Varieties of Ethical Reflection Michael

Barnhart,2002-01-01 Varieties of Ethical Reflection brings together new cultural and religious perspectives drawn from non Western primarily Asian philosophical sources to globalize the contemporary discussion of theoretical and applied ethics The work pushes ethics beyond a Western philosophical tradition tending toward universalism to infuse and broaden modern ethical theory with relativistic Asian ethical principles The contributors introduce multicultural concepts and ideas from the Chinese Taoist Confucian and Neo Confucian Indian and East Asian Buddhist and Hindu traditions focusing on such areas of moral controversy as the clash between women s rights and culture universal human rights abortion and euthanasia in a non Western setting and the standardization of medical practice across cultures

Moral Passion and Christian Ethics Robin

Gill,2017-03-06 In this book Robin Gill argues that moral passion and rational ethical deliberation are not enemies and that moral passion often lurks behind many apparently rational ethical commitments He also contends that though moral passion is a key component of truly selfless moral action without rational ethical deliberation it can also be extremely dangerous Gill maintains that a reanalysis of moral passion is overdue He inspects the gap between the purely rational accounts of ethics provided by some moral philosophers and the normative positions that they espouse and or the moral actions that they pursue He also contends that Christian ethicists have not been adept at identifying their own implicit moral passion or at explaining why it is that doctrinal positions generate passionately held moral conclusions Using a range of disciplines including cognitive science and moral psychology alongside the more usual disciplines of moral philosophy and religious ethics Gill also makes links with moral passion in other world faith traditions

Lying and Christian Ethics Christopher O.

Tollefsen,2014-04-28 This book defends the controversial absolute view of lying which maintains that an assertion contrary to the speaker's mind is always wrong regardless of the speaker's intentions Whereas most people believe that a lie told for a good cause such as protecting Jews from discovery by Nazis is morally acceptable Christopher Tollefsen argues that Christians should support the absolute view He looks back to the writings of Augustine and Aquinas to illustrate that lying violates the basic human goods of integrity and sociality and severely compromises the values of religion and truth He critiques the comparatively permissive views espoused by Cassian Bonhoeffer and Niebuhr and argues that lies often jeopardize the good causes for which they are told Beyond framing a moral absolute against lying this book explores the questions of to whom we owe the truth and when and what steps we may take when we should not give it AQA A-level Religious Studies Year 2 John Frye,Debbie Herring,Mel Thompson,2017-11-06 Exam Board AQA Level AS A level Subject Religious Studies First Teaching September 2016 First Exam June 2018 Engage students with accessible content that draws out the key theories ensuring students have a thorough understanding of Christianity and the philosophical and ethical issues developed by subject specialist John Frye and the leading Religious Studies publisher Confidently teach Philosophy and religion and Ethics religion and society with comprehensive coverage of the key philosophers concepts and theories along with sources of theological authority Supports learning and revision with a range of contemporary activities discussion points and unit summaries Prepares students for assessment with revision questions at the end of each chapter and practice questions tailored to the assessment objectives Content covered Philosophy and religion Sections A and B Section A is covered through Christianity Ethics religion and society Sections A and B Section A is covered through Christianity Taken from Educational Publishers Council statistics Religious Voices in Public Places Nigel Biggar,Linda Hogan,2009-09-03 Drawing on political philosophy and theology theory and practice this essay collection tackles the complex questions arising from the interface of religion and public life Includes critical analyses of theorists Rawls Stout and Habermas and discussion of key issues such as religious education and human rights
