Slaves On Screen Film And Historical Vision:

Slaves on Screen Natalie Zemon Davis, 2011-03-04 People have been experimenting with different ways to write history for 2 500 years yet we have experimented with film in the same way for only a century Noted professor and historian Natalie Zemon Davis consultant for the film The Return of Martin Guerre argues that movies can do much more than recreate exciting events and the external look of the past in costumes and sets Film can show millions of viewers the sentiments experiences and practices of a group a period and a place it can suggest the hidden processes and conflicts of political and family life And film has the potential to show the past accurately wedding the concerns of the historian and the filmmaker To explore the achievements and flaws of historical films in differing traditions Davis uses two themes slavery and women in political power She shows how slave resistance and the memory of slavery are represented through such films as Stanley Kubrick's Spartacus Steven Spielberg's Amistad and Jonathan Demme's Beloved Then she considers the portrayal of queens from John Ford's Mary of Scotland and Shekhar Kapur's Elizabeth to John Madden's Mrs Brown and compares them with the cinematic treatments of Eva Peron and Golda Meir This visionary book encourages readers to consider history films both appreciatively and critically while calling historians and filmmakers to a new collaboration

Medieval and Early Modern Film and Media R. Burt, 2016-04-30 Medieval and Early Modern Film and Media contextualizes historical films in an innovative way not only relating them to the history of cinema but also to premodern and early modern media This philological approach to the pre history of cinema engages both old media such as scrolls illuminated manuscripts the Bayeux Tapestry and new digital media such as DVDs HD DVDs and computers Burt examines the uncanny repetitions that now fragment films into successively released alternate cuts and extras footnote tracks audiocommentaries and documentaries that re structure and reframe historical films thereby presenting new challenges to historicist criticism and film theory With a double focus on recursive narrative frames and the cinematic paratexts of medieval and early modern film this book calls our attention to strange sometimes opaque phenomena in film and literary theory that have previously gone unrecognized

Screening the Sixties Oliver Gruner, 2016-09-17 This book provides a detailed and engaging account of how Hollywood cinema has represented and remembered the Sixties From late 1970s hippie musicals such as Hair and The Rose through to recent civil rights portrayals The Help and Lee Daniels The Butler Oliver Gruner explores the ways in which films have engaged with broad debates on America's recent past Drawing on extensive archival research he traces production history and script development showing how a group of politically engaged filmmakers sought to offer resonant contributions to public memory Situating Hollywood within a wider series of debates taking place in the US public sphere Screening the Sixties offers a rigorous and innovative study of cinema's engagement with this most contested of epochs

Toward the Visualization of History Mark Howard Moss, 2008-01-01 This book discusses the impact of visuals on the study of history by examining visual culture and the future of print providing an analysis of photography film television and computer culture

The author shows how the visualization of history can become a driving social and cultural force for change Films With Legs Véronique Maisier, Rosemary A. Peters, 2011-07-12 Films With Legs Crossing Borders with Foreign Language Films addresses the ways international cinematic traditions both erect borders and blur them or tear them down Each chapter of this book examines real and perceived borders their representations on the screen and their manifestations in filmic texts that can also be cultural documents and political statements The fifteen articles included here discuss films made by twenty four directors with dialogues in nine foreign languages representing cultural aspects from twelve countries and five continents From Algeria to Bulgaria Germany to Israel India to Argentina the films studied in this book have legs that cross many borders and take their audiences on distant journeys Simultaneously these films comment on the ever expanding nature of cinema itself of filmic language and of film as language and discuss how borders are constructed on the screen not just in fences and walls and boundaries but also in dialogue and dialect speech and accent and silence History in Practice 2nd edition Ludmilla Jordanova, 2016-07-28 History in Practice explores the discipline's breadth its complexities and the tasks it takes on This study by one of the liveliest and most acute practitioners in the field demystifies what historians do It looks at history as an academic discipline but also engages with the use of historical ideas in the wider world Historical work has public consequences and draws considerable energy from contemporary preoccupations For this new edition of her respected and widely used book Ludmilla Jordanova has revised the text and added a new chapter that takes into account recent world events She discusses the role of the internet globalisation world history and the current enthusiasm for military history This book is essential reading for all students needing an understanding of history as a discipline Witnessing Australian Stories Kelly Jean Butler, 2017-07-28 This book is about how Australians have responded to stories about suffering and injustice in Australia presented in a range of public media including literature history films and television Those who have responded are both ordinary and prominent Australians politicians writers and scholars All have sought to come to terms with Australia's history by responding empathetically to stories of its marginalized citizens Drawing upon international scholarship on collective memory public history testimony and witnessing this book represents a cultural history of contemporary Australia It examines the forms of witnessing that dominated Australian public culture at the turn of the millennium Since the late 1980s witnessing has developed in Australia in response to the increasingly audible voices of indigenous peoples migrants and more recently asylum seekers As these voices became public they posed a challenge not only to scholars and politicians but also most importantly to ordinary citizens When former Prime Minister Kevin Rudd delivered his historic apology to Australia's indigenous peoples in February 2008 he performed an act of collective witnessing that affirmed the testimony and experiences of Aboriginal Australians The phenomenon of witnessing became crucial not only to the recognition and reparation of past injustices but to efforts to create a more cosmopolitan Australia in the present This is a vital addition to Transaction's critically acclaimed Memory and Narrative series New York and Slavery Alan J.

