Talking Trade U S Policy In International Perspective:

Talking Trade Robert S Walters, 2020-01-16 Challenges from Japan opportunities in the new European Community and prospects for developing countries economies all revolve around trade and all have implications for U S economic strengths and interests The cases in this book have been selected to illustrate a variety of contemporary trade policies practices and partners The volume begins with an overview of the multilateral trade regime embodied in the GATT it then moves on to specifics including two different cases of U S Japanese exchanges goods versus services trade strategies of Brazil as a newly industrializing country and the EC as the world s largest trader Throughout the cases larger themes are traced connecting trade with economic policy foreign policy with domestic politics and change in U S economic strength with the rise of new economic powers in the world arena

Talking Trade Robert S Walters, 1993-09-19 Fundamentals Of U.s. Foreign Trade Policy Stephen D. Cohen, 2019-04-08 This unique text integrates for the first time the three critical aspects of U S foreign trade policy formulation and implementation economics politics and laws In a comprehensive and nonjudgmental manner a political scientist an economist and a legal scholar combine efforts to present a well rounded view of the nature and impact of trade p

Multilateralism Under Challenge: Power, International Order, And Structural Change Edward Newman, Ramesh Thakur And John Triman, Regionalism in International Investment Law Leon Trakman, Nick W. Ranieri, 2013-04-25 Regionalism in International Investment Law provides a multinational perspective on international investment law In it distinguished academics and practitioners provide a critical and comprehensive understanding of issues in a field which has grown exponentially in its importance particularly over the last decade focusing on the European Union Australia North America Asia and China The book approaches the field of foreign direct investment from both academic and practical viewpoints and analyzes different bilateral regional and multinational agreements often yielding competing perspectives The academic perspective yields a strong conceptual foundation to often misunderstood elements of international investment law while the practical perspective aids those actively pursuing foreign direct investment in better understanding the landscape identifying potential conflicts which may arise in more accurately assessing the risk underlying the issues in conflict and in resolving those issues Thorny issues relating to global commerce sovereignty regulation expropriation dispute resolution and investor protections are covered depicting how they have developed and are applied in different regions of the world These different treatments ensure that readers are able grasp the subject matter at multiple levels and provide a comprehensive overview of developments in the field of foreign direct investment

Beyond Foreign Economic Policy Brian Hocking, Michael Smith, 1997-01-01 Investigates the ways in which the US responded to the European Community s Single Market Program launched in the 1980s arguing that foreign economic policy is the product of interests and actions expressed by a wide range of groups and at many different levels Analyzes changes faced by the US in the world political economy of the 1990s and details the process by which Congress state governments and US executives and firms responded to the Single Market Program looking especially at issues of public procurement and standards testing and certification Distributed by Books International Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Trade Unions and Global Governance Gerda van Roozendaal, 2020-04-22 As the world economy is liberalized and national economies become more intertwined the national decision making of states is also increasingly interdependent and it has become vital for non governmental organizations to create an international agenda This title is an important study of what makes such organizations successful on an international level The focus is on trade unions as a key international group of NGOs It asks whether a global system can be designed to stimulate countries to observe a set of minimum or core standards It explores three important questions how have unions attempted to influence the debate on the inclusion of minimum labour standards in the WTO agreement what accounts for their success or lack of success and what conclusions with respect to the effective behaviour of trade unions in the construction of international policy can be drawn from these experiences In exploring these questions the text looks at social clause debates within a number of international bodies the ILO OECD and the EU and within two countries the USA and India

The Expert Negotiator, 4th Revised Edition Raymond Saner, 2012-05-31 In this book the social scientist and economist Professor Dr Raymond Saner draws on his long years of experience as a negotiation adviser teacher trainer researcher and university lecturer to show that two thirds of negotiation practice is learnable The author treats the different aspects of negotiation practice in a way that is useful to both academics and practitioners such that the general laws and principles gradually become evident as and of themselves

Trade Threats, Trade Wars Ka Zeng, 2010-02-09 A multidisciplinary approach that offers practical policy prescriptions

