Taoist Buildings:

Taoist Buildings Qiao Yun, 2015 Taoist Buildings traces the origins and development of Taoism in China and Taoism's effect on Chinese architecture with color photographs and illustrations of various Taoist temples, monasteries and palaces

Ancient Chinese Architecture / Taoist Buildings Yun Qiao, 2001-11-28 The Taoist buildings and gardens and their relationship to natural elements, history and legends provide a rare insight into the ethereal world of Taoism. Taoist buildings have basically evolved from the traditional square Chinese courtyards. The main halls built on the central axis serve as places of enshrinement and worship for statues of Taoist gods as well as for conducting ritual ceremonies. Many Taoist temples have a small garden. In hilly areas, these gardens have been built to gracefully echo the surrounding landscape. These temples abound with sculpture, calligraphy and stone inscriptions. Taoism and the Arts of China Stephen Little, Shawn Eichman, Kristofer Shipper, Patricia Buckley Ebrey, 2000-01-01 A celebration of Taoist art traces the influence of philosophy on the visual arts in China. The Encyclopedia of Taoism Fabrizio Pregadio, 2013-05-13 The Encyclopedia of Taoism provides comprehensive coverage of Taoist religion, thought and history, reflecting the current state of Taoist scholarship. Taoist studies have progressed beyond any expectation in recent years. Researchers in a number of languages have investigated topics virtually unknown only a few years previously, while others have surveyed for the first time textual, doctrinal and ritual corpora. The Encyclopedia presents the full gamut of this new research. The work contains approximately 1,750 entries which fall into the following broad categories: surveys of general topics, schools and traditions, persons, texts, terms, deities, immortals, temples and other sacred sites. Terms are given in their original characters, transliterated and translated. Entries are thoroughly cross-referenced and, in addition, see also listings are given at the foot of many entries. Attached to each entry are references taking the reader to a master bibliography at the end of the work. There is a chronology of Taoism and the whole is thoroughly indexed. There is no reference work comparable to the Encyclopedia of Taoism in scope and focus. Authored by an international body of experts, the Encyclopedia will be an essential addition to libraries serving students and scholars in the fields of religious studies, philosophy and religion, and Asian history and culture. TAIWAN LOCAL TAOIST TEMPLES PHOTOGRAPH MEMOIR Daniel Nardini, 2024-11-17 Taiwan, also known as the Republic of China, has more Taoist temples than any other country, including China, where Taoism originated. With 9,584 Taoist temples in Taiwan, Taoism is the most popular religion in Taiwan, followed by Buddhism and Christianity. Taoism has been part of the way of the Taiwanese people ever since the first Chinese immigrants set foot on the island centuries ago. The Taoist temples were among the first things they built, and many of these temples have survived for centuries and are still used by the descendants of those first Chinese settlers. The author has seen many Taoist temples in the four-plus years he lived in Taiwan. This book deals with the local Taoist temples the author had traversed through countless times while in Taiwan. From the first time to the last time he saw these beautiful places, these local Taoist temples are impressive architectural marvels of Chinese culture     The Taoists of Peking, 1800-1949 Vincent Goossaert, 2020-03-23 By looking at the activities of Taoist clerics in Peking this book explores the workings of religion as a profession in one Chinese city during a period of dramatic modernization The author focuses on ordinary religious professionals most of whom remained obscure temple employees Although almost forgotten they were all major actors in urban religious and cultural life The clerics at the heart of this study spent their time training disciples practicing and teaching self cultivation performing rituals and managing temples Vincent Goossaert shows that these Taoists were neither the socially despised illiterates dismissed in so many studies nor otherworldly ascetics but active participants in the religious economy of the city In exploring exactly what their crucial role was he addresses the day to day life of modern Chinese religion from the perspective of ordinary religious specialists This approach highlights the social processes institutions and networks that transmit religious knowledge and mediate between prestigious religious traditions and the people in the street In modern Chinese religion the Taoists are such key actors Without them Taoist ritual and Taoist self cultivation are just empty words     Architecture of the World's Major Religions Thomas Barrie, 2020-08-25 In Architecture of the World's Major Religions An Essay on Themes Differences and Similarities Thomas Barrie presents and explains religious architecture in ways that challenge predominant presumptions regarding its aesthetic formal spatial and scenographic elements Two positions frame its narrative religious architecture is an amalgam of aesthetic social political cultural economic and doctrinal elements and these elements are materialized in often very different ways in the world's principal religions Central to the work's theoretical approaches is the communicative and discursive agency of religious architecture and the multisensory and ritual spaces it provides to create and deliver content Subsequently mythical and scriptural foundations and symbols of ecclesiastical and political power are of equal interest to formal organizations of thresholds paths courts and centers and celestial and geometric alignments Moreover it is equally concerned with the aesthetic visual and material cultures and the transcendent realms they were designed to evoke as it is with the kinesthetic the dynamic and multisensory experience of place and the tangible experiences of the body's interactions with architecture     Chinese Architecture Yanxin Cai, 2011-03-03 This book provides an illustrated introduction to Chinese architecture a reference for modern design and a window into China's history     A History of Chinese Science and Technology Yongxiang Lu, 2014-10-20 A History of Chinese Science and Technology Volumes 1 2 3 presents 44 individual lectures beginning with Ancient Chinese Science and Technology in the Process of Human Civilizations and An Overview of Ancient Chinese Science and Technology and continuing with in depth discussions of several issues in the history of science and the Needham Puzzle interspersed with topics on Astronomy Arithmetic Agriculture and Medicine The Four Great Inventions and various technological areas closely related to clothing food shelter and transportation This book is the most authoritative work on the history of Chinese Science and Technology It is the Winner of the China Book Award the Shanghai Book Award 1st prize and the China Classics International State Administration of Press Publication Radio Film and

Proceedings of the 2025 4th International Conference on Social Sciences and Humanities and Arts (SSHA 2025) Sun Jing, Sun Hefei, Liu Shuli, Ren Xianpin, Cuneyt Birkok, 2025-07-22 This is an open access book With the progress of social civilization social science and its research are becoming more and more important Theoretically and practically the study of social phenomena and social problems and the development of prosperous social sciences are the eternal themes of human beings At present social science research and its results can hardly meet the needs of social development especially the unscientific evaluation of social science results which has aroused great concern from all walks of life and has produced dirt and questions on social science thus affecting the proper development of social science Max Weber once said that the most important function of social science in modern times is to keep people clear headed and to resist the delusions of prophetic legislators Humanities and arts are the process of perceiving realizing thinking manipulating and expressing objective or subjective objects through capturing and excavating feeling and analyzing integrating and applying or displaying the stage results in the form obtained through feeling seeing hearing smelling touching The social sciences and humanities and arts contain content that will directly affect our lives and the way society functions And by reacting to today's increasingly intricate problems and situations through systematic and professional discussions they will further contribute to the improvement of institutions and the development of society By thinking about issues and looking at problems and the world from different perspectives by putting the two together it may be possible to have more comprehensive appropriate and better responses for example the development of laws requires a deeper understanding of the environment in which they are implemented international trade requires a certain understanding of the customs of different countries and the development of tax and economic policies requires a certain understanding of the population consumer demand etc