Singer, 2008-08-21 Challenges readers to rethink the way we view the nation's past and race relations in the present

Whither Quo Vadis? Ruth Scodel, Anja Bettenworth, 2009-03-09 Whither Quo Vadis offers an engaging account of how the Roman world and its history are represented in film and the way in which the different adaptations reflect the shifting historical situations and ideological concerns of their own times Explores five surviving film adaptations Guazzoni's of 1912 D Annunzio Jacoby of 1925 Mervyn LeRoy's of 1951 the Italian TV mini series of 1985 by Franco Rossi and Kawalerowicz's 2001 Polish version Examines how these different versions interpret select from and modify the novel and the ancient sources on which it is based Offers an exceptionally clear view of how films have presented ancient Rome and how modern conditions determine its reception Looks at rare and archival material which has not previously received close scholarly attention

Public History Faye Sayer, 2019-01-24 The 2nd edition of Public History A Practical Guide provides a fresh examination of history as practiced in its various worldly guises and contexts It analyses the many skills that historians require in the practice of public history and looks at how a range of actors including museums archives government agencies community history societies and the media digital media make history accessible to a wider audience in a variety of ways Faye Sayer's exciting new edition includes Brand new chapters on Restoration and Preservation and history and the working world Substantial additions covering the growing fields of digital history and history in politics More images figures and international case studies from the US Australia the UK Europe and Asia Personal Reflection sections from a range of industry experts from around the world Historiographical updates and significant revisions throughout the text Expanded online Public History Toolkit resource with a range of new features Public History A Practical Guide delivers a comprehensive outline of this increasingly prevalent area of the discipline offering a distinctly global approach that is both accessible and engaging in equal measure Finally it explores future methodological possibilities and can be used as a reference point for professional development planning in the sectors discussed This is the essential overview for any student wanting to know what history means beyond the classroom

History on Film/Film on History Robert A. Rosenstone, 2023-11-30 History on Film Film on History has established itself as a classic treatise on the historical film and its role in bringing the past to life In the fourth edition of this widely acclaimed text Robert A Rosenstone argues that to leave history films out of the discussion of the meaning of the past is to ignore a major means of understanding historical events This book examines what history films convey about the past and how they convey it demonstrating the need to learn how to read and understand this new visual world and integrating detailed analysis of films such as Schindler's List Glory October and Reds Advocating for the dramatic feature as a legitimate way of doing history this edition includes a new Preface and a new chapter that focuses on films produced in Latin America Africa the Middle East India and East Asia Examining the codes and conventions of how these films tell us about the past and providing guidance on how to effectively analyse films as historical interpretations this book is an essential introduction to the field for students of history and film the Founders Andrew M. Schocket, 2017-02 Explores how politicians screenwriters activists biographers jurists museum professionals and reenactors portray the American Revolution The American Revolution is all around us It is pictured as big as billboards and as small as postage stamps evoked in political campaigns and car advertising campaigns relived in museums and revised in computer games As the nation's founding moment the American Revolution serves as a source of powerful founding myths and remains the most accessible and most contested event in US history more than any other it stands as a proxy for how Americans perceive the nation's aspirations Americans increased fascination with the Revolution over the past two decades represents more than interest in the past It's also a site to work out the present and the future What are we using the Revolution to debate In Fighting over the Founders Andrew M Schocket explores how politicians screenwriters activists biographers jurists museum professionals and reenactors portray the American Revolution Identifying competing essentialist and organicist interpretations of the American Revolution Schocket shows how today's memories of the American Revolution reveal Americans conflicted ideas about class about race and about gender as well as the nature of history itself Fighting over the Founders plumbs our views of the past and the present and illuminates our ideas of what United States means to its citizens in the new millennium

Ancient Worlds in Film and Television Almut-Barbara Renger, Jon Solomon, 2012-11-13 This volume reinvigorates the field of Classical Reception by investigating present day culture society and politics particularly gender gender roles and filmic constructions of masculinity and femininity which shape and are shaped by interacting economic political and ideological practices

