Problems of Democratic Transition and Consolidation

Juan J. Linz, Alfred Stepan, 1996-08-22. Since their classic volume The Breakdown of Democratic Regimes was published in 1978, Juan J. Linz and Alfred Stepan have increasingly focused on the questions of how, in the modern world, nondemocratic regimes can be eroded and democratic regimes crafted. In Problems of Democratic Transition and Consolidation, they break new ground in numerous areas. They reconceptualize the major types of modern nondemocratic regimes and point out, for each type, the available paths to democratic transition and the tasks of democratic consolidation. They argue that, although nation state and democracy often have conflicting logics, multiple and complementary political identities are feasible under a common roof of state-guaranteed rights. They also illustrate how, without an effective state, there can be neither effective citizenship nor successful privatization. Further, they provide criteria and evidence for politicians and scholars alike to distinguish between democratic consolidation and pseudo-democratization, and they present conceptually driven survey data for the fourteen countries studied. Problems of Democratic Transition and Consolidation contains the first systematic comparative analysis of the process of democratic consolidation in southern Europe and the southern cone of South America, and it is the first book to ground post-Communist Europe within the literature of comparative politics and democratic theory. This is an important volume by two major scholars on a central topic of broad interest to people in comparative politics, to those interested in democracy, and to regional specialists on Southern Latin America and on Central and Eastern Europe. The book will unquestionably be a major contribution to the literature on constructing democratic governance.

Abraham F. Lowenthal, University of Southern California. Between States. Yossi Shain, Juan J. Linz, Lynn Berat, 1995-05-26. Between States is the first book that assesses systematically the broad implications of interim governments in the establishment of democratic regimes and on the existence of states. Based on historical and contemporary democratisation experiences, the book presents four ideal types of interim government: opposition-led, provisional governments, power-sharing interim governments, incumbent-led caretaker governments, and international interim government by the United Nations. The first part explores the theoretical problems of each of these models from a broad comparative perspective. It uses, as illustrations, historical and contemporary cases that present a wide spectrum of contexts for comparison. The second part provides extensive case studies that are intended to illustrate, appraise, amplify, and criticise the analysis in volume one. These include Iran, East Germany, Portugal, Afghanistan, and Yugoslavia.

The Politics of Democratic Consolidation. Richard Gunther, P. Nikiforos Diamandouros, Hans-Jürgen Puhle, 1995-08. With democracy on the rise worldwide, questions about transition are rapidly being replaced by questions about consolidation. How can leaders provide for a stable democracy once a nation has made its initial commitment to the rule of law and to popularly elected government In The Politics of Democratic Consolidation a distinguished group of internationally recognized scholars focus on four nations of Southern Europe Spain Portugal Italy and Greece which have successfully consolidated their democratic regimes Contributors P Nikiforos Diamandouros Richard Gunther Hans Jürgen Puhle Edward Malefakis Juan J Linz Alfred Stepan Felipe Agüero Geoffrey Pridham Sidney Tarrow Leonardo Morlino Jos R Montero Gianfranco Pasquino and Philippe C Schmitter

Arguing Comparative Politics Alfred C. Stepan, 2001 This volume brings together new and classic articles by one of the leading scholars in comparative politics The articles focus in particular on the nature of contemporary democracy and its prospects The volume begins with a personal analysis of the intellectual and often political reasons why and how Stepan chose to engage in certain critical arguments over the last thirty years The volume is then divided into three sections each with a distinctive theme state and society constructing politics and varieties of democracies The introduction and articles ask whether both for intellectual and political reasons there are strong grounds for questioning both Rawls and Huntington on religion and democracy Riker on federalism and Gellner on multinationalism The volume contains articles on civil society political society economic society the military and a usable state The possibility of multiple and complementary political identities is argued for The incentive systems and political practices of the three macro constitutional frameworks for democratic government parliamentarism presidentialism and semi presidentialism are compared and contrasted
