Talking Business Making Communication Work:

Talking Business: Making Communication Work David Clutterbuck, Sheila Hirst, 2012-06-14 Internal communication is a growing field with the number of specialists increasing worldwide In spite of this and vast increases in spending on communication research shows that organizations are finding it difficult to raise the number of employees who feel well informed Now more than ever internal communication does not just concern communication managers In today's lean organizations line managers are taking on more and more of the burden of employee communication and managers of remote offices have to be their own communication managers Talking Business making communication work addresses the key issues in communication within organizations supported by case studies taken from experience of working with global businesses It provides a coherent theory of business communication and shows how a radical difference to communication practice and business performance can be made The authors employ an interactive structure throughout with signposts to link related cases and chapters

Management Communication James S. O'Rourke, 2019-04-18 This textbook introduces students to the strategic communication methods that are crucial to master in order to develop into effective and ethical managers at all levels of business Effective communication skills are necessary for success in the business world and O'Rourke has written a highly readable book filled with anecdotes and examples to engage students in the learning process This edition includes several classic and new features The strategic approach is integrated throughout the book allowing students to understand how a communicated message impacts the business as a whole Case studies throughout the book provide students with hands on experience of scenarios they will encounter in the real world The book includes at least three dozen fresh classroom tested cases An ethical thread is woven through the text demonstrating how ethical decision making can be applied in all aspects of communication Separate chapters on technology including social media intercultural communication nonverbal communication and conflict management provide students with the skills to building relationships and influencing stakeholders key skills for any manager A companion website includes comprehensive support material to teach this class making Management Communication a complete resource for students and instructors

Innovation Ecosystems and the Role of Communication Dominika Narožna, Justyna Adamska, 2024-10-11 This book analyses the role of communication in creating the value of innovation ecosystems from the perspective of the international network of technology parks and areas of innovation It explores the relations and interactions between different stakeholders administration universities business innovation agencies highlighting the important role of communication within successful innovation ecosystems The role of communication is explained using different levels of communication approach The authors present communication as a complex process involving all the ecosystem stakeholders who are as well motivated and involved in different roles norms business models environments organizations cultures etc The book proposes novel and interdisciplinary research management social communication and journalism political science and administration focused on the potential of communication in order to design the paradigm and indicate practical implications The authors take into consideration modern IT tools which provide the ground for redefining the connections between stakeholders as well as sustainable development and ESG values which change the perspective and priorities of the ecosystem Innovation Ecosystems and the Role of Communication is written for scholars and researchers in the fields of innovation studies management science and communication studies Virtual Coach, Virtual Mentor David Clutterbuck,Zulfi

Hussain,2010-10-01 In the case of virtual coaching and mentoring or e mentoring and ecoaching or coaching mentoring by wire choose your own preferred nomenclature there are hundreds perhaps thousands of programs and initiatives across the world Yet there is comparatively little in the way of comparison of good practice or academic evaluation of what does and doesn t work We found numerous individual case studies but a dearth of empirical research and no significant collection of cases to illustrate the diversity of applications Virtual Coach Virtual Mentor provides a wide variety of perspectives on a rapidly growing phenomenon We hope and intend that it should make a timely and significant contribution to good practice and to encouraging more practitioners and their clients and more organizations to experiment with using electronic media to enrich coaching and mentoring The view of ecoaching and e mentoring is firmly one that these new media are less a replacement for traditional face to face than an enhancement of learning alliances in general We see no evidence of fewer face to face coaching or mentoring relationships on the contrary they continue to become more popular and widespread Rather we see that virtual coaching and mentoring both enrich predominantly face to face relationships by connecting partners at times between formal meetings and open up coaching and mentoring to new audiences and new applications