History by HBO Rebecca Weeks, 2022-07-12 The television industry is changing and with it the small screen's potential to engage in debate and present valuable representations of American history Founded in 1972 HBO has been at the forefront of these changes leading the way for many network cable and streaming services into the post network era Despite this most scholarship has been dedicated to analyzing historical feature films and documentary films leaving TV and the long form drama hungry for coverage In History by HBO Televising the American Past Rebecca Weeks fills the gap in this area of media studies and defends the historiographic power of long form dramas By focusing on this change and its effects History by HBO outlines how history is crafted on television and the diverse forms it can take Weeks examines the capabilities of the long form serial for engaging with historical stories insisting that the shift away from the network model and toward narrowcasting has enabled challenging histories to thrive in home settings As an examination of HBO's unique structure for producing quality historical dramas Weeks provides four case studies of HBO series set during different periods of United States history Band of Brothers 2001 Deadwood 2004-2007 Boardwalk Empire 2012-2014 and Treme 2010-2013 In each case HBO's lack of advertiser influence commitment to creative freedom and generous budgets continue to draw and retain talent who want to tell historical stories Balancing historical and film theories in her assessment of the roles of mise en scene characterization narrative complexity and sound in the production of effective historical dramas Weeks evaluation acts as an ode to the most recent Golden Age of TV as well as a critical look at the relationship between entertainment media and collective memory

Documenting Taiwan on Film Sylvia Li-chun Lin, Tze-lan Deborah Sang, 2012-03-12 To date there is but a handful of articles on documentary films from Taiwan This volume seeks to remedy the paucity in this area of research and conduct a systematic analysis of the genre Each contributor to the volume investigates the various aspects of documentary by focusing on one or two specific films that document social political and cultural changes in recent Taiwanese history Since the lifting of martial law documentary has witnessed a revival in Taiwan with increasing numbers of young independent filmmakers covering a wide range of subject matter in contrast to fiction films which have been in steady decline in their appeal to local Taiwanese viewers These documentaries capture images of Taiwan in its transformation from an agricultural island to a capitalist economy in the global market as well as from an authoritarian system to democracy What make these documentaries a unique subject of academic inquiry lies not only in their exploration of local Taiwanese issues but more importantly in the contribution they make to the field of non fiction film studies As the former third world countries and Soviet bloc begin to re examine their past and document social changes on film the case of Taiwan will undoubtedly become a valuable source of comparison and inspiration These Taiwanese documentaries introduce a new Asian perspective to the wealth of Anglo American scholarship with the potential to serve as exemplar for countries undergoing similar political and social transformations Documenting Taiwan on Film is essential reading for all those interested in Taiwan Studies film studies and Asian cinema

From Havana to Hollywood Philip Kaisary, 2024-07-01 From Havana to Hollywood examines the presence or absence of Black resistance to slavery in feature films produced in either Havana or Hollywood including Gillo Pontecorvo's Burn neglected masterpieces by Cuban auteurs Tom's Gutierrez Alea and Sergio Giral and Steve McQueen's Oscar winning 12 Years a Slave Philip Kaisary argues that with rare exceptions the representation of Black agency in Hollywood has always been and remains taboo Contrastingly Cuban cinema foregrounds Black agency challenging the ways in which slavery has been misremembered and misunderstood in North America and Europe With powerful richly theorized readings the book shows how Cuban cinema especially recreates the past to fuel visions of liberation and asks how the medium of film might contribute to a renewal of emancipatory politics today

Modernity Disavowed Sibylle Fischer, 2004-04-30 A study of the ways that knowledge of the slave revolt in Haiti was denied repressed disavowed within the network of slave owning states and plantation societies of the New World and the effects and meaning of this disavowal

Cultural Studies Review Chris Healy and Stephen Muecke (eds), 2008-03-01 Thinking and writing about the past challenging what history might be and how it could appear is an ongoing interest of this journal and an ongoing sometimes contentious point of connection between cultural studies and history The shifts in how we research and write the past is no simple story of accepted breakthroughs that have become the new norms nor is it a story where it is easy to identify what the effects of cultural studies thinking on the discipline of history has been History has provided its own challenges to its own practices in a very robust way while the cultural studies has challenged what the past is and how it might be rendered from a wide ranging set of ideas and modes of representation that have less to do with specific disciplinary arguments than responses to particular modes textual filmic sonic particular sites nations Indigenous temporalities sexuality literature gender and perhaps a greater willingness to accentuate the political in the historical

Cannibalizing the Colony Richard Allen Gordon, 2009 The years 1992 and 2000 marked the 500 year anniversary of the arrival of the Spanish and the Portuguese in America and prompted an explosion of rewritings and cinematic renditions of texts and figures from colonial Latin America Cannibalizing the Colony analyzes a crucial way that Latin American historical films have grappled with the legacy of colonialism It studies how and why filmmakers in Brazil and Mexico the countries that have produced most films about the colonial period in Latin America appropriate and transform colonial narratives of European and indigenous contact into commentaries on national identity The book looks at how filmmakers attempt to reconfigure history and culture and incorporate it into present day understandings of the nation The book additionally considers the motivations and implications for these filmic dialogues with the past and how the directors attempt to control the way that spectators understand the complex and contentious roots of identity in Mexico and Brazil