The Expert Negotiator, 4th Edition Raymond Saner, 2012-05-31 Success in negotiation is not a matter of chance but the result of careful planning and specialized skills Some of these skills are inborn others need to be learnt In this book the social scientist and economist Professor Dr Raymond Saner draws on his long years of experience as a negotiation adviser teacher trainer researcher and university lecturer to show that two thirds of negotiation practice is learnable Yet very few people are specifically trained in this everyday task Without sacrificing scientific accuracy Professor Saner offers a highly readable and fascinating guide to the subject In so doing he does not limit himself to the over simplified tips generally put out on successful bargaining in every imaginable situation Rather he treats the different aspects of negotiation practice in a way that is useful to both academics and practitioners such that the general laws and principles gradually become evident as and of themselves The aim of this approach is to reveal the essence of negotiation through the experience of both the author and the reader Such an understanding of the processes involved in negotiation is of far greater practical value than a mere collection of recipes with no discussion of the underlying theory while the most comprehensive treatment of the theory without reference to its application in practice would be only half the story Thus the text is supplemented by a series of illustrative examples and case studies from the business political NGO and international organization arenas plus some seventy figures and tables With all this the author has paid considerable attention to writing a text that is both entertaining to read and rigorous in content

The Expert Negotiator Raymond Saner, 2008 Success in negotiation is not a matter of chance but the result of careful planning and specialized skills Some of these skills are inborn others need to be learnt In this book the social scientist and economist Professor Dr Raymond Saner draws on his long years of experience as a negotiation adviser teacher trainer researcher and university lecturer to show that two thirds of negotiation practice is learnable Yet very few people are specifically trained in this everyday task

Farm Wars R. Wolfe, 1997-11-09 The Farm War of the early 1980s was rooted in the political economy of agriculture but it was a crisis for the international trading system The war was evident in disruptions on the farm and in world markets in conflicts among major governments and in disagreements in international organizations Wolfe shows how and why battles over agricultural protectionism were largely resolved through the Uruguay Round of GATT negotiations demonstrating that the global economy is not self regulating it needs institutions if it is to be stable Making Peace Allan E. Goodman, 2019-03-07 As recent conflicts in Panama and the Persian Gulf demonstrate we know much more about making war than we do about making peace Such conflicts are not likely to disappear and this volume reviews what has and hasn't worked in negotiating an end to war Six case studies ranging from World War I to the Persian Gulf crisis illustrate a variety of actors stakes and strategies involved in the peacemaking process Key turning points toward peace or deadlock are identified along the way Making Peace also provides discussion questions historical backgrounds and theoretical introductions to show different and differentially successful avenues to peace

Dealing With Debt Thomas J. Biersteker, 2019-03-04 The global debt burden has proven to be a bad bargain for developed and developing countries alike This selection of case studies illustrates the complexity of international financial negotiations and the difficulty of reaching international agreements satisfactory to both creditors and debtors The key aspects of debtor country bargaining power are explored size strategic significance internal cohesion and political stability as we read of creditors flexing their financial muscles to produce domestic economic reform without significant international debt relief This volume brings together a theoretical overview of the subject cases describing the principal institutional actors carefully excerpted cases of bilateral financial negotiations suggestions for further reading and a helpful glossary of technical terms It illuminates how complex international financial negotiations are conducted and what their impact is on both the domestic political economy and the international relations of the countries involved

Many Voices Abiodun Williams, 2019-03-04 International negotiations increasingly involve a myriad of state and nonstate actors who approach major issues from a variety of standpoints and work to determine outcomes acceptable to all Great powers military allies business and industry LDCs international organizations and even domestic politics enter into negotiations on complex issues ranging from defense and national security to environmental protection and Third World development that now dominate the global agenda Abiodun Williams has assembled a collection of case studies that illustrate the variety and dynamism of this complex decisionmaking process Cases including conflict resolution in Indochina and mining in Antarctica show students the role of contending national objectives necessary trade offs and efforts at coalition building as well as the influence of personality and persuasion on the outcomes of major negotiations A case exploring the investment activities of transnational corporations and their impact on developing countries is organized as a simulation exercise that offers students rare insight into negotiations under UN auspices and the impact of regional bloc politics on multilateral diplomacy Seeking Justice Rachel M Mccleary, 2019-06-21 The Westview series Case Studies in International Affairs stems from a major project of The Pew Charitable Trusts entitled The Pew Diplomatic Initiative Launched in 1985 this project has sought to improve the teaching and practice of negotiation through adoption of the case method of teaching principally in professional schools of international affairs in the United States Annual Survey of International & Comparative Law ,1999 International Bibliography of the Social Sciences ,1994 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences
