Economics of Tariff-rate Quota Administration David W. Skully, 1987

Agriculture and the WTO Merlinda Ingco, John D. Nash, 2004-03-17

Developing countries have a major stake in the outcome of trade negotiations conducted under the auspices of the World Trade Organization. WTO Agriculture and the WTO Creating a Trading System for Development explores the key issues and options in agricultural trade liberalization from the perspective of these developing countries. Leading experts in trade and agriculture from both developed and developing countries provide key research findings and policy analyses on a range of issues that includes market access, domestic support, export competition, quota administration, methods, food security, biotechnology, intellectual property rights, and agricultural trade under the Uruguay Round Agreement on Agriculture. Material is covered in summary and in comprehensive detail with supporting data, a substantial bibliography, and listings of online resources. This book will be of interest to policymakers and analysts in the fields of development, economics, and commodities pricing and trade.

The WTO Case Law of 2008 Henrik Horn, Petros C. Mavroidis, 2010-04-15

This book brings together the 2008 output of the American Law Institute ALI project on World Trade Organization Law. Each chapter focuses on a different dispute from the adjudicating bodies of the WTO. Each case is jointly evaluated by well-known experts in trade law and international economics. ALI reporters critically review the jurisprudence of WTO adjudicating bodies and evaluate whether the ruling makes sense from an economic as well as a legal point of view and if not, whether the problem lies in the interpretation of the law or the law itself. The studies do not always cover all issues discussed in a case but they seek to discuss both the procedural and the substantive issues that form in the reporters' views the core of the dispute. This paperback will be an invaluable resource for students, lecturers, and practitioners of international trade law.

The Doha Blues Kent Jones, 2010 The Doha Blues investigates the failure of WTO members to conclude the Doha Round of trade negotiations focusing on the institutional friction that has developed since the Uruguay Round The legacy of GATT traditions new WTO rules the expanding scope of the trade liberalization agenda and the expanding WTO membership have combined to make it extremely difficult for countries to reach consensus The book concludes with recommendations for improving the environment for trade liberalization      The ^ADoha Blues Kent Jones, 2009-11-05 Kent Jones a leading authority on trade policy illuminates the real stumbling blocks to trade liberalization and highlights the way around them He shows for instance that the WTO now with 153 members has become increasingly unwieldy in terms of concluding trade agreements and he suggests that countries organize around specific platform positions a strategy that would make the holy grail of consensus once again possible Jones also argues for financial support for poorer countries so that they can participate effectively in negotiations

Towards Pan-Africanism Stephen M. Magu, 2023-03-11 This book traces the development and impact of regional economic communities RECs in Africa and addresses a timely question do REC members and the REC itself positively influence member states behaviors towards other members and more broadly regionally and continentally due to REC membership Changing member states behaviors is measured across three interconnected fundamental dimensions of societal systems proposed by Marshall and Elzinga Marshall in CSP's Global Report 2017 These are i the persistence of conflict or its counterpoint achieving peace ii fostering democratization and better governance and iii achieving socio economic development and as proposed by this research a fourth dimension iv being active participants in multilateralism Is membership in a REC ultimately beneficial to the member and other countries in the region While there are no clear and obvious at least discernible traditional benefits such as increase in trade perhaps because Africa's overall trade relative to the world is about 3 percent there are other non trade benefits e.g decrease in conflict coercion to take certain actions towards peace and refrain from others coups and wars presenting in REC member states These in actions abilities coercions exclusions and cooperation instances are outlined and discussed in the book      Report United States.
