Parker,2024-03-21 The dismantlement of the British Empire had a profound impact on many celebrated white Anglophone writers of the twentieth century particularly those who were raised in former British colonial territories and returned to the metropole after the Second World War Formal decolonisation meant that these authors were unable to go home to their colonial childhoods a historical juncture with profound consequences for how they wrote and recorded their own lives Moving beyond previous discussions of imperial and colonial nostalgia Life Writing and the End of Empire is the first critical study of white memoirists and autobiographers who rewrote their memories of empire across numerous life narratives By focussing on these processual homecomings Emma Parker s study asks what it means to be at home in memories of empire whether in the settler farms of Southern Rhodesia or amidst the neon lights of Shanghai s International Settlement These discussions trace the legacies of empire to the habitations and detritus of everyday life from mansions and modest railway huts to empty swimming pools heirlooms and photograph albums Exploring works by Penelope Lively J G Ballard Doris Lessing and Janet Frame this study establishes new connections between authors usually discussed for their fiction and who have been hitherto unrecognised as post imperial life writers Offering close sustained analysis of autobiographies memoirs travel narratives and autofictions and identifying new subgenres such as speculative life writing this book advances rich new readings of autobiographical narrative By tracing the continuing importance of colonialism to white subjectivity the role of imperial memory in Britain and the ways that these unsettling forces move beneath the surface of modern and contemporary literature this study offers new conceptual insights to the fields of life writing and postcolonial studies Tracing the Soul,

Choreographing Transgression in Flamenco and Tauromaquia Miriana M. Lausic Arratia,2025-11-07 This book analyzes gesture ritual and performance in flamenco and tauromaquia the extended definition of bullfighting within the visual arts and poetry in contemporary Spain Based on the author s extensive ethnographic field research it emerges from recent critical thinking on the body in dance and performance studies The main argument is that flamenco and la corrida are a type of choreographic writing as both corporeal inscription and a field of spacing and timing bordered by death Transgression is conceived as the breaching and blurring of limits between two seemingly opposed spaces the corporeal and incorporeal the animal and human the real and the imaginary life and death Flamenco and tauromaquia incorporate and reshape cultural and historical layers of memory and sense which are marked by multiple social and political intersections This book fills a gap in the knowledge of their interconnectedness It equally contributes to resolving an epistemological crisis in dance studies to the interplay between the visible and the invisible in choreographed movements This interdisciplinary text serves scholars across fields including Dance Cultural Studies Anthropology and Iberian and Latin American Studies particularly A Treatise on the Law of Easements John Leybourn Goddard, 1871 Lorca's Drawings and Poems Cecelia J. Cavanaugh, 1995 Lorca's Drawings and Poems focuses on the act of reading Lorca's drawn or written texts and how the reading of one genre can inform the reading of another Throughout the study poetry and drawings from every period of Lorca's career are examined Selected drawings are interpreted next poems contemporary to those drawings are analyzed in their light In chapter 1 a common poetics is extracted from Lorca's comments about his drawings and writing and placed in the context of the literary and artistic movements of his day The evolution of the literary criticism that examines Lorca's drawings is traced and reviewed Lorca's texts are examined from varying perspectives in the chapters that follow In chapter 2 drawings and poems from 1927 to 1928 are analyzed in light of Lorca's participations in artistic and literary movements during those years Texts from each period of Lorca's work are read in chapter 3 in a study of Lorca's employment of space and his depiction of setting and subject in his drawings and poems Such a chronological approach allows the reading of Lorca's texts to reveal the evolution of his aesthetics as well as to identify the imagery and techniques that remained consistent throughout his career
