My Sunflower Soul Emily Quint, 2025-04-29 It is often said that with adversity comes strength and that the sun will always emerge after a storm No one knows the truth of this more than Emily Quint In My Sunflower Soul Emily shares the story of her life a life in which she has weathered more than her fair share of storms Her tale begins in childhood when she began to experience major bouts of anxiety and severe panic attacks Emily's mental illness worsened as she entered into an adolescence characterized by body image issues disordered eating self-harm suicidality and unhealthy reliance on alcohol She did all she could to combat her demons but a new obstacle soon presented itself in the form of a cancer diagnosis and the harsh realities of chemotherapy that came with it Emily's earnest attempts to find healing in adulthood were countered yet again this time by intimate partner violence sexual assault and the pain of pregnancy loss Throughout it all Emily persevered Emily shares her story with candour and raw honesty inviting her readers to step into her shoes as she navigates pain and finds strength She bravely gives her readers access to her inner thoughts as she tackles the most difficult moments of her life Emily shares not only her story but also her personal strategies and learnings that helped her overcome recover and heal Emily's hope is simple yet profound that her readers too can water their own Sunflower Souls finding their own light growth and resilience amid life's challenges The moon and the Sunflower Marina Miranda Fiuza, 2024-11-11 The woman who loses her husband is a widow the one who loses her parents is an orphan But a woman who loses her child experiences something beyond words This experience the greatest pain in the world cannot be named To endure the unnameable is to revert to the helpless state of a newborn unable to process any sensation that doesn't come from her own depths The outside world falls silent the inner world screams with every touch How does a woman feel in the face of a child's death This question is in a way the starting point for the book The Moon and the Sunflower one day mothers in mourning another day mothers in light written by Marina Miranda Fiuza based on the testimonies of seven mothers whose children of various ages passed away under different circumstances Published by Primavera Editorial the work includes a foreword by the Portuguese writer Valter Hugo M e Parents of the dead are deeply unsettled We don t always know where their head or feet are because so much of what grounds them is now of another nature We stand before them astonished for they possess a knowledge that no library can hold simply because there s no way to explain the absurd it is an inexpressible experience that books will always fail to imitate Valter Hugo M e

The Sunflower Simon Wiesenthal,2008-12-18 A Holocaust survivor s surprising and thought provoking study of forgiveness justice compassion and human responsibility featuring contributions from the Dalai Lama Harry Wu Cynthia Ozick Primo Levi and more You are a prisoner in a concentration camp A dying Nazi soldier asks for your forgiveness What would you do While imprisoned in a Nazi concentration camp Simon Wiesenthal was taken one day from his work detail to the bedside of a dying member of the SS Haunted by the crimes in which he had participated the soldier wanted to confess to and obtain absolution from a Jew Faced with the choice between compassion and justice silence and truth Wiesenthal said nothing But even years after the way had ended he wondered Had he done the right thing What would you have done in his place In this important book fifty three distinguished men and women respond to Wiesenthal s questions They are theologians political leaders writers jurists psychiatrists human rights activists Holocaust survivors and victims of attempted genocides in Bosnia Cambodia China and Tibet Their responses as varied as their experiences of the world remind us that Wiesenthal s questions are not limited to events of the past

The Sunflower John Maximovitch,2018-09-01 May our love for the Sun the will of God be as strong as the sunflower s so that even in days of hardship and sorrow we will continue to sail unerringly along the sea of life following the directions of the barometer and compass of God s will that leads us to the safe haven of eternity This is a thoroughly practical manual of the spiritual life focusing on the central goal of every Christian learning the will of God and struggling to mold our life to it just as Christ humbled Himself and became obedient Phil 2 8 Even more fundamentally St John addresses the question of why we should care about God s will Finally the reader will find eternal wisdom running through these writings on questions of theodicy free will and Divine Providence This work is reminiscent of the classic text Unseen Warfare in its historical genesis as an Orthodox redaction of an originally Roman Catholic text First published in 1627 as The Heliotropium it was the work of a German Jesuit writer Jeremias Drexelius The future St John adapted this text for an Orthodox audience as a student and then teacher at the Kiev Academy in the 1670 s but it was not published until 1714 just a year before the author s death This is the first English edition of St John s text further edited and abbreviated for the contemporary reader

