These include sugar glasses boiled sweets grained sugar products fondants toffees and fudges hydrocolloids gums pastilles and jellies and concludes with a chapter dedicated to sugar free confectionery Sugar Confectionery and Chocolate Manufacture R. Lees, 2012-12-06 The authors had five objectives in preparing this book i to bring together relevant information on many raw materials used in the manufacture of sweets and chocolate ii to describe the principles involved and to relate them to production with maximum economy but maintaining high quality iii to describe both traditional and modern production processes in particular those continuous methods which are finding increasing application iv to give basic recipes and methods set out in a form for easy reference for producing a large variety of sweets and capable of easy modification to suit the raw materials and plant available v to explain the elementary calculations most likely to be required The various check lists and charts showing the more likely faults and how to eliminate them reflect the fact that art still plays no small part in this industry To help users all over the world whatever units they employ most for mulations are given in parts by weight but tables of conversion factors are provided at the end of the book There also will be found a collection of other general reference data in tabular form while the Glossary explains a number of technical terms many of them peculiar to the industry
