American Eccentric Cinema Kim Wilkins, 2019-02-21 Since the late 1990s a new language has emerged in film scholarship and criticism in response to the popularity of American directors such as Wes Anderson Charlie Kaufman and David O Russell Increasingly adjectives like quirky cute and smart are used to describe these American films with a focus on their ironic and sometimes deliberately comical stories character situations and tones Kim Wilkins argues that beyond the seemingly superficial descriptions American eccentric cinema presents a formal and thematic eccentricity that is distinct to the American context She distinguishes these films from mainstream Hollywood cinema as they exhibit irregularities in characterization tone and setting and deviate from established generic conventions Each chapter builds a case for this position through detailed film analyses and comparisons to earlier American traditions such as the New Hollywood cinema of the 1960s and 1970s American Eccentric Cinema promises to challenge the notion of irony in American contemporary cinema and questions the relationship of irony to a complex national and individual identity

Race on the QT Adilifu Nama, 2015-04-15. Known for their violence and prolific profanity including free use of the n word, the films of Quentin Tarantino like the director himself chronically blurt out in polite company what is extremely problematic even when deliberated in private. Consequently, there is an uncomfortable and often awkward frankness associated with virtually all of Tarantino's films, particularly when it comes to race and blackness. Yet beyond the debate over whether Tarantino is or is not racist is the fact that his films effectively articulate racial anxieties circulating in American society as they engage longstanding racial discourses and hint at emerging trends. This radical racial politics always present in Tarantino's films but kept very much on the quiet is the subject of Race on the QT. Adilifu Nama concisely deconstructs and reassembles the racial dynamics woven into Reservoir Dogs, True Romance, Pulp Fiction, Jackie Brown, Kill Bill Vol 1, Kill Bill Vol 2, Death Proof, Inglourious Basterds, and Django Unchained as they relate to historical and current racial issues in America. Nama's eclectic fusion of cultural criticism and film analysis looks beyond the director's personal racial attitudes and focuses on what Tarantino's filmic body of work has said and is saying about race in America symbolically, metaphorically, literally, impolitely, cynically, sarcastically, crudely, controversially, and brilliantly.

Magnolia Christina Lane, 2011-03-01. There are certain films and shows that resonate with audiences everywhere; they generate discussion and debate about everything from gender, class, citizenship, and race to consumerism and social identity. This new teachable canon of film and television introduces students to alternative classics that range from silent film to CSI. Magnolia is one of those films students know and love. From the over-the-top performances by male and female leads to the ripped-from-the-pages-of-the-Old-Testament conclusion, it is a cult favorite in American cinema. This is the first book to examine the diverse themes, performances, and influences on this polarizing film, encouraging students to look beyond the film's style in order to fully engage with questions about its substance. Lane develops a careful analysis of the film, its director, as well as the contemporary context in which it was produced, exploring topics including the role of the auteur, what constitutes cinema media literacy in the digital age, the politics of postmodernism, and the film's critique of the mass media in order to challenge students to ask themselves why they are so riveted by this controversial and unusual film.

The Stranger from Omaha Jason Sperb, 2025-10-14 The first in depth analysis of the films of Alexander Payne through the lenses of authorship tourism and leisure With the films Election About Schmidt Sideways Nebraska and The Holdovers Alexander Payne has carved out an unusual role in American cinema as a bankable auteur There is something about Payne's neurotics and searchers his working stiffs and disillusioned idealists something funny moving and filled with insight Jason Sperb dissects Payne's oeuvre focusing on the director's penchant for travel narratives Payne's films usually center on male protagonists discontent with the emotional and material realities of the day to day and seeking satisfaction in some literal or metaphorical elsewhere But their attempts to escape wind up perpetuating rather than alleviating the imbalance between labor and leisure that structures modern life In this sense Sperb argues Payne's characters are akin to tourists searching for fleeting glimpses of the fulfillment they dream about Examining themes of masculinity nostalgia whiteness and class The Stranger from Omaha is the first auteur study devoted to Payne's delicately balanced cinematic world An outsider even in his own heartland Payne proves to be an artist working at a clarifying remove a witness to the American condition observing from just enough distance
