The Foundations of Female Entrepreneurship Alison Kay, 2012-08-21 The Foundations of Female Entrepreneurship explores the relationship between home household headship and enterprise in Victorian London It examines the notions of duty honor and suitability in how women's ventures are represented by themselves and others and engages in a comparison of the interpretation of historical female entrepreneurship by contemporaries and historians in the UK Europe and America It argues that just as women in business have often been hidden by men they have often also been hidden by the home and the conceptualization of separate spheres of public and private agency and of the entrepreneur Drawing on contextual evidence from 1747 to 1880 including fire insurance records directories trade cards newspapers memoirs the census and extensive record linkage this study concentrates on the early to mid Victorian period when ideals about gender roles and appropriate work for women were vigorously debated Alison Kay offers new insight into the motivations of the Victorian women who opted to pursue enterprises of their own By engaging in empirical comparisons with men's business it also reveals similarities and differences with the small to medium sized ventures of male business proprietors The link between home and enterprise is then further excavated by detailed record linkage revealing the households and domestic circumstances and responsibilities of female proprietors Using both discourse and data to connect enterprise proprietor and household The Foundations of Female Entrepreneurship provides a multi dimensional picture of the Victorian female proprietor and moves beyond the stereotypes It argues that active business did not exclude women although careful representation was vital and this has obscured the similarities of their businesses with those of many male business proprietors Diana Mary Francis Shura, 1988 Diana is torn between the attentions of a wealthy Creole suitor and a young man who is part of the Lewis and Clarke expedition Junior High Private Eyes Kate Kenyon, 1989 Jen Nora and Lucy overhear what sounds like someone planning a bank robbery No proof the police say So the three girls convince the rest of the eighth grade to help them gather evidence Take Me Back M.
