Inclusive Music Histories: Leading Change through Research and Pedagogy Ayana O. Smith, 2023-08-18 Inclusive Music Histories Leading Change through Research and Pedagogy models effective practices for researchers and instructors striving either to reform music history curricula at large or update individual topics within their classes to be more inclusive. Confronting racial and other imbalances of Western music history, the author develops four core principles that enable a shift in thinking to create a truly intersectional music history narrative and provides case studies that can be directly applied in the classroom. The book addresses inclusivity issues in the discipline of musicology by outlining imbalances encoded into the canonic repertory, pedagogy, and historiography of the field. This book offers comprehensive teaching tools that instructors can use at all stages of course design, from syllabus writing and lecture planning to discussion techniques with assignments for each of the subject matter case studies. Inclusive Music Histories enables instructors to go beyond token representation to a more nuanced music history pedagogy.

Guide to Writing Collection Development Policies for Music Amanda Maple, Jean Morrow, 2001. Every music collection has its own specific features in terms of flexibility, users, and selecting criteria; therefore, a universal formula for writing collection development policies doesn't exist. This study aims to help librarians who are responsible for writing policies and refers not only to the proper process of planning a library's information resources but also to other related activities incorporated into or coordinated with the collection development policy, collection management activities, and resource sharing programmes.
