Leadership is not about titles status and wielding power A leader is anyone who takes responsibility for recognizing the potential in people and ideas and has the courage to develop that potential When we dare to lead we don't pretend to have the right answers we stay curious and ask the right questions We don't see power as finite and hoard it we know that power becomes infinite when we share it with others We don't avoid difficult conversations and situations we lean into vulnerability when it's necessary to do good work But daring leadership in a culture defined by scarcity fear and uncertainty requires skill building around traits that are deeply and uniquely human The irony is that we're choosing not to invest in developing the hearts and minds of leaders at the exact same time as we're scrambling to figure out what we have to offer that machines and AI can't do better and faster What can we do better Empathy connection and courage to start
