Dobb, 1975      Studies in the Development of Capitalism Maurice 1900-1976 Dobb, 2021-09-09 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public To ensure a quality reading experience this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy to read typeface We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant      The Essential Guide to Critical Development Studies Henry Veltmeyer, Paul Bowles, 2021-09-30 The Essential Guide to Critical Development Studies provides an up to date and authoritative introduction to the field challenging mainstream development discourse and the assumptions that underlie it Critical development studies lays bare the economic political social and environmental crises that characterise the current global capitalist system proposing instead systemic change and different pathways for moving beyond capitalism into a new world of genuine progress where economic and social justice and ecological integrity prevail In this book the authors challenge market driven neoliberal development agendas incorporating analyses of class gender race and the dynamics of uneven capitalist development This thoroughly revised and expanded second edition includes 18 new chapters including on topics such as philanthrocapitalism race the energy transition Indigenous resistance and resilience and global health Expanded global coverage including new chapters on South Africa North Africa and the Gulf Arab states A new section on resistance and alternatives Additional pedagogical features including a glossary of key terms discussion questions and expanded guides for further reading This textbook will be essential reading for students of global development political science sociology economics gender studies geography history anthropology agrarian studies international political economy and area studies It will also be an important resource for development researchers practitioners and policymakers      Class Struggle and the New Deal Rhonda F. Levine, 1988 In this reassessment of New Deal policymaking Rhonda Levine argues that the major constraints upon and catalysts for FDR s policies were rooted in class conflict Countering neo Marxist and state centred theories which focus on administrative and bureaucratic structures she contends that too little attention has been paid to the effect of class struggle     Capitalist Development Ghanshyam Shah,1990     METU Studies in Development ,2005     Seminar ,1965     Critical Perspectives in Rural Development Studies Saturnino Borras Jr.,2013-09-13 Agrarian transformations within and across countries have been significantly and dynamically altered during the past few decades compared to previous eras provoking a variety of reactions from rural poor communities worldwide The recent convergence of various crises financial food energy and environmental has put the nexus between rural development and development in general back onto the center stage of theoretical policy and political agendas in the world today Confronting these issues will require re engaging with critical theories taking politics seriously and utilizing rigorous and appropriate research methodologies These are the common messages and implications of the various contributions to this collection in the context of a scholarship that is critical in two senses questioning prescriptions from mainstream perspectives and interrogating popular conventions in radical thinking This book focuses on key perspectives frameworks and methodologies in agrarian change and peasant studies The contributors are leading scholars in the field of rural development studies Henry Bernstein Terence J Byres Saturnino M Borras Jr Marc Edelman Crist bal Kay Benedict Kerkvliet Philip McMichael Shahra Razavi Ian Scoones and Teodor Shanin This book was previously published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies     Africa Perspective ,1986     Dualism and Rural Development in East Africa Roger Leys,1973 Compilation of research papers on underdevelopment the subsistence farming sector and rural development in East Africa comprising an examination of the economic theory of the dual economy presents a critique of dualism includes three brief case studies and examines such aspects of rural development as rural area industrialization the choice of technology rural health services growth poles etc References     The Role of Precious Metals in European Economic Development S. M. H. Bozorgnia,1998-03-19 Tracing the monetary history of Europe this study explores the impact of change in the availability and use of bullion in the form of money on the economic evolution of Europe The Romans fostered economic prosperity through the accumulation of bullion and circulation of accredited currency Over time shortages of species rendered the Roman coinage worthless As a result commercial activities contracted causing the breakdown of the Roman economic and political systems Lack of liquidity in the early Middle Ages limited commercial activities and promoted conditions sustaining dependency on land thereby enabling feudalism to flourish In the late 10th century discovery of rich silver mines in Central Europe increased the circulation of coinage promoting trade and demographic urbanization The augmentation of silver resources continued to boost economic prosperity during the 12th and 13th centuries In the 14th century decrease in mine output induced severe scarcity of bullion Lack of currency caused the contraction of economic activities leading to food shortages famines depopulation and the eventual breakdown of the feudal economic order Continuous shortage of bullion in the 15th century forced the reintroduction of barter trade and limited commercial activities Scarcity of precious metals induced the Portuguese to venture into Africa African gold provided them with the incentive and capital for expeditions of discovery to the East but the lack of sufficient bullion prevented them from monopolizing the eastern trade In the 16th century the influx of species from the mines of central Europe and America ended the European bullion famine and gave rise to economic prosperity

The Chinese Economy in the Early Twentieth Century Tim Wright,1992-08-18 The Routledge Handbook to Regional Development in Central and Eastern Europe

Gábor Lux,Gyula Horváth,2017-07-06 Twenty five years into transformation Central and Eastern European regions have undergone substantial socio economic restructuring integrating into European and global networks and producing new patterns of regional differentiation and development Yet post socialist modernisation has not been without its contradictions manifesting in increasing social and territorial inequalities Recent studies also suggest there are apparent limits to post socialist growth models accompanying a new set of challenges within an increasingly uncertain world Aiming to deliver a new synthesis of regional development issues at the crossroads between post socialism and post transition this book identifies the main driving forces of spatial restructuring in Central and Eastern Europe and charts the different regional development paths which take shape against the backdrop of post crisis Europe A comparative approach is used to highlight common development challenges and the underlying patterns of socio economic differentiation alike The issues investigated within the Handbook extend to a discussion of the varied economic consequences of transition the social structures and institutional systems which underpin development processes and the broadly understood sustainability of Central and Eastern Europe s current development model This book will be of interest to academics and policymakers working in the fields of regional studies economic geography development studies and policy
