The Politics of Artists in War Zones Kit Messham-Muir,Uroš Cvorović,Monika Lukowska-Appel,2023-12-14 What exactly is contemporary war art in the West today This book considers the place of contemporary war art in the 2020s a whole generation after 9 11 and long past the War on Terror Exploring the role contemporary art plays within conversations around war and imperialism the book brings together chapters from international contemporary artists theorists and curators alongside the voices of contemporary war artists through original edited interviews It addresses newly emerged contexts in which war is found not only sites of contemporary conflicts such as Ukraine Yemen and Syria but everywhere in western culture from social media to culture wars With interviews from official war artists working in the UK the US and Australia such as eX de Medici Australia and David Cotterrell UK as well as those working in post colonial contexts such as Baptist Coelho India the editors reflect on contemporary processes of memorialisation and the impact of British colonisation in Australia India and its relation to historical conflicts It focuses on three overlapping themes firstly the role of memory and amnesia in colonial contexts

secondly the complex role of official war art and thirdly questions of testimony and knowing in relation to alleged war crimes torture and genocide Richly illustrated and featuring three substantial interview chapters The Politics of Artists in War Zones is a hands on exploration of the complexities and challenges faced by war artists that contextualises the tensions between the contemporary art world and the portrayal of war It is essential reading for researchers of fine art curatorial studies museum studies conflict studies and photojournalism Feminists Who Changed America, 1963-1975 Barbara J. Love,2006-09-22

Documenting key feminists who ignited the second wave women s movement Barbara J Love s Feminists Who Changed America 1963 1975 will be the first comprehensive directory to document many of the founders and leaders including both well known and grassroots organizers of the second wave women s movement It tells the stories of more than two thousand individual women and a few notable men who together reignited the women s movement and made permanent changes to entrenched customs and laws The biographical entries on these pioneering feminists represent their many factions all parts of the country all races and ethnic groups and all political ideologies Nancy Cott s foreword discusses the movement in relation to the earlier first wave and presents a brief overview of the second wave in the context of other contemporaneous social movements The Concept and Practice of Conversation in the Long Eighteenth Century, 1688-1848 Katie

Halsey,Jane Slinn,2009-05-05 This collection of essays brings together eighteenth century scholars from a variety of disciplines to discuss conversation in the eighteenth century as concept and practice At the heart of the volume is a simple question are eighteenth century conceptualisations of the role and purpose of conversation still relevant or useful to scholars and thinkers today This volume contains essays by leading scholars of the period as well as early career researchers and answers a need for a broad ranging discussion of the concept of conversation in the arts social sciences and humanities The long eighteenth century is a particularly fruitful starting point for work on this topic since ideas about conversation permeated all types of writing in this period from the early forerunners of scientific textbooks to philosophical dialogues The collection covers an exceptionally wide range of long eighteenth century authors artists lawmakers texts and works of art and although the focus of the volume is largely on eighteenth century Britain the volume takes note of the rich relationships between continental European thought and British intellectual life in the period and of the influence of British ideas in the newly independent American republic How To Talk To Absolutely Anyone Mark Rhodes,2017-11-20

Artists, Cosmopolitanism, and the Civic Imagination Maria Rovisco,2025-02-17

Artists Cosmopolitanism and the Civic Imagination unpacks the political agency of artists by looking at artists as moral reflexive and political agents Do artists play a role in civil society Can artists make a difference in the world In what ways do artists act politically To address these questions this book moves away from a focus on social organisation and the production of art to ask how artists attach meaning to their interventions in social and political conditions Maria Rovisco draws from in depth interviews with UK based visual artists and theatre practitioners with a migrant background and semiotic analysis of a theatre play visual artworks and film texts to argue that artists are quintessential cosmopolitans who care deeply about changing society for the better By explaining how artists get involved in cross cultural encounters this book reveals the processes of listening reflection imagination social learning and moral intentionality through which artists imagine and realise their visions of a better world In so doing it offers a new direction in thinking about the intersection of art and politics by showing how artists play a crucial role in building a civic culture outside traditional sites of political participation This book will be essential reading for students and scholars across the social sciences and the humanities with interests in migration citizenship and the public sphere cultural sociology media and culture cosmopolitanism and art Benjamin
