remained a never to be forgotten date in my life although quite ten or a dozen years ago I remember it better than yesterday At that time the intrepid Tartarin lived in the third house on the left as the town begins on the Avignon road A pretty little villa in the local style with a front garden and a balcony behind the walls glaringly white and the venetians very green and always about the doorsteps a brood of little Savoyard shoe blackguards playing hopscotch or dozing in the broad sunshine with their heads pillowed on their boxes Outwardly the dwelling had no remarkable features and none would ever believe it the abode of a hero but when you stepped inside ye gods and little fishes what a change From turret to foundation stone I mean from cellar to garret the whole building wore a heroic front even so the garden O that garden of Tartarin s there s not its match in Europe Not a native tree was there not one flower of France nothing hut exotic plants gum trees gourds cotton woods cocoa and cacao mangoes bananas palms a baobab nopals cacti Barbary figs well you would believe yourself in the very midst of Central Africa ten thousand leagues away It is but fair to say that these were none of full growth indeed the cocoa palms were no bigger than beet root and the baobab arbos gigantea giant tree you know was easily enough circumscribed by a window pot but notwithstanding this it was rather a sensation for Tarascon and the townsfolk who were admitted on Sundays to the honour of contemplating Tartarin s baobab went home chokeful of admiration Try to conceive my own emotion which I was bound to feel on that day of days when I crossed through this marvellous garden and that was capped when I was ushered into the hero s sanctum His study one of the lions I should say lions dens of the town was at the end of the garden its glass door opening right on to the baobab Tartarin de Tarascon Alphonse Daudet,Eugéne