Sunflower Andrew Collins,2012-05-04 Hard hitting truthful raw and challenging something the author tried to convey when writing his sophomore book Sunflower II This book moves on with the best styles from before but evolving into an entity of its own The writing styles again are varied as a sign of the differences in topics occurring today

all being relevant and sometimes emotional This book explores the depths of the readers conscience challenging them to actually make a difference to stand up for what they believe in If you are looking for a pick me up a read on a long commute to work or just something different then Sunflower II has this in every way Part II is a clear movement from the first in the collection being more refined mature and thought through The clear message of equality and economical decline is key to the messages behind the book whilst being inter twined with the messages of love trust and sadness All poems individually hold separate meanings but as a collective they show how diverse society is with its multicultural issues that affect everyday life Some pomes are direct follow ups to part one showing the writers movement from child to young adult something which based the foundations for the authors passion towards writing the series The intial poem Evolution defines clearly how the author has moved forward both in terms of linguistics and maturity His faith in life and after life boasts glory and hope something which other poems such as Given Up with a sense of sombre remorse towards some and joy towards others There have only been a select few poems having been illustrated these forming the key poems to the book Poems illustrated are Carnivore Hooker That Child The Journey of Fatty and The Three Wise Monkeys Carnivore is a poem about society with clear indications towards political groups in the UK and how they have manipulated the economy to suit their needs Hooker is a poem which has been described by the author as his own thoughts on how people as individuals seek success in such a competitive world being forced to take high risks and removing anyone who stands in their way That Child is a direct follow on from Child in part one being a look back on how the child has grown and how his story has changed him into what he is today again being the final poem of the book The Journey of Fatty is possibly the most personal poem to the author second to Monsters as it shows the authors struggle with his weight and his journey with Slimming World expressing his fondness for the group and yet holding on to the memories of why he actually joined in the first place The Three Wise Monkeys is a collection of three poems which look at the world and nature it clearly shows no sign of holding back when attacking the human race as a collective for destroying greenland and the environment All in all Sunflower Part II is the follow up to a body of work taking over ten years to complete It is something the author is proud to have worked on and somehting which he hopes will inspire others to do the same

Becoming Sunflower Brazil Sunflower Brazil,2024-01-04 Sunflower Brazil like many individuals grew up in less than desirable circumstances Circumstances that one could only dream of successfully surviving However even as a young child she held fast to the alchemist within her Day after day moment after moment transmuting her lows into self prophesying highs Then transforming her highs into magical life exhilarating experiences until she one day became a self assured confident loving spiritual being She is now sharing her wisdom and indomitable spirit with the world She is confidently inspiring the inner you to shine vigorously Enjoy the ride and Shine Bright my Loves Good Lil' Boys and Girls from the Sunflower State of Kansas and the Show Me State of Missouri Sharon Kaye Hunt,2016-04-28 The book is one of twelve books of the Black Children Speak Series The books are compiled of the interviews taken from slaves by the interviewers of the Federal Writers Project of the Works Progress Administration WPA in 1936-1938. The most of the ex slaves giving the interviews were children who gave some during slavery and gave interviews of their experiences and insights about living on plantations. The ex slaves answered questions on all aspects of the plantations in seventeen states of the United States before the Civil War. African Americans were freed from slavery after the Civil War in 1865. The series is dedicated to all people of the world.

Scott, Brandtner, Eveleigh, Webber Esther Trépanier, 2022-10-15. Four artists who are today relatively or almost entirely unknown, one woman and three men nevertheless played a part in the aesthetic upheavals that led to abstraction in 1940s Montreal. Very active in the art milieu throughout the decade, Marian Dale Scott, Fritz Brandtner, Henry Eveleigh, and Gordon Webber captured the attention of critics of the time who employed the term abstract art to describe both non-objective works and bold formal explorations that retained some reference to visible reality. An examination of these artists' practices reveals a remarkable openness to international contemporary art trends. French, German, British, and American. Their work and its critical reception conjure a complex picture of the debates on abstraction that took place in Montreal during the 1940s, so often reduced to the controversies surrounding the emergence of the Automatiste movement. The artistic innovations of Paul mile Borduas and his group and the radical tone of their 1948 manifesto Refus global cemented their status as Quebec's abstract avant-garde but also had the effect of eclipsing other visions of abstraction being explored during the same period. This book reinstates the oeuvres of these forgotten protagonists in the narrative of abstract art, illustrating how their practices encompassed a variety of themes: emotion, science, human experience in the broadest sense but also as the Second World War unfolded, the violence that marked their era.

Seven Million Sunflowers Malcolm Duffy, 2024-02-01. Escaping war is only half the battle as the Kovalenko family swap Ukrainian dangers for life with a British family. 15-year-old Kateryno and her family live in Kharkiv. Their lives are shattered when on February 24th, 2022, the Russian army invades. Their apartment block is struck by a missile. After weeks living in their basement, Kateryno, her mother, and brother decide to leave, joining seven million Ukrainian refugees. They come to England and meet their host family, the Hawkins. But their new beginning brings a whole new set of problems.

Reflections at Sunflower Farm: The Second Semester AJ Georgia, 2014-07-18. The Second Semester is book two in the Reflections at Sunflower Farm series. Ed Donovan, Mary, and Julian deal with the loss of a friend as their wedding plans come together. Mary's students dig deeper, learning more and more that their chosen field comes with personal dangers as well as mental ones. Graduation is fast approaching, which will mark the beginning of new careers and maybe the close of others. Foresters Farm looks like it could become a reality, which has Mary completely terrified to the point that it's making her physically ill. Or is it?
