested in human progress and international relations About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
